Pakistani Youth And Dutch Girl Begin Stays

By GLENN WAIGHT

Columbiana County's commonplace hills have an air of the exotic for two far-off visitors—Miss Leisbeth Verwel of Amsterdam, Holland, and Mozammel Huq of East Pakistan.

Leisbeth, 16, who will enroll for her senior year at East Palestine High School as a foreign exchange student, finds the county's rolling hills and sweeping valleys a sharp contrast to the flat coastal areas of Holland.

Huq, 23, visiting Mr. and Mrs. Ed Copeland of near Millport for a few weeks to study farm operations, also marvels at the varied nature of the local geography, so different from the level lowlands of his near-tropical homeland between India and Burma.

LEISBETH is the house guest of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Oakley of East St., East Palestine, arriving Saturday for a year's stay under the Teen-Age Exchange program of the Michigan-Ann Arbor Council of Churches.

Carol Oakley, daughter of the East Palestine couple, has been visiting for two months in Amsterdam, and is due back later this month to start her final year in high school with her new Dutch friend.

Word's Due From Castro On Uprising

1,500 Are Reported To Be Under Arrest In Conspiracy Plot

HAVANA (AP) — Fidel Castro was expected to take to radio and TV today to tell all about the first major conspiracy to overthrow his revolutionary regime and how his forces smashed it.

It was generally agreed the bearded leader would lump together big landowners affected by his land redistribution law and holdovers from Fulgencio Batista's army as the nucleus of the conspiracy. He was also expected to accuse anti-Castro forces, from the Dominican Republic to Miami, of helping.

Officials said the plot had been crushed. Unofficial reports said some 1,500 persons had been arrested. But a telephone blackout continued over Las Villas Province, in central Cuba.

Remnants of an armed band that clashed with Castro's army Sunday reportedly took to the hills in the southern part of the province, where a number of conspirators have been reported arrested.

Observers also considered it significant that Castro suddenly changed his mind about going to the Inter-American Foreign Ministers Conference in Santiago, Chile. They looked on this as a measure of the gravity of the situation in Cuba.

From reliable sources both in and out of the government, these were developments:

1. Camp Libertad on the edge of Havana, where the bulk of the conspiracy suspects were reported being questioned, remained cut off to all but officials with special permits.

2. The telephone blackout to Las Villas was government-ordered, with supervisors monitoring other calls inside Cuba and from abroad.

3. A large number of those detained are being held for precautionary purposes and will be released soon.

4. Scattered shooting was heard in various sections of Havana during the night. There were no casualties reported and no explanation of the firing, but the police radio revealed that at least one person had been picked up in connection with the gunfire.

Four Sailors Are Killed As Big Wave Hits Ship

YOKOSUKA, Japan (AP) — Heavy seas generated by Typhoon Ellen caused the death of four sailors on the U.S. Navy's attack transport Bexar, the Navy announced today.

The Navy said the 455-foot-long Bexar was en route to Okinawa Sunday when a huge wave broke over her bow, washing two men overboard and knocking seven others against the anchor windlass and a bulwark. Two of the latter died of their injuries.

Names of the dead and injured were not announced.

Union's Chief Takes Leave Of Steel Talks

McDonald's Action Stirs Quick, Sharp Reply From Cooper

NEW YORK (AP)—The head of the striking steel union has stepped out of the contract talks here—temporarily at least — and left a "second string" of negotiators to represent the union.

The industry rebuked him for staying away, and answered his blast at the caliber of the industry negotiating team.

David J. McDonald, president of the United Steelworkers Union of America, said in Pittsburgh Monday:

"I got sick of that show in New York. I will talk to people in authority. I refuse to talk with liaisons. I have no immediate plans for returning to New York."

R. Conrad Cooper, top industry negotiator and executive vice president of the United States Steel Corp., came back with this reply for the industry:

"Mr. McDonald knows full well that the four-man negotiating team designated by 12 steel companies to handle the collective bargaining on their behalf has full authority to deal with the United Steelworkers Union.

"Mr. McDonald's efforts to downgrade the companies' negotiating team to the status of messenger boys is unfortunate because sooner or later he must confront his responsibility to bargain with this team."

Gambling Ball Tossed About In Club Expose

Hancock County's illegal gambling operations were in the limelight again today after a county commissioner Monday night blasted the inability of law enforcement authorities to close Club Paddock during a Pittsburgh broadcast of a recorded interview.

But it was like a hot potato being tossed from hand to hand.

Commissioner Lyle Virden voiced opposition to the wide-open gambling at the Club Paddock on Route 30 and other county spots and confirmed reports that nothing is being done in the way of a cleanup.

Virden, representative to County Court from Clay District in New Cumberland, is one of three county commissioners.

The other two—William C. Graham of Chester and Dave N. Thomas of Weirton—both agreed today that in their opinions, "Virden was acting as a private citizen and was not representing County Court."

Both added that they are both "equally opposed to illegal gambling operations and illegal liquor sales" but pointed out it is the job of Sheriff Clayton Hobbs to take action.

One of the commissioners said "halting gambling and liquor sales rests with the sheriff's office. If he can't stop it, the people should elect a new sheriff."

The commissioner added that County Court supplies Sheriff Hobbs with 15 deputies and 4 cruisers to help keep the law. Virden was interviewed, along with Gov. Cecil H. Underwood, and Col. Hazen H. Fair, head of the West Virginia State Police.

Virden said he had filed complaints of gambling with Squire Eugene Allison and Col. Fair, but nothing had been done.

Trustee Loses Right To Run As Candidate

Petition Is Rejected By Election Board In Lack Of Signatures

The County Election Board "regretfully" rejected the petition of an incumbent St. Clair Township trustee for re-election Monday night and also threw out two bids for ballot printing for the Nov. 3 general election because of "excessive prices."

The board said it had no alternative in rejecting the petition of Arthur McDevitt of Calcutta because elimination of names of three signers, who also signed the petition of Fred Hopper, an opponent for the office, left McDevitt with only 22 signatures, 3 short of the 25 required.

Frank R. O'Hanlon, clerk, explained Hopper was not affected because he obtained the signatures of the three persons — ironically all neighbors of McDevitt's — in May while McDevitt had his petition signed in July.

In addition, Hopper had sufficient extra signatures to grant him a ballot place, the clerk said.

The error was discovered when the board was making a detailed check of the petitions to make certain there were no duplications, O'Hanlon said. Election laws provide persons can sign only as many petitions as there are openings.

In McDevitt's case, only one trustee will be elected by township voters and therefore residents could legally sign only one petition, O'Hanlon continued, pointing out it is a common error by voters to sign more than one but most candidates protect themselves by having more than the minimum number of signatures. The law permits candidates to have no more than

Legislators Will Debate 3 Rival Bills

Outcome Is Toss-up, With First Vote Not Due Till Wednesday

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican congressional leaders predicted to President Eisenhower today that the labor bill backed by the President will pass the House.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House headed today into its bitterest fight in a decade over the shape of new labor-management controls legislation.

Starting a week of wide open floor battling, the House called up three rival bills, all avowedly aimed at checking racketeering and abuse of power in the labor-management field. All are modifications—to varying degrees—of a bill passed by the Senate last April.

The outcome was conceded a toss-up by rival camps. The first votes may come late Wednesday or Thursday.

Arrayed in favor of the most restrictive of the three bills were President Eisenhower and a Republican House minority.

Supporting what its sponsors called a moderate middle-of-the-road approach were a majority of House Democrats headed by Speaker Sam Rayburn (D-Tex).

A smaller group of Democrats was supporting a third measure, backed by AFL-CIO chieftains and making fewer changes in, present law.

In advance of showdown voting later this week, the balance of power appeared to reside in a small but potent coalition of Southern and Midwestern conservatives of both parties.

The nation got a preview of the forthcoming House debate Monday night as Rayburn spoke over MBS radio network and supporters of all three measures discussed them on an NBC television program. Each contended his bill was best for the nation.

The programs followed up Eisenhower's radio-TV appeal last Thursday for passage of a bill strong enough to end labor-management racketeering practices which he called "a national disgrace."

Rayburn contended that "powerful interests are using the public demand for a cleanup of racketeering as a smoke screen behind which they can impose crippling legal restraints on the honest, legitimate interests of the working man."

The bill Eisenhower is backing, Rayburn said, "would throw the weight of the federal government so heavily on the side of management" that it would harm the rights of honest, law-abiding workers.

He appealed for passage of legislation to end "the worst abuses in labor-management relations without trampling on the just rights of anyone."

1960 Drive Planned

James Locke Jr. To Head Red Cross Fund Campaign

James A. Locke Jr. of Wyoming Ave., Pleasant Heights, will head the 1960 Red Cross fund drive in East Liverpool, according to preliminary plans discussed at a meeting of the Executive Board of the city chapter Monday night at the Mary Patterson Memorial.

Locke, 41, owner of the James Locke Jewelry store of E. 5th St., is slated to meet shortly with Richard Emmerling, 1959 drive chairman, and Eugene Hall, chapter chairman, and Jud English concerning plans for the fund drive slated to begin March 1.

A native of the city and graduate of East Liverpool High School, Locke has been in the jewelry business for 14 years. He served four years in World War II, and is a graduate of the Gemological Institute of America.

He is a trustee of the Trinity United Presbyterian Church and is a member of the Kiwanis Club, Masonic Lodge, IOOF Lodge and Chamber of Commerce. He is married and has two sons.

Emmerling at last night's meeting reported contributions and pledges in the 1959 drive totaled $14,986, or about $1,000 short of the goal.

Hall named a nominating committee consisting of Mrs. Charles Waggoner, chairman, Mrs. J. Donald Thompson, Harold Allison and David (Pete) Beatty. The committee will report at the annual meeting Sept. 28 when officers will be named and a board selected.

Probate Judge Louis Tobin reported on the chapter's water safety program, saying it has expanded.

About 16 attended.

Pennsylvania Sunday Sales Law Signed

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) — Gov. Lawrence Monday signed into law new restrictions on Sunday retail sales and tough fines to enforce them.

It will go into effect in 30 days and means that Sunday Sept. 13 becomes the first day when new penalties—$100 for the first offense and $200 for subsequent offenses within a year—will begin.

The legislature passed the controversial measure last week after extended debate involving constitutionality of the law and an attack on it as a curb of religious freedom.

One lawmaker had said the measure was a victory of downtown department stores in competition with suburban discount houses that stayed open on Sundays.

Gov. Lawrence said many people in the state have voiced dissatisfaction with Sunday sales. He added:

"I am signing the bill because I think it represents the will of the majority of our people that Sunday be observed as a day of rest."

The new law prohibits the retail sale on Sunday of retail clothing and wearing apparel, clothing, accessories, furniture, housewares, home, business or office furnishings, household, business or office appliances, hardware, tools, paints, building and lumber supply materials, jewelry, silverware, watches, clocks and luggage, musical toys, except novelties and souvenirs.

Atty. Gen. Anne X. Alpern said it was up to the local courts to decide precisely if a particular item fits among the excluded articles listed in the law.

Auto Sinks, But Motorist Naps At Home

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP)—A four-hour search by skin divers and highway patrolmen ended today when the driver of a car which plunged into the city reservoir was located at his home, asleep.

Thomas R. Couch, 23, explained that he had lost control of the car, which went through a fence along Ohio 18, rolled down an embankment and skidded 60 feet out into the reservoir.

As the vehicle sank in 20 feet of water, Couch said he rolled down a window and slipped out. Two friends, who were following him in another car, took him home without reporting the incident.

A passing motorist saw the sinking car, but did not see Couch leave with his friends, and reported the accident.

When Couch, 23, finally was located he was issued a ticket for reckless driving.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP) —The Knoxville City School Board voted Monday night not to integrate the public schools this fall. The board adopted a motion saying also it "will continue to study the problem."

Traditional Summer Event

Dollar Day Sale Planned In City's Stores Thursday

Final preparations are being made for the traditional summer Dollar Day sale which will be held Thursday under the sponsorship of the East Liverpool Merchants Association.

One of the highlights on the East Liverpool merchandising calendar, tri-state area shoppers will find special values in various lines, including hardware, furniture, jewelry, men's, women's and children's clothing, dry goods, appliances and other items, sponsors said.

Participating merchants will display window pennants with green letters on yellow stock and housewives in rural areas in Ohio, West Virginia and Pennsylvania will be reminded by telephone calls of the special event.

Community bus companies will maintain service as usual until 8:30 Thursday night to aid shoppers.

The semi-annual events are held each February and August. It was decided more than 40 years ago to conduct two promotions yearly when the response to the original event in 1917 was outstanding.

The Dollar Day sales have been a tradition for nearly 38 years. Because of a shortage of goods, they were canceled during World War II.

Soviet Agrees To Plan On Sneak Explosions

GENEVA (AP) — The Soviet Union has agreed to a system of artificial satellites to detect any sneak high-altitude explosions once an agreement is reached banning nuclear weapon tests.

Soviet delegate Semyon K. Tsarapkin beat the United States and Britain to the punch Monday by giving Soviet acceptance to the plan at the three-power conference negotiating on an agreement to end the tests.

Fund Bill Advanced

WASHINGTON (AP) — The last scheduled appropriation bill for this fiscal year was passed by the House Monday. In a voice vote, the House sent the bill to the Senate. It provides $1,284,012,700 for military construction.

Beaver Officials Urge Span At Shippingport

Beaver County's four members of the Legislature, its congressmen and two county commissioners signed a letter presented today to Park H. Martin, Pennsylvania secretary of highways, asking for immediate construction of the Shippingport Bridge.

Supporting the Shippingport span over the Vanport Bridge were Sen. John Carl Miller, assemblymen Charles E. Stone, Robert K. Hamilton and William Kovolenko, Rep. Frank Clark and Commissioners George Werner and Sam McCuen.

In a long communication, the legislators said they believe both bridges are necessary, but since there is only money for one at this time, they want the Shippingport Bridge because it is to be built in three years and the Vanport Bridge will take five.

Trash, Garbage Haul To Be Held Separately

Because of a lack of equipment, Incinerator Supt. James A. McKinnon said today he has canceled plans to pick up both rubbish and garbage daily.

McKinnon said a combination pickup would be made Wednesday as announced earlier but starting Thursday the regular trash and garbage schedules will be maintained separately.

McKinnon said trash trucks will pick up trash on the schedule maintained over the last several years. Garbage also will be picked up on the normal schedule, the superintendent added.

The department had hoped to make a combined pickup of both trash and garbage on each route but McKinnon said there are not enough trucks to make this possible.

Soviet delegate Semyon K. Tsarapkin beat the United States and Britain to the punch Monday by giving Soviet acceptance to the plan at the three-power conference negotiating on an agreement to end the tests.

Fund Bill Advanced

WASHINGTON (AP) — The last scheduled appropriation bill for this fiscal year was passed by the House Monday. In a voice vote, the House sent the bill to the Senate. It provides $1,284,012,700 for military construction.

Beaver Officials Urge Span At Shippingport

Beaver County's four members of the Legislature, its congressmen and two county commissioners signed a letter presented today to Park H. Martin, Pennsylvania secretary of highways, asking for immediate construction of the Shippingport Bridge.

Supporting the Shippingport span over the Vanport Bridge were Sen. John Carl Miller, assemblymen Charles E. Stone, Robert K. Hamilton and William Kovolenko, Rep. Frank Clark and Commissioners George Werner and Sam McCuen.

In a long communication, the legislators said they believe both bridges are necessary, but since there is only money for one at this time, they want the Shippingport Bridge because it is to be built in three years and the Vanport Bridge will take five.

Trash, Garbage Haul To Be Held Separately

Because of a lack of equipment, Incinerator Supt. James A. McKinnon said today he has canceled plans to pick up both rubbish and garbage daily.

McKinnon said a combination pickup would be made Wednesday as announced earlier but starting Thursday the regular trash and garbage schedules will be maintained separately.

McKinnon said trash trucks will pick up trash on the schedule maintained over the last several years. Garbage also will be picked up on the normal schedule, the superintendent added.

The department had hoped to make a combined pickup of both trash and garbage on each route but McKinnon said there are not enough trucks to make this possible.

Levy To Be Submitted

Beaver Board Hires 8 Instructors

Eight new teachers were hired by the Beaver Local Board of Education at a meeting Monday night.

Employed were Calvin Carl Graeber of Crawfordsville, Iowa, graduate of Bluffton College in Ohio, who will be a commercial instructor at the high school; Richard C. Prest of Struthers, a Bowling Green University graduschool physical education instructor and coach.

MRS. KATHRYN Campbell of Columbiana, completing work at Youngstown University, who will teach at Rogers; Chester Urbschat of Columbiana, Miami University of Ohio graduate who will be an upper elementary teacher; Donald Campbell of Newell, graduate of West Liberty State College, who will be principal and teacher at West Point.

Mrs. Donald Campbell of Newell, West Liberty graduate, who will teach at Calcutta; Mrs. Dorothea Smith of Clarkson, who will teach at Rogers after an absence, and Mrs. Roberta Lane of East Liverpool, who will teach at the Public School after a leave of absence.

The board approved certifying to the Board of Elections on the Nov. 3 election ballot a proposed renewal of a current three-tenths-mill operating levy.

Goddard Bakers of Chester was awarded a contract to supply bread for the schools at 14 cents a loaf and 23 cents a dozen for buns. The bid was the lowest of six. Goddard had the contract last year.

THE R. & R. Coal Co. of the Y. & O. Rd. was given a contract to supply stoker coal for the schools at $6 a ton, and the Chamberlain Coal Co. of West Point was given the contract for lump coal at $7.75 a ton. The two firms were the only bidders.

It was announced the State Department of Education has approved use of the Oak Grove School for the 1959-60 term because new facilities at the Rogers and Calcutta Schools for Oak Grove students are not completed. The older school is slated to be closed.

THE BOARD accepted the resignation of Alfred Sodeman, high school English teacher. Walter Lineberry was named head of the high school science department, and Harry West was named head of the English and foreigh language department.

The board approved a price increase of elementary school cafeteria lunches, making them 30 cents at the high school. The size of servings will be increased, it was announced.

The board approved salaries and working schedules for cooks, janitors and bus drivers. The non-teaching staff is the same as last year, with former part-time drivers slated to take the place of Norman Wright and Lewis Lee, who resigned.

MISS LINDA Pelton was named dean of girls at the high school.

The board reviewed a report from James Ball, state forestry expert, who studied the timber on high school property. Ball will be asked to make a complete survey of the timberland, marking trees which should be cut and sold.

A bus drivers' physical examination has been slated by the county health department Aug. 18 at 9:30 a. m. The board granted permission for Karen Wooley and Linda Lee Lowers to attend East Liverpool schools at their own tuition costs.

The next meeting will be Aug. 24.

Group Hears Archeologist

John Zakucia, field associate of the section of man of Carnegie Museum, gave an illustrated lecture on two topics at the meeting of the Aboriginal Explorers' Club Monday night at the Ohio River Museum at Wellsville.

The associate of the Society for Pennsylvania Archaeology and president of Beaver Valley Chapter 7 spoke on "The First Hopewellian Manifestation in Ohio" and "The Edenburg Burial Site." He was introduced by Harold Dawson, president.

He discussed the Hopewellian burial mounds of the Middle Woodland time period, 100 BC-900 AD, and said this was the time of the and peak of the Hopewell culture in Ohio. Flint quarried at Flint Ridge near Zanesville was used by various prehistoric groups but more intensively by the Hopewell people.

The other talk concerned the historic burial ground at Edenburg, Pa., where he has excavated 67 Indian burials to date. Glass trade beads, silver bracelets and copper ear spools were found. The era was 1767-1775.

Zakucia was accompanied by Vincent R. Morozoski, secretary-treasurer for the Pennsylvania society, and members of the Tri-State Explorers Club and West Virginia Panhandle Chapter 1 were guests.

After the meeting, the group viewed the collection of Harry R. Cline of Hillcrest.

States. She came over on a Greek ship with some 160 other students, landing at Montreal.

The petite brunet yesterday attended a Rotary Club meeting, then conferred with school officials about her courses. Having taken French, German, English and Dutch, geography, history of art, drawing, science, sewing and gym in her junior year at Amsterdam she plans to study speech, American government, American history and driver training.

—:—

LEISBETH also plays the flute, and hopes to join a school music group. She attended a teen - age dance Saturday night and found it "very enjoyable." She said the girls wear more makeup than in Holland, but the social atmosphere is more relaxed and informal.

Leisbeth is not sure what she will do after her schooling is completed—her parents wnat her to teach, and she may make the decision this year.

The future for Huq—pronounced "huk"—is clearer. An International Farm Youth Exchange student, he will return to East Pakistan to advise and teach his countrymen about modern and improved agriculture methods, serving as a government farm agent.

Huq arrived in the United States in May with nine other Pakistani youths, and has since been in Nebraska, visiting farm families and learning the ins and outs of large-scale farming in the wheatlands.

HE ARRIVED at the Copelands Saturday and will get a closeup look at a busy Ohio farm where Copeland works 257 acres, growing corn, wheat, oats and other crops, raising dairy cattle, sheep, turkeys and chickens and also serving as the county's U. S. weather observer.

Huq, who completed primary and secondary schooling and went to agriculture college for 3 years, worked a 28-acre section of his father's scattered 200 acres. He raised rice, wheat and jute—a fibrous plant from which rope, carpets, hats and other items are made.

The young farm student, serious but with a ready smile, pointed out Pakistan is actually two large land areas flanking India from which it was separated on the basis of religion—Moslems in Pakistan and Hindus in India.

VERSATILE IN English, Huq also speaks Bengalese (the language of East Pakistan), Urdu (the language of West Paksitan), Sanskit—an Indian tongue, and Arabic.

His dark hair and eyes reflect the colorful and ancient traditions of India, and he speaks of the "rainy season" and places such as Rangpur and the Ganges River, but admits he is fond of singing and dancing and football—"like the Americans play, not the British rugby."

The district hills are no novelty for Huq's companion, Islam Koshal, 29, of West Pakistan who arrived Monday to visit Mr. and Mrs. Arthur A. Rudebock of near Leetonia. Koshal is from a mountainous region of the western part of Pakistan — 1,000 miles across India.

The two will visit Mr. and Mrs. Don Myers of Lisbon later this month, then go to Southern Ohio for further farm visitations, and will return to their homeland in October.

ators continued efforts to settle the dispute.

The mediators scheduled another joint negotiating session today.

Robert Moore, chief deputy to Joseph F. Finnegan, director of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, reported a certain amount of progress Monday on contract details and language. He said, however, that there was "no progress on the question of the basic economic differences of the parties."

Moore sat in on the negotiations because Finnegan was in Washington conferring with Budget Bureau officials on additional funds for his agency.

Finnegan said he would resume personal direction of the contract talks here today.

Vinton Doctor Dies

MCARTHUR, Ohio (AP) — The death of Dr. Herbert D. Chamberlain has left Vinton County without a physician, at least temporarily. Dr. Chamberlain, 60, died Monday night in Mount Carmel Hospital, Columbus, from a heart condition. He had been a practioner here since the early 1930s. The county's only other physician, Dr. Richard E. Bullock, also of McArthur, is attending a medical convention in Colorado.

Split ladyfingers (usually available in supermarkets) and spread with apricot preserves; put together again. Nice with tea or coffee.

Utility Man's Move Outlined

SALINEVILLE — The withdrawal of an Ohio Power Co. servicemen assigned to the village was aired by William Black, district manager of the utility, at a meeting of Council Monday night.

Black said George Goppert, who resides here and has provided local repair and emergency service for many years, is slated for promotion and is trying out in various jobs in the East Liverpool area.

Repair and emergency service will be obtained out of the East Liverpool office, resulting in a delay in such work. Black said he could make no definite assurances that a local man will be assigned.

Atty. Warren Bettis, village solicitor, said he feels the utility should take steps to prevent the community from being without emergency service in event of a fire or other incident which might endanger life or property.

In other action, Council approved plans for replacing a weakened footbridge in the West End.

Councilman Earl Davison presided in the absence of Mayor Karl Lindner, who is attending an insurance course at Bowling Green University.

Hancock Man Bound For Grand Jury Action

NEW CUMBERLAND — Duane C. Mercer, 23, of Chester St. was bound over to the September Grand Jury following a hearing Monday before Squire John D. Herron on a charge of breaking and entering.

Mercer pleaded guilty to breaking into the quarters of a Dravo Construction Co. tugboat docked near here.

He was arrested yesterday by the sheriff's office along with three Newell area teen-agers in connection with the theft of a radio and about $25 in change from the tugboat Sunday.

Bond was set at $2,000 for Mercer, while the younger trio was scheduled for hearings before William Paolisso, county probation officer.

The sheriff's office reported that the radio was returned to the boat's crew but the money had been spent.

Dies In Car Fall

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—A 17-year-old Columbus woman fell out of her sister's moving automobile here Monday and died shortly after. The coroner ruled Mrs. Armelia Kennen died of head injuries suffered in the fall from the car of Mrs. Zola K. Laughry.

Follies Girl Dies

NEW YORK (AP) — Muriel Miles, 59, one-time Ziegfeld follies girl, was found dead Monday. Police said she apparently took an overdose of barbiturates.

Chester Man Is Injured In City Collision

A Chester insurance man is in "fairly good" condition today with injuries received shortly after noon Monday in a collision with another Chester resident's auto at 4th and Market Sts.

The mishap was one of six recorded by police yesterday, including one which occurred on the municipal parking lot adjoining City Hall.

Jack Beckner, 28, of 517 Indiana Ave. was admitted to City Hospital with a severe laceration of the forehead after his 1959 foreign sports car and a 1956 sedan driven by Wayne Eugene Brown, 23, of Chester R. D. 1 collided at the intersection as both signaled left turns.

Brown told police he had pulled from a parking place on E. 4th St. and signaled a left turn onto Market St. When he saw Beckner's turn signal indicating a left turn from W. 4th St., Brown said he started to make his turn but Beckner came straight ahead and they collided.

Two witnesses—Albert Morris of Wellsville R. D. 1, and Sam Laneve, 554 Campground Rd.—told police Beckner was signaling a left turn when the mishap occurred.

A brake failure was blamed after a runaway car struck a Dresden Ave. home last night, police said.

Emerson A. Bartlett, 17, of 707 E. 4th St. driving a car owned by Sanford Matheny, 1004 St. Clair Ave., told police he was headed down the Grant St. hill when he noticed the brake pressure was down.

Bartlett said he stopped and got out to check the brakes when the striking the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. Burbick, 812 Dresden Ave. The weather stripping on the side of the home and the entire front end of the auto were damaged, police said.

Jeremiah Vuletic, 26, of Smiths Ferry was fined $10 and costs today in Municipal Court for operating an unsafe vehicle as the aftermath of a collision last night at Broadway and E. 5th St.

Police said Vuletic was backing from a parking space when his brakes failed and he struck a stopped car operated by Ralph T. Turner, 23, of 1048 Huston Ave.

Two mishaps were reported at E. 5th and Washington Sts., police said.

A 1955 auto driven by Orin C. Smith, an off-duty patrolman, was struck on the left front when Frank W. Rigg of Allison Park, Pa., backed from a parking space at 11:30 a. m., officers were told.

At 3:20 p. m. Dolores Samples, 27, of 924 Columbia Ave. attempted to pull around a car operated by Homer C. Huff, 22, of 171 Church St., Chester, halted to park, and scraped the bumper of the Huff auto, police said.

A fence on the property of Ann Bell, 140 W. 6th St., was damaged yesterday, police said, when apparently struck by a backing auto operated by Marie B. Hazlett, 55, of 1 E. Main St., Salineville, in the parking lot on W. 6th St.

However, Mrs. Hazlett later told officers she "absolutely" did not back into the fence and declined to assume any responsibility.

Driver Of Car Killed

CINCINNATI (AP) — A car struck a utility pole Monday night, killing the driver, John W. Webb, 67, and injuring a passenger, Albert B. Weist, 85, both of Cincinnati.

twice the number of minimum signatures, which would have been 50 on McDevitt's petition.

The board granted ballot places to 202 other nonpartisan candidates who filed before the deadline last Wednesday and also approved ballot places for two candidates certified by party central committees for a Columbiana village councilman.

The Republican committee certified John C. T. Elder while the Democratic committee submitted Lee Harrold.

Elder will replace Herbert Sponseller and Harrold will take the place of O. F. Harrold. Sponseller and O. F. Harrold were nominated without primaries in May and then withdrew from the races.

The board rejected the bids of the Dodge Publishing Co. of Salem and Wilson Printing House of East Liverpool for ballots because they were considered "excessive," O'Hanlon said.

The board will readvertise for bids to be received until 1 p. m., legal time, Monday at its office on W. 6th St.

The Salem firm submitted a bid of $6,342.50 for municipal, village, township and school district offices and 16 state, municipal, school district, village and township questions and issues already certified.

In addition to the general contract, Dodge also asked an additional $10 to $12 per 1,000 for other questions and issues to be received. The price was dependent on the quantity and size of the ballot.

Wilson ask $8,314 for the general contract and an additional $19 per 1,000 for extra questions and issues, the board said.

The board also agreed to open three branch offices Sept. 21-23 to spur registration of voters in East Liverpool for the general election. East Liverpool is the only subdivision in the county where registration is required.

O'Hanlon said assistant clerks from the election board staff would be assigned to handle registration in the East End, North Side and Pleasant Heights areas but the sites haven't been selected.

The three branch offices will aid the board's main office on W. 6th St. in registering unqualified voters. The deadline for registration is Sept. 23, he said.

The offices will be open from 11 a. m. to 3 p. m. and from 5 to 10 p. m. which will enable workers to qualify regardless of the "turn" they are working.

LAFAYETTE, Ind. (AP()—Directors of National Homes Corp., the nation's largest prefabricated house builder, has approved acquisition of seven other home building companies by purchase or merger, including the Thyer Manufacturing Corp., of Toledo, Ohio.

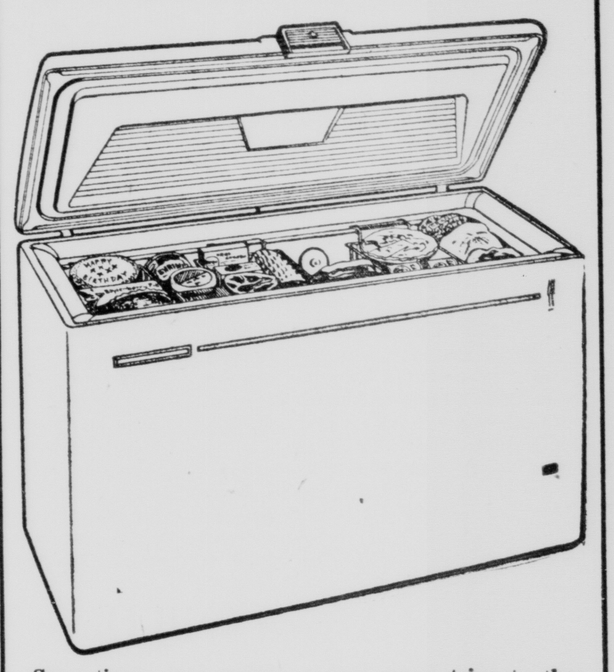

Starting Off Wrong

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — A rookie on the Tucson police force went home after his first day on the job and his wife said, "Show me how your handcuffs work," The officer snapped on the cuffs, then realized he had lost the keys. A frantic search was futile. Several hours later a fellow policeman arrived with the necessary keys and the wife was released.

Beaver Board Hires 8 Instructors

Eight new teachers were hired by the Beaver Local Board of Education at a meeting Monday night.

Employed were Calvin Carl Graeber of Crawfordsville, Iowa, graduate of Bluffton College in Ohio, who will be a commercial instructor at the high school; Richard C. Prest of Struthers, a Bowling Green University graduschool physical education instructor and coach.

MRS. KATHRYN Campbell of Columbiana, completing work at Youngstown University, who will teach at Rogers; Chester Urbschat of Columbiana, Miami University of Ohio graduate who will be an upper elementary teacher; Donald Campbell of Newell, graduate of West Liberty State College, who will be principal and teacher at West Point.

Mrs. Donald Campbell of Newell, West Liberty graduate, who will teach at Calcutta; Mrs. Dorothea Smith of Clarkson, who will teach at Rogers after an absence, and Mrs. Roberta Lane of East Liverpool, who will teach at the Public School after a leave of absence.

The board approved certifying to the Board of Elections on the Nov. 3 election ballot a proposed renewal of a current three-tenths-mill operating levy.

Goddard Bakers of Chester was awarded a contract to supply bread for the schools at 14 cents a loaf and 23 cents a dozen for buns. The bid was the lowest of six. Goddard had the contract last year.

THE R. & R. Coal Co. of the Y. & O. Rd. was given a contract to supply stoker coal for the schools at $6 a ton, and the Chamberlain Coal Co. of West Point was given the contract for lump coal at $7.75 a ton. The two firms were the only bidders.

It was announced the State Department of Education has approved use of the Oak Grove School for the 1959-60 term because new facilities at the Rogers and Calcutta Schools for Oak Grove students are not completed. The older school is slated to be closed.

THE BOARD accepted the resignation of Alfred Sodeman, high school English teacher. Walter Lineberry was named head of the high school science department, and Harry West was named head of the English and foreigh language department.

The board approved a price increase of elementary school cafeteria lunches, making them 30 cents at the high school. The size of servings will be increased, it was announced.

The board approved salaries and working schedules for cooks, janitors and bus drivers. The non-teaching staff is the same as last year, with former part-time drivers slated to take the place of Norman Wright and Lewis Lee, who resigned.

MISS LINDA Pelton was named dean of girls at the high school.

The board reviewed a report from James Ball, state forestry expert, who studied the timber on high school property. Ball will be asked to make a complete survey of the timberland, marking trees which should be cut and sold.

A bus drivers' physical examination has been slated by the county health department Aug. 18 at 9:30 a. m. The board granted permission for Karen Wooley and Linda Lee Lowers to attend East Liverpool schools at their own tuition costs.

The next meeting will be Aug. 24.

Group Hears Archeologist

John Zakucia, field associate of the section of man of Carnegie Museum, gave an illustrated lecture on two topics at the meeting of the Aboriginal Explorers' Club Monday night at the Ohio River Museum at Wellsville.

The associate of the Society for Pennsylvania Archaeology and president of Beaver Valley Chapter 7 spoke on "The First Hopewellian Manifestation in Ohio" and "The Edenburg Burial Site." He was introduced by Harold Dawson, president.

He discussed the Hopewellian burial mounds of the Middle Woodland time period, 100 BC-900 AD, and said this was the time of the and peak of the Hopewell culture in Ohio. Flint quarried at Flint Ridge near Zanesville was used by various prehistoric groups but more intensively by the Hopewell people.

The other talk concerned the historic burial ground at Edenburg, Pa., where he has excavated 67 Indian burials to date. Glass trade beads, silver bracelets and copper ear spools were found. The era was 1767-1775.

Zakucia was accompanied by Vincent R. Morozoski, secretary-treasurer for the Pennsylvania society, and members of the Tri-State Explorers Club and West Virginia Panhandle Chapter 1 were guests.

After the meeting, the group viewed the collection of Harry R. Cline of Hillcrest.

The future for Huq—pronounced "huk"—is clearer. An International Farm Youth Exchange student, he will return to East Pakistan to advise and teach his countrymen about modern and improved agriculture methods, serving as a government farm agent.

Huq arrived in the United States in May with nine other Pakistani youths, and has since been in Nebraska, visiting farm families and learning the ins and outs of large-scale farming in the wheatlands.

HE ARRIVED at the Copelands Saturday and will get a closeup look at a busy Ohio farm where Copeland works 257 acres, growing corn, wheat, oats and other crops, raising dairy cattle, sheep, turkeys and chickens and also serving as the county's U. S. weather observer.

Huq, who completed primary and secondary schooling and went to agriculture college for 3 years, worked a 28-acre section of his father's scattered 200 acres. He raised rice, wheat and jute—a fibrous plant from which rope, carpets, hats and other items are made.

The young farm student, serious but with a ready smile, pointed out Pakistan is actually two large land areas flanking India from which it was separated on the basis of religion—Moslems in Pakistan and Hindus in India.

VERSATILE IN English, Huq also speaks Bengalese (the language of East Pakistan), Urdu (the language of West Paksitan), Sanskit—an Indian tongue, and Arabic.

His dark hair and eyes reflect the colorful and ancient traditions of India, and he speaks of the "rainy season" and places such as Rangpur and the Ganges River, but admits he is fond of singing and dancing and football—"like the Americans play, not the British rugby."

The district hills are no novelty for Huq's companion, Islam Koshal, 29, of West Pakistan who arrived Monday to visit Mr. and Mrs. Arthur A. Rudebock of near Leetonia. Koshal is from a mountainous region of the western part of Pakistan — 1,000 miles across India.

The two will visit Mr. and Mrs. Don Myers of Lisbon later this month, then go to Southern Ohio for further farm visitations, and will return to their homeland in October.

ators continued efforts to settle the dispute.

The mediators scheduled another joint negotiating session today.

Robert Moore, chief deputy to Joseph F. Finnegan, director of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, reported a certain amount of progress Monday on contract details and language. He said, however, that there was "no progress on the question of the basic economic differences of the parties."

Moore sat in on the negotiations because Finnegan was in Washington conferring with Budget Bureau officials on additional funds for his agency.

Finnegan said he would resume personal direction of the contract talks here today.

Vinton Doctor Dies

MCARTHUR, Ohio (AP) — The death of Dr. Herbert D. Chamberlain has left Vinton County without a physician, at least temporarily. Dr. Chamberlain, 60, died Monday night in Mount Carmel Hospital, Columbus, from a heart condition. He had been a practioner here since the early 1930s. The county's only other physician, Dr. Richard E. Bullock, also of McArthur, is attending a medical convention in Colorado.

Utility Man's Move Outlined

SALINEVILLE — The withdrawal of an Ohio Power Co. servicemen assigned to the village was aired by William Black, district manager of the utility, at a meeting of Council Monday night.

Black said George Goppert, who resides here and has provided local repair and emergency service for many years, is slated for promotion and is trying out in various jobs in the East Liverpool area.

Repair and emergency service will be obtained out of the East Liverpool office, resulting in a delay in such work. Black said he could make no definite assurances that a local man will be assigned.

Atty. Warren Bettis, village solicitor, said he feels the utility should take steps to prevent the community from being without emergency service in event of a fire or other incident which might endanger life or property.

In other action, Council approved plans for replacing a weakened footbridge in the West End.

Councilman Earl Davison presided in the absence of Mayor Karl Lindner, who is attending an insurance course at Bowling Green University.

Hancock Man Bound For Grand Jury Action

NEW CUMBERLAND — Duane C. Mercer, 23, of Chester St. was bound over to the September Grand Jury following a hearing Monday before Squire John D. Herron on a charge of breaking and entering.

Mercer pleaded guilty to breaking into the quarters of a Dravo Construction Co. tugboat docked near here.

He was arrested yesterday by the sheriff's office along with three Newell area teen-agers in connection with the theft of a radio and about $25 in change from the tugboat Sunday.

Bond was set at $2,000 for Mercer, while the younger trio was scheduled for hearings before William Paolisso, county probation officer.

The sheriff's office reported that the radio was returned to the boat's crew but the money had been spent.

Chester Man Is Injured In City Collision

A Chester insurance man is in "fairly good" condition today with injuries received shortly after noon Monday in a collision with another Chester resident's auto at 4th and Market Sts.

The mishap was one of six recorded by police yesterday, including one which occurred on the municipal parking lot adjoining City Hall.

Jack Beckner, 28, of 517 Indiana Ave. was admitted to City Hospital with a severe laceration of the forehead after his 1959 foreign sports car and a 1956 sedan driven by Wayne Eugene Brown, 23, of Chester R. D. 1 collided at the intersection as both signaled left turns.

Brown told police he had pulled from a parking place on E. 4th St. and signaled a left turn onto Market St. When he saw Beckner's turn signal indicating a left turn from W. 4th St., Brown said he started to make his turn but Beckner came straight ahead and they collided.

Two witnesses—Albert Morris of Wellsville R. D. 1, and Sam Laneve, 554 Campground Rd.—told police Beckner was signaling a left turn when the mishap occurred.

A brake failure was blamed after a runaway car struck a Dresden Ave. home last night, police said.

Emerson A. Bartlett, 17, of 707 E. 4th St. driving a car owned by Sanford Matheny, 1004 St. Clair Ave., told police he was headed down the Grant St. hill when he noticed the brake pressure was down.

Bartlett said he stopped and got out to check the brakes when the striking the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. Burbick, 812 Dresden Ave. The weather stripping on the side of the home and the entire front end of the auto were damaged, police said.

Jeremiah Vuletic, 26, of Smiths Ferry was fined $10 and costs today in Municipal Court for operating an unsafe vehicle as the aftermath of a collision last night at Broadway and E. 5th St.

Police said Vuletic was backing from a parking space when his brakes failed and he struck a stopped car operated by Ralph T. Turner, 23, of 1048 Huston Ave.

Two mishaps were reported at E. 5th and Washington Sts., police said.

A 1955 auto driven by Orin C. Smith, an off-duty patrolman, was struck on the left front when Frank W. Rigg of Allison Park, Pa., backed from a parking space at 11:30 a. m., officers were told.

At 3:20 p. m. Dolores Samples, 27, of 924 Columbia Ave. attempted to pull around a car operated by Homer C. Huff, 22, of 171 Church St., Chester, halted to park, and scraped the bumper of the Huff auto, police said.

A fence on the property of Ann Bell, 140 W. 6th St., was damaged yesterday, police said, when apparently struck by a backing auto operated by Marie B. Hazlett, 55, of 1 E. Main St., Salineville, in the parking lot on W. 6th St.

However, Mrs. Hazlett later told officers she "absolutely" did not back into the fence and declined to assume any responsibility.

Elder will replace Herbert Sponseller and Harrold will take the place of O. F. Harrold. Sponseller and O. F. Harrold were nominated without primaries in May and then withdrew from the races.

The board rejected the bids of the Dodge Publishing Co. of Salem and Wilson Printing House of East Liverpool for ballots because they were considered "excessive," O'Hanlon said.

The board will readvertise for bids to be received until 1 p. m., legal time, Monday at its office on W. 6th St.

The Salem firm submitted a bid of $6,342.50 for municipal, village, township and school district offices and 16 state, municipal, school district, village and township questions and issues already certified.

In addition to the general contract, Dodge also asked an additional $10 to $12 per 1,000 for other questions and issues to be received. The price was dependent on the quantity and size of the ballot.

Wilson ask $8.314 for the general contract and an additional $19 per 1,000 for extra questions and issues, the board said.

The board also agreed to open three branch offices Sept. 21-23 to spur registration of voters in East Liverpool for the general election. East Liverpool is the only subdivision in the county where registration is required.

O'Hanlon said assistant clerks from the election board staff would be assigned to handle registration in the East End, North Side and Pleasant Heights areas but the sites haven't been selected.

The three branch offices will aid the board's main office on W. 6th St. in registering unqualified voters. The deadline for registration is Sept. 23, he said.

The offices will be open from 11 a. m. to 3 p. m. and from 5 to 10 p. m. which will enable workers to qualify regardless of the "turn" they are working.

Unionism Is More Than AFL-CIO

George Meany, president of the AFL-CIO, made a strong speech in opposition to President Eisenhower's strong speech last Thursday night, though the Meany speech had been pre-recorded and was not prepared as a rebuttal.

It had that effect, however, because Mr. Meany explained why Congress should not do what the President argued it should do; namely, pass a labor reform bill that would outlaw controversial practices of unionism like blackmail picketing and the secondary boycott.

Mr. Meany's position reveals why the labor-reform issue is creating so much tension.

He argues that Congress must do nothing in the name of getting at bad practices which might weaken good unions.

This raises two questions which neither he nor any union spokesman of his stature seems to be able to answer:

1. Is a bad practice when practiced by a good union any less bad than it is when practiced by a bad union?

2. Do good unionists — that is, men who think like Georg Meany—really believe the United States should leave it to them to clean up unionism when the net effect so far of AFL-CIO expulsion of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters has been nil?

IT IS CHIEFLY the practices of the Teamsters Union that have been examined and criticized by the Senate Rackets Committee, but the AFL-CIO does not mention this union, other than to say it was expelled from AFL-CIO, along with two other unions.

What happened subsequently certainly has not proved that the expulsion hurt the Teamsters Union, or that this is the means by which the American public can be protected from bully-boy union tactics. Mr. Meany is saying in effect that the public should not be worried about the kind of unionism associated with James R. Hoffa of the Teamsters because the AFL-CIO already has expelled Hoffa's union.

He also is saying in effect that the public should not be concerned about things like blackmail picketing and secondary boycotts because they may be used sometimes in behalf of good unions and nothing must be done to hurt good unions.

George Meany is a dedicated unionist who strives tirelessly and skillfully to protect unionism. But he is being embarrassed in his role as the leading spokesman for good unionism by the necessity of talking as if unionism began and ended with the AFL-CIO, at its highest level of principle.

That is not the problem that has preoccupied the McClelland Committee for the last two years. It is not the problem being tackled by the proponents of legislation.

UNIONISM IS more than AFL-CIO. AFL-CIO unions are not immune to criticism, if they engage in bad practices.

Congress is supposed to legislate in behalf of all the people in all fields where legislation is needed.

Does President Meany of the AFL-CIO, an organization that can boast of expelling unions when they get too far out of line to be tolerated, really mean to say that once they have been expelled it is none of the American people's business what they do, lest some law be passed that might possibly be brought to bear on a good union?

Does he really mean to say that a government which makes unionism possible by going into partnership with it to enforce its demands has foregone the right to protect its people from unionism that runs amuck?

West Africa Will Have To Wait

No expertness in the symbolism of the British throne is needed to understand the powerful impact of the announcement that Queen Elizabeth is going to bear a child early in 1960.

Not only is the attractive young queen a popular symbol of motherhood in her own right, but as the queen of all the millions who acknowledge allegiance to her throne she is the mother symbol of the British Commonwealth of Nations. Every corner of the earth contains her loyal subjects.

The "regrets" accompanying the announcement were addressed not to the members of the United Kingdom but to the queen's loyal subjects in Ghana, Sierra Leone and Gambia —Western Africa points of call that had been looking forward to a royal visit this fall.

The first hints of the queen's pregnancy, moreover, came into the news during her visit to Canada, where she and Prince Philip did such a thorough job of hitting all the stops and way stations that solicitous commentators criticized the royal couple for overdoing their job.

It is always a shock to non-Britons who don't think about the size of the British Commonwealth to be reminded that its mass population is more than 672 million persons. To the objection that most of them are allied so loosely to the British throne that they cannot be thought of as subject to its authority, the rebuttal is that they are allied with it voluntarily for the most part. Only Britain of the great empire builders has been able to make the switch from involuntary to voluntary association with any degree of success.

The Queen of Britain—Head of the Commonwealth and Defender of the Faith—is a symbol with no counterpart in the 20th century world. Her expected child, first to be born to a reigning queen since 1857, will be one of the great events of her auspicious reign.

The End Of An Argument

Collapse of constructive resistance to school desegregation in Little Rock may not mean the end of destructive resistance. But even the most prejudiced bitter-ender must admit it will make a difference when the alternative to token integration is no longer a system of private schools for the privileged but no schools at all.

Economic determinism settled the argument. Support for a system of private schools was not forthcoming. People who talked big dwindled in size when it was time to put up the money for private schools. In the long run, this will be the turning point in the desegregation issue — economics, not race prejudice.

Southerners who have been carrying along the illusion that they could afford two school systems will realize ultimately that they were kidding themselves, unless they saved on one system at the expense of another. Their bitter joke about Negro pupils getting the advantage of newer buildings and better teachers in some communities never was funny. The irony was brought into tragic focus in the argument over federal aid to education, when it was made plain at the outset that no member of Congress outside the segregated South would dare to support federal aid if it meant asking Northern taxpayers to help dual systems in Southern states.

In any event, Little Rock's constructive resisters to integration have thrown in the sponge; they can't raise enough money to support private schools.

The destructive resisters are still to be reckoned with. They may prefer to wreck education, rather than maintain it on an integrated basis.

Reds Exploit Young Africans

By Victor Riesel

KAMPALA, UGANDA

From Zanzibar to Kisumu, from Capetown to Kartoum, I've searched for traces of Moscow gold. I've found it. This Russian money is paying, in one fashion or another, for a network of thousands of angry young Africans, Indians and Arabs now working incessantly to make Africa over into a vast Marxist continent.

Victor Riesel

Should this succeed, it would give the Soviets half the world.

British intelligence sources estimate that more than 3,000 young Africans are being trained in anti-American and anti-West propaganda and subversion in Prague alone. Hundreds of others now travel the new underground railroad from deep inside Africa, into Uganda, then past the wild Sudanese border, on to Cairo and so to Prague, Moscow and Peiping. Then they return to their home countries loaded by the Russian bear.

THIS SET of twin capitals — Kampal and Entebbe on the edge of crocodile-filled Lake Victoria—is typical of a score of other cities on the jungle's edge. First, take it for granted that Uganda is vital to the defense of all the Main streets back home.

From Uganda's capital cities of Kampala and Entebbe our allies, the British, can affect the Nile River with a lot of secret hocuspocus a few miles from here at Jinja, where the Nile really begins. There's a big dam there and you can do tricks with it.

That dam, on a site selected more than 50 years ago by a young newspaperman named Winston Churchill, supplies electric power to much of East Africa. We, the people of the United States, will have forces and allies depending on that power if there is any conflict with the East.

Thus Uganda is vital for two reasons: From this inland African protectorate the British can cripple Russia's allies in North Africa. But if Moscow can put a friendly government in Entebbe-Kampala when Uganda goes independent, the Communists can control the power supplies of our friends in East Africa (in Kenya, for example).

With all this in mind, please note that the biggest political party—or what passes for one in this part of the world—is the Uganda National Congress. It may well run the country some day. Its boss is Joseph Kiwanuka, the chairman.

Some weeks ago Joe K. slipped over the border into the Sudan and he was on his way to Cairo. There he picked up a bundle of some $21,000 for his party. But instead of returning home, he talked to Communist operatives in Cairo at a speciall African-Asian unit there.

SOON KIWANUKA was on his way to Peiping where he got the royal treatment. Then he got on a plane for Vienna and the Communist Youth Festival crowd, where the Chinese Reds have been throwing "parties" for the African delegations. Soon Kiwanuka will be back in Kampaa.

But he's just one of the band. A few hours after I tracked down Kiwanuka, I sat with a young Indian named Shafik. He had just returned from studying in England and Moscow. Here he has a lucrative business. He drives a $10,000 Mercedes-Benz. And here we sat in the lovely Uganda Club.

The London-Moscow-Kampala Indian attacked the United States. Shafik said that Russia has no territorial aims. He boasted of the U.S.S.R.'s industrial progress. The young Indian defended the Communist Chinese brutalizing of Tibet.

He had revealed that he had just helped organize the Uganda Action Group. This group has 1,500 young Asian members, and they believe we ought to get rid of our atomic bombs. Shafik said bluntly he was a Marxist and all capitalism must go. That apparently included the United States.

SHAFIK AND KIWANUKA have one thing in common—they want the British to go right now. They want the white man to go right now. This would mean chaos. But they say at least it will be their own homemade chaos.

This they have in common with the leaders of all the violent bands. They've all been to Moscow. Yet they all say they're not Communists.

Further south, for example, there is Max Msopole. He is operating in the Misuku Mountains on the Tanganyika border. British intelligence says Msopole was trained in Moscow. He now directs strategy for tough bands of Africans who raid villages and burn government buildings.

They also burn the homes of Africans who want their freedom through peaceful political activity. These latter are our friends. Somehow our friends here always seem to be hurt or vilified when they oppose terrorism.

I could pinpoint a score of such spots for you folks back home. It would add up to the grim fact that here, south of the Sudan, the Russians are building up for a new South Korea. But here they may not even have to use troops.

Letters To The Editor

When labor and management couldn't get together on Big Steel, picket lines were thrown up at all mill entrances, with some laughter and some smiles.

Since that time, thousands have become unemployed. The smiles are slowly dwindling away and the laughter can be heard now and then around some tavern.

The housewife, with all her worries, is seeking some means of employment so that she may feed her hungry flocks. She realizes that this could be similiar to the big pinch that John L. Lewis put on the miners in the coal industry. All the heartaches and anguish she might have to suffer only will be paid for by long, drawn-out expressions on the faces of those whose laughter has ceased to exist, whose pockets have become flimsy and limp in homes where the head of the household was happy before.

The "Third Man" is the fellow to think about. The "Third Man" is the fellow who pulls an 8-hour shift and sleeps 6 of the 8 and then cries to the union that he is being underpaid for the efforts and is hungry and weak from being overworked.

The "Third Man" would like a time clock installed on his patio so that he might lull in the fineness of life at the expense of the week and strong, the poor and the rich. The world is indebted to him, the "Third Man". He can be a jovial sort of a person; you can become attached to him and can be enticed to see his side of all grievances.

But beware. When your pockets are empty, his stomach will be full and your time clock will cease to function and your shoes will have holes in the soles from restlessness and the long nights and no brightness in the morning.

I read with great concern two articles in Saturday's Review. The first was the headline story on page one telling of an accident killing four youths of our county and the second was on Page 16 telling of a local youth who was arrested on three charges and was fined $25 and costs.

In reading these two articles, you can readily determine that the first story deals with a wreck caused by youths who apparently were speeding and driving in a reckless manner. The second story has the same incidents, but with more fortunate results. The driver of this second car, a boy of 20 who was arrested earlier in the week, could easily have been another fatality if he hadn't been lucky. Yet when he was hauled into court on these charges our judge saw fit to suspend the fines on two of the charges and to reduce the fine on the third charge by 50 per cent.

In reflection, it causes one to wonder that if perhaps the boy were fined the amounts called for by law that he would be less likely to repeat his offenses.

I feel that we can be overly lenient in these cases and I would strongly recommend that the punishment fit the crime—a person who drives in a reckless manner endangers not only his own life but the lives of innocent people as well. I have noticed a great deal of suspended fines and sentences handed down by our Municipal Court and I feel the judge should uphold the police officers who make these arrests in punishing these traffic violators, to the limit. It would be sad indeed to read in next week's paper that this youth and his apparent disregard for the traffic laws has caused the death of a child in our community.

Think twice, Judge, the deaths of these people could well be on your conscience for failing to nip these killers of the highways when they begin their career of destruction.

Behind 'Hate' Drives

By David Lawrence

Where Is All The Money Coming From?

To what extent is Communist money back of the racist and hate literature being so widely spread throughout the world? Are the bombings of synagogues in the southern part of this country part of this country in some way related to an international conspiracy? If so, have not the people of the South been unjustly stigmatized and blamed for something with which they have had nothing to do? It is a Communist objective, of course, to foment discord and internal friction within all free countries.

David Lawrence

The latest and most significant piece of information on the subject of hate literature has just come out in a formal report filed at the plenary assembly of the World Jewish Congress held in Stockholm, Sweden, only a week ago. It says in part:

"There is evidence that anti-Semitic organizations, institutions or individual adventures in this field have established interlocking international relationships in order to facilitate the disseminaton of racist material on an international scale.

"Thus Australia has been regularly supplied with material of the vilest kind exported from the United States and the United Kingdom, while, from Australia itself, anti-Semitic literature has turned up in Turkey in quantities sufficiently significant to alarm the Jewish community.

"From Sweden there has come a ceaseless stream of anti-Semitic material ostensibly produced and distributed by a single individual, which has turned up in Germany, South Africa and various Latin Amercan states, all areas carefully chosen because, for historical reasons, this material might make an impact.

"This by no means exhausts the story of the international effort to revive anti - Semitism; we have cited only a number of conspicuous examples which we have brought to the notice of the governments concerned and to the United Nations.

"These governments have invariably received our representatives with the utmost sympathy but, with rare exceptions, have equally invariably expressed their legal inability to deal with a phenomenon which we do not doubt they find deeply distressing."

IN ANOTHER statement placed before the Stockholm meeting by its director of international affairs, Dr. M. L. Perlzweig of New York City, reference is made to the attitude of the Soviet Union towards Jews from that country who were invited to attend the World Jewish Conference.

The Moscow government claimed that the acceptance of the invitations was entirely up to Soviet Jews, but, although the invitations were sent to Jewish religious communities, their reply was that, since the assembly would be dealing with "political matters," it would not be proper for them to attend. The Stockholm report adds:

"Disquieting reports are reaching us regarding the position of Jewish religious life in the Soviet Union. We hear that synagogues are being closed, particularly the synagogue in Czernovitz. Many Jewish tourists are welcomed to the Soviet Union, but, among those who were refused visas, were a number of rabbis. All this is relevant to the answer we received from the Soviet Union."

On April 30, 1958, this correspondent wrote a dispatch calling attention to the bombing of a Negro school and a Jewish synagogue in Jacksonville, Fla., and pointed out that the anonymous telephone warnings used phrases about "undergrounds" and other words from the vocabulary of Communist agents.

On Oct. 14, 1958, this writer noted that the bombings of a Jewish temple in Atlanta followed the pattern of similar incidents in Miami, Jacksonville and other parts of the South. Yet, as pointed out then, it is conceded widely that there is less anti-Semitism in the South than in any other part of the United States.

ON DEC. 15, 1958, reference was made in these dispatches to a statement made by then Senator-elect Kenneth B. Keating of New York after a tour of the South. He said there was a "strong suspicion" that the bombing of schools, homes and places of worship in the South may have been fomented by Communists.

Then on Jan. 26, 1959, this correspondent called attention to a series of five articles published by the New York "Daily News." They were written by one of its staff reporters, David Burk, and in them he told the results of several months of investigation into "the men and the groups tailored into the network of hate and violence" in this country.

He said there was "a mass of evidence of direct liaison between agents of the United Arab Republic and leaders of the American race groups held responsible by United States authorities for the Atlanta bombing."

It seems strange, also, that there is a big organization of Negroes in the United States, claiming to be "Moslems," which is fighting the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People and is preaching anti-Semitism and anti-Americanism as its creed. "Time" magazine in its Aug. 10 issue says:

" 'The Moslems' are of rising concern to respectable Negro civic leaders, to the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, the police departments in half a dozen cities, and to the FBI."

Where are all these anti-American organizations getting their money? This is a question that has not yet been answered.

Lead Or Be Led

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

One of 1959's surprises is the way President Eisenhower has asserted himself. He used to press the soft-pedal hard.

Critics complained — some still do—that he didn't do enough leading. But in 1959 he has become increasingly aggressive, particularly on home problems.

In foreign affairs he is still pretty defensive. His actions now, as in the past, are mostly reactions to Soviet actions.

There are several explanations for his 1959 performance:

1. He has to rely more on himself. Some key men he brought into government with him, and depended on most, are gone. Notably: Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, who died in May, and Sherman Adams, who quit last September.

2. It's either lead or be led. The Democrats, in overwhelming control of Congress, would run with the ball if he didn't speak out.

3. Time is running out for making good on his early promises, such as budget-balancing and less spending. He has just a little over 17 months left in office.

4. Since the Soviets are pushing, he has to push back. His invitation to Premier Nikita Khrushchev to come here was an effort to avoid or delay a showdown on Berlin.

Dulles, given free rein by Eisenhower, overshadowed the President in foreign affairs. Yet, by his enormous work, he took a heavy burden of detail off Eisenhower. That's changed now.

Eisenhower doesn't have the same close relationship with Dulles' successor, Christian A. Herter, who has been out of the country, negotiating on Berlin, most of the time since taking office last spring.

Which means: Eisenhower in foreign affairs has had to be much more his own front man.

Adams' title — assistant to the President—was a catch - all. He acted like a combination chief of staff, executive vice president, buffer, filter, firefighter and plantation manager for Eisenhower.

He saved the President endless time, chores, problems and decisions in running the government. His successor, Wilton B. Persons, retired major general, seems to have only a shadow of Adams' importance in easing things for Eisenhower.

The result: Eisenhower has been forced into fighting harder—and personally—for what he does and doesn't want.

Eisenhower, like any President winding up his last term, was expected to show a waning influence in his last two White House years after the 1958 elections gave the Democrats a huge control in Congress. It hasn't turned out that way.

Time was when Eisenhower pulled back from a fight with Congress, seemed to think it improper for a President to put the heat on House or Senate. Now, all year, he has been in a running battle with the Democrats.

This is especially true in the economic field. In 1952, when he was looking for this job, he promised balanced budgets, less spending, a sound dollar.

Since then he has balanced the budget only twice, living costs are up 10 per cent, and increased government costs ruined his low spending dreams. These frustrations seem to be a goad to him now.

Switzerland completed the world's highest dam, the 780-ft. Mauvoisin, in 1957.

Unionism Is More Than AFL-CIO

George Meany, president of the AFL-CIO, made a strong speech in opposition to President Eisenhower's strong speech last Thursday night, though the Meany speech had been pre-recorded and was not prepared as a rebuttal.

It had that effect, however, because Mr. Meany explained why Congress should not do what the President argued it should do: namely, pass a labor reform bill that would outlaw controversial practices of unionism like blackmail picketing and the secondary boycott.

Mr. Meany's position reveals why the labor-reform issue is creating so much tension.

He argues that Congress must do nothing in the name of getting at bad practices which might weaken good unions.

This raises two questions which neither he nor any union spokesman of his stature seems to be able to answer:

1. Is a bad practice when practiced by a good union any less bad than it is when practiced by a bad union?

2. Do good unionists — that is, men who think like Georg Meany—really believe the United States should leave it to them to clean up unionism when the net effect so far of AFL-CIO expulsion of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters has been nil?

IT IS CHIEFLY the practices of the Teamsters Union that have been examined and criticized by the Senate Rackets Committee, but the AFL-CIO does not mention this union, other than to say it was expelled from AFL-CIO, along with two other unions.

What happened subsequently certainly has not proved that the expulsion hurt the Teamsters Union, or that this is the means by which the American public can be protected from bully-boy union tactics. Mr. Meany is saying in effect that the public should not be worried about the kind of unionism associated with James R. Hoffa of the Teamsters because the AFL-CIO already has expelled Hoffa's union.

He also is saying in effect that the public should not be concerned about things like blackmail picketing and secondary boycotts because they may be used sometimes in behalf of good unions and nothing must be done to hurt good unions.

George Meany is a dedicated unionist who strives tirelessly and skillfully to protect unionism. But he is being embarrassed in his role as the leading spokesman for good unionism by the necessity of talking as if unionism began and ended with the AFL-CIO, at its highest level of principle.

That is not the problem that has preoccupied the McClelland Committee for the last two years. It is not the problem being tackled by the proponents of legislation.

UNIONISM IS more than AFL-CIO. AFL-CIO unions are not immune to criticism, if they engage in bad practices.

Congress is supposed to legislate in behalf of all the people in all fields where legislation is needed.

Does President Meany of the AFL-CIO, an organization that can boast of expelling unions when they get too far out of line to be tolerated, really mean to say that once they have been expelled it is none of the American people's business what they do, lest some law be passed that might possibly be brought to bear on a good union?

Does he really mean to say that a government which makes unionism possible by going into partnership with it to enforce its demands has foregone the right to protect its people from unionism that runs amuck?

West Africa Will Have To Wait

No expertness in the symbolism of the British throne is needed to understand the powerful impact of the announcement that Queen Elizabeth is going to bear a child early in 1960.

Not only is the attractive young queen a popular symbol of motherhood in her own right, but as the queen of all the millions who acknowledge allegiance to her throne she is the mother symbol of the British Commonwealth of Nations. Every corner of the earth contains her loyal subjects.

The "regrets" accompanying the announcement were addressed not to the members of the United Kingdom but to the queen's loyal subjects in Ghana, Sierra Leone and Gambia —Western Africa points of call that had been looking forward to a royal visit this fall.

The first hints of the queen's pregnancy, moreover, came into the news during her visit to Canada, where she and Prince Philip did such a thorough job of hitting all the stops and way stations that solicitous commentators criticized the royal couple for overdoing their job.

It is always a shock to non-Britons who don't think about the size of the British Commonwealth to be reminded that its mass population is more than 672 million persons. To the objection that most of them are allied so loosely to the British throne that they cannot be thought of as subject to its authority, the rebuttal is that they are allied with it voluntarily for the most part. Only Britain of the great empire builders has been able to make the switch from involuntary to voluntary association with any degree of success.

Thus Uganda is vital for two reasons: From this inland African protectorate the British can cripple Russia's allies in North Africa. But if Moscow can put a friendly government in Entebbe-Kampala when Uganda goes independent, the Communists can control the power supplies of our friends in East Africa (in Kenya, for example).

With all this in mind, please note that the biggest political party—or what passes for one in this part of the world—is the Uganda National Congress. It may well run the country some day. Its boss is Joseph Kiwanuka, the chairman.

Some weeks ago Joe K. slipped over the border into the Sudan and he was on his way to Cairo. There he picked up a bundle of some $21,000 for his party. But instead of returning home, he talked to Communist operatives in Cairo at a speciall African-Asian unit there.

SOON KIWANUKA was on his way to Peiping where he got the royal treatment. Then he got on a plane for Vienna and the Communist Youth Festival crowd, where the Chinese Reds have been throwing "parties" for the African delegations. Soon Kiwanuka will be back in Kampaa.

But he's just one of the band. A few hours after I tracked down Kiwanuka, I sat with a young Indian named Shafik. He had just returned from studying in England and Moscow. Here he has a lucrative business. He drives a $10,000 Mercedes-Benz. And here we sat in the lovely Uganda Club.

The London-Moscow-Kampala Indian attacked the United States. Shafik said that Russia has no territorial aims. He boasted of the U.S.S.R.'s industrial progress. The young Indian defended the Communist Chinese brutalizing of Tibet.

He had revealed that he had just helped organize the Uganda Action Group. This group has 1,500 young Asian members, and they believe we ought to get rid of our atomic bombs. Shafik said bluntly he was a Marxist and all capitalism must go. That apparently included the United States.

SHAFIK AND KIWANUKA have one thing in common—they want the British to go right now. They want the white man to go right now. This would mean chaos. But they say at least it will be their own homemade chaos.

This they have in common with the leaders of all the violent bands. They've all been to Moscow. Yet they all say they're not Communists.

Further south, for example, there is Max Msopole. He is operating in the Misuku Mountains on the Tanganyika border. British intelligence says Msopole was trained in Moscow. He now directs strategy for tough bands of Africans who raid villages and burn government buildings.

They also burn the homes of Africans who want their freedom through peaceful political activity. These latter are our friends. Somehow our friends here always seem to be hurt or vilified when they oppose terrorism.

I could pinpoint a score of such spots for you folks back home. It would add up to the grim fact that here, south of the Sudan, the Russians are building up for a new South Korea. But here they may not even have to use troops.

Letters To The Editor

When labor and management couldn't get together on Big Steel, picket lines were thrown up at all mill entrances, with some laughter and some smiles.

Since that time, thousands have become unemployed. The smiles are slowly dwindling away and the laughter can be heard now and then around some tavern.

The housewife, with all her worries, is seeking some means of employment so that she may feed her hungry flocks. She realizes that this could be similiar to the big pinch that John L. Lewis put on the miners in the coal industry. All the heartaches and anguish she might have to suffer only will be paid for by long, drawn-out expressions on the faces of those whose laughter has ceased to exist, whose pockets have become flimsy and limp in homes where the head of the household was happy before.

The "Third Man" is the fellow to think about. The "Third Man" is the fellow who pulls an 8-hour shift and sleeps 6 of the 8 and then cries to the union that he is being underpaid for the efforts and is hungry and weak from being overworked.

The "Third Man" would like a time clock installed on his patio so that he might lull in the fineness of life at the expense of the week and strong, the poor and the rich. The world is indebted to him, the "Third Man". He can be a jovial sort of a person; you can become attached to him and can be enticed to see his side of all grievances.

But beware. When your pockets are empty, his stomach will be full and your time clock will cease to function and your shoes will have holes in the soles from restlessness and the long nights and no brightness in the morning.

I read with great concern two articles in Saturday's Review. The first was the headline story on page one telling of an accident killing four youths of our county and the second was on Page 16 telling of a local youth who was arrested on three charges and was fined $25 and costs.

In reading these two articles, you can readily determine that the first story deals with a wreck caused by youths who apparently were speeding and driving in a reckless manner. The second story has the same incidents, but with more fortunate results. The driver of this second car, a boy of 20 who was arrested earlier in the week, could easily have been another fatality if he hadn't been lucky. Yet when he was hauled into court on these charges our judge saw fit to suspend the fines on two of the charges and to reduce the fine on the third charge by 50 per cent.

In reflection, it causes one to wonder that if perhaps the boy were fined the amounts called for by law that he would be less likely to repeat his offenses.

I feel that we can be overly lenient in these cases and I would strongly recommend that the punishment fit the crime—a person who drives in a reckless manner endangers not only his own life but the lives of innocent people as well. I have noticed a great deal of suspended fines and sentences handed down by our Municipal Court and I feel the judge should uphold the police officers who make these arrests in punishing these traffic violators, to the limit. It would be sad indeed to read in next week's paper that this youth and his apparent disregard for the traffic laws has caused the death of a child in our community.

Think twice, Judge, the deaths of these people could well be on your conscience for failing to nip these killers of the highways when they begin their career of destruction.

Behind 'Hate' Drives

By David Lawrence

Where Is All The Money Coming From?

To what extent is Communist money back of the racist and hate literature being so widely spread throughout the world? Are the bombings of synagogues in the southern part of this country part of this country in some way related to an international conspiracy? If so, have not the people of the South been unjustly stigmatized and blamed for something with which they have had nothing to do? It is a Communist objective, of course, to foment discord and internal friction within all free countries.

David Lawrence

The latest and most significant piece of information on the subject of hate literature has just come out in a formal report filed at the plenary assembly of the World Jewish Congress held in Stockholm, Sweden, only a week ago. It says in part:

"There is evidence that anti-Semitic organizations, institutions or individual adventures in this field have established interlocking international relationships in order to facilitate the disseminaton of racist material on an international scale.

"Thus Australia has been regularly supplied with material of the vilest kind exported from the United States and the United Kingdom, while, from Australia itself, anti-Semitic literature has turned up in Turkey in quantities sufficiently significant to alarm the Jewish community.

"From Sweden there has come a ceaseless stream of anti-Semitic material ostensibly produced and distributed by a single individual, which has turned up in Germany, South Africa and various Latin Amercan states, all areas carefully chosen because, for historical reasons, this material might make an impact.

"This by no means exhausts the story of the international effort to revive anti - Semitism; we have cited only a number of conspicuous examples which we have brought to the notice of the governments concerned and to the United Nations.

"These governments have invariably received our representatives with the utmost sympathy but, with rare exceptions, have equally invariably expressed their legal inability to deal with a phenomenon which we do not doubt they find deeply distressing."

IN ANOTHER statement placed before the Stockholm meeting by its director of international affairs, Dr. M. L. Perlzweig of New York City, reference is made to the attitude of the Soviet Union towards Jews from that country who were invited to attend the World Jewish Conference.

The Moscow government claimed that the acceptance of the invitations was entirely up to Soviet Jews, but, although the invitations were sent to Jewish religious communities, their reply was that, since the assembly would be dealing with "political matters," it would not be proper for them to attend. The Stockholm report adds:

"Disquieting reports are reaching us regarding the position of Jewish religious life in the Soviet Union. We hear that synagogues are being closed, particularly the synagogue in Czernovitz. Many Jewish tourists are welcomed to the Soviet Union, but, among those who were refused visas, were a number of rabbis. All this is relevant to the answer we received from the Soviet Union."

On April 30, 1958, this correspondent wrote a dispatch calling attention to the bombing of a Negro school and a Jewish synagogue in Jacksonville, Fla., and pointed out that the anonymous telephone warnings used phrases about "undergrounds" and other words from the vocabulary of Communist agents.

On Oct. 14, 1958, this writer noted that the bombings of a Jewish temple in Atlanta followed the pattern of similar incidents in Miami, Jacksonville and other parts of the South. Yet, as pointed out then, it is conceded widely that there is less anti-Semitism in the South than in any other part of the United States.

ON DEC. 15, 1958, reference was made in these dispatches to a statement made by then Senator-elect Kenneth B. Keating of New York after a tour of the South. He said there was a "strong suspicion" that the bombing of schools, homes and places of worship in the South may have been fomented by Communists.

Then on Jan. 26, 1959, this correspondent called attention to a series of five articles published by the New York "Daily News." They were written by one of its staff reporters, David Burk, and in them he told the results of several months of investigation into "the men and the groups tailored into the network of hate and violence" in this country.

He said there was "a mass of evidence of direct liaison between agents of the United Arab Republic and leaders of the American race groups held responsible by United States authorities for the Atlanta bombing."

It seems strange, also, that there is a big organization of Negroes in the United States, claiming to be "Moslems," which is fighting the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People and is preaching anti-Semitism and anti-Americanism as its creed. "Time" magazine in its Aug. 10 issue says:

"'The Moslems' are of rising concern to respectable Negro civic leaders, to the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, the police departments in half a dozen cities, and to the FBI."

Where are all these anti-American organizations getting their money? This is a question that has not yet been answered.

Lead Or Be Led

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

One of 1959's surprises is the way President Eisenhower has asserted himself. He used to press the soft-pedal hard.

Critics complained — some still do—that he didn't do enough leading. But in 1959 he has become increasingly aggressive, particularly on home problems.

In foreign affairs he is still pretty defensive. His actions now, as in the past, are mostly reactions to Soviet actions.

There are several explanations for his 1959 performance:

1. He has to rely more on himself. Some key men he brought into government with him, and depended on most, are gone. Notably: Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, who died in May, and Sherman Adams, who quit last September.

2. It's either lead or be led. The Democrats, in overwhelming control of Congress, would run with the ball if he didn't speak out.

3. Time is running out for making good on his early promises, such as budget-balancing and less spending. He has just a little over 17 months left in office.

4. Since the Soviets are pushing, he has to push back. His invitation to Premier Nikita Khrushchev to come here was an effort to avoid or delay a showdown on Berlin.

Dulles, given free rein by Eisenhower, overshadowed the President in foreign affairs. Yet, by his enormous work, he took a heavy burden of detail off Eisenhower. That's changed now.

Eisenhower doesn't have the same close relationship with Dulles' successor, Christian A. Herter, who has been out of the country, negotiating on Berlin, most of the time since taking office last spring.

Which means: Eisenhower in foreign affairs has had to be much more his own front man.

Adams' title — assistant to the President—was a catch - all. He acted like a combination chief of staff, executive vice president, buffer, filter, firefighter and plantation manager for Eisenhower.

He saved the President endless time, chores, problems and decisions in running the government. His successor, Wilton B. Persons, retired major general, seems to have only a shadow of Adams' importance in easing things for Eisenhower.

The result: Eisenhower has been forced into fighting harder—and personally—for what he does and doesn't want.

Eisenhower, like any President winding up his last term, was expected to show a waning influence in his last two White House years after the 1958 elections gave the Democrats a huge control in Congress. It hasn't turned out that way.

Time was when Eisenhower pulled back from a fight with Congress, seemed to think it improper for a President to put the heat on House or Senate. Now, all year, he has been in a running battle with the Democrats.

This is especially true in the economic field. In 1952, when he was looking for this job, he promised balanced budgets, less spending, a sound dollar.

Since then he has balanced the budget only twice, living costs are up 10 per cent, and increased government costs ruined his low spending dreams. These frustrations seem to be a goad to him now.

Switzerland completed the world's highest dam, the 780-ft. Mauvoisin, in 1957.

You Can Conquer Fear Of Reciting In Class

A young woman writes from Ohio:

"When I was a sophomore in high school, I began to experience a nervous, violent head tremor whenever I recited in front of the class and this continued to occur until I graduated. "I know that it would still happen, because I haven't been cured of nervousness or neurosis although I've been receiving psychotherapy and tranquilizing drugs for almost three years.

By Garry Meyers

"I want to go to college, but I dread the recurrence of my violent head tremor. I used to play hookey when I was in high school on days that I had to recite before the class. Believe me, I dread that occurrence more than I would dread being burned by a white hot iron!

—:—

"RECENTLY I hit upon the idea of engaging in the activity of talking to groups before entering college, in hopes that if I forced myself to do it often enough I would eventually lose my fear of reciting before a group.

"Where could I get the experience of talking to a group? Do teachers of elocution have each of their pupils speak before the other pupils?

"I want to talk to groups again and again before entering college because I don't want to experience a violet head tremor; a sensation in my stomach as if I were riding a roller coaster; dizziness; palpitation; cold, clammy hands; a pain in the back of my neck; colored spots before my eyes; a terror-stricken expression on my face and a tremulous hoarse voice while reciting in college, because I'm liable to break down and cry violently in front of the group as I did once in high school.

"You see, I'm afraid that if such a thing happened in college, they might ask me to give up my education."

MY REPLY, in part: First of all, I am sure you exaggerate your difficulties, but, in order to overcome them, go where others your age gather informally. Be a good listener, but when you feel like it, say something.

You might also make yourself available to leaders of Cubs, Girl Scouts or 4-H, or teach a Sunday School class. This should do you much good.

You should also know that most people go through some of the experiences you describe. For instance I, myself, have never got entirely over stage fright.

The more you can keep your attention on what others are saying and what you want to say, the less you will notice your disturbing feelings.

Rural Road Traffic Deaths Increase In Ohio Over '58

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's rural roads rarely look more beautiful than they do in June, but this beauty last June was a background for 95 traffic deaths.

According to the Gov. Michael V. DiSalle's Traffic Safety Committee, which heard a six-month 1959 report Monday, these 95 rural highway deaths marked a 121 per cent rise over June of last year.

On a statewide basis, fatalities during June total 152, or 20 per cent more than the 127 figure in June, 1958.

However, the six-month report for this year was, on the whole, somewhat favorable.

The committee, in session here, previously heard the best part of the statistics—an eight per cent drop from the six-month total of 1958. Traffic deaths through the period totaled 753, against 815 last year.

The Department of Safety broke the report into two sections — rural and urban.

The figures point to rural Ohio's traffic fatalities as reason for the June jump.

Urban totals for June ran 27 per cent under last June, down from 45 to 33, and brought the cumulative total in Urban areas to 221. That was a reduction of 22 per cent. There were 281 urban deaths for the first half of 1958.

But all-rural traffic deaths climbed 16 per cent in April and 10 per cent in May of this year, then jumped 45 per cent in June. It made the all-rural cumulative total practically even with last year—533 compared to 532 last year.

The rising fatality trend on rural roads began in March of this year and skyrocketed in June. The rural total from January to June ran to 400 deaths—more than half the state total and 18 per cent greater than the 340 registered deaths in rural areas during the same period in 1958.

How Can I

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I keep my wicker clothes hampers in good condition?

A. By shellacking them regularly. This will keep them spic and span. Shellac is best applied by spraying, but may be brushed on in a fairly uniform coating if thinned with alcohol to a watery consistency. Use only fresh, white shellac.

Q. How can I make bread crumbs easily and quickly?

A. Cut the soft part from a stale loaf of bread, place it in a clean cloth bag, tie the bag at the mouth, then gently rub it between the hands for a few minutes.

Q. How can I remove paint spots from hardwood floors?

A. Apply some kerosene and rub briskly. Follow this by rubbing the floor with a soft cloth wrung from lukewarm water.

Walnuts added to chocolate bread pudding make it extra-special.

Steven And Anne To Honeymoon In Hills Of Wyoming

KRISTIANSAND, Norway (AP) —Steven Rockefeller and the Norwegian girl he marries Aug. 22 plan an extended honeymoon in the hills of Wyoming, friends here said today.

After their return to New York, Anne Marie Rasmussen Rockefeller will enroll at Columbia University to continue art studies she began at New York's Metropolitan Museum during the months Steven was courting her.

Steven has said he would go into "family business," training to play a role in the administration of one of the greatest fortunes in the world.

For the present the son of New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller and the one-time maid in the Rockefeller home kept their whereabouts a secret from the world.

Steven, Anne Marie, and her parents motored out of Rasmussens' home village of Sogne, near here for a week of privacy.

Argument Over Autos Stirs Fatal Shooting

PITTSBURGH (AP) — A 35-old divorcee shot and killed a city chauffeur in his apartment in Pittsburgh's East Liberty section Monday, police reported.

Police Lt. Stanley Maskell said Dorothy DeBasi shot Alphonse Nobile, 29, four times with a .38-caliber revolver.

"She told us that each of them owned a car and that Nobile insisted she sell her's," the officer said. "She sold her's this afternoon and the bought the gun."

"She said that during the argument he hit her with a coffee table, and then she started shooting," the lieutenant added.

The woman was jailed on a murder charge.

SS Benefits Now Being Issued To Dependent Parent

Before a recent change in the Social Security law, many parents who had been supported by their working sons or daughters who had died could not qualify for "dependent parents' benefits."

This was so because the law specified that surviving dependent parents could not be paid parents' benefits if the worker was survived by a spouse or child who might be eligible for survivors' benefits. This restriction was removed by Congress last year. Dependent parents' benefits became payable to mothers at age 62 and to fathers at age 65.

With the change last September about 60,000 aged surviving parents became immediately eligible for benefits. Many have already applied for their payments, but others have still not been in touch with their Social Security office, William J. McCauley, district manager of the Youngstown Social Security office, reported.

Those who apply before the end of September 1959 may be paid benefits for all months back to September 1958, McCauley said, but those who wait until after this September will lose checks for one or more months.

There is also a time limit during which surviving parents must file proof that they were dependend upon a son or daughter who has died McCauley said. In general, this proof showing that they were receiving at least one half of their support from the deceased worker must be submitted to the Social Security Administration within two years after the workers death. But parents made eligible under this liberalization of the law and whose sons or daughters may have died as long ago as 1940, have until Sept. 1, 1960, to get the evidence of their dependency on file with their Social Security offices. This timelimit affects those who have not yet reached retirement age, as well as those who can start drawing benefits now.

West Virginia Meeting Set On Travel Council

CHARLESTON (AP) — Representatives from various sections of West Virginia will meet here Wednesday with officials of the Industrial and Publicity Commission in a possible step toward establishing a travel council.

The council would be another means of stimulating the state's booming tourist business.

It would be concerned primarily with promotion of West Virginia's privately-owned and operated tourist attractions.

Executive Director Don Crislip of the Industrial and Publicity Commission said future steps, perhaps even a governor's conference on the subject, will depend upon the reaction of the group meeting here.

Crislip's agency regarded tourism as a 240-million-dollar business in West Virginia last year. Early 1959 trends indicate a gain to as much as 300 million dollars.

According to the Gov. Michael V. DiSalle's Traffic Safety Committee, which heard a six-month 1959 report Monday, these 95 rural highway deaths marked a 121 per cent rise over June of last year.

On a statewide basis, fatalities during June total 152, or 20 per cent more than the 127 figure in June, 1958.

However, the six-month report for this year was, on the whole, somewhat favorable.

The committee, in session here, previously heard the best part of the statistics—an eight per cent drop from the six-month total of 1958. Traffic deaths through the period totaled 753, against 815 last year.

The Department of Safety broke the report into two sections — rural and urban.

The figures point to rural Ohio's traffic fatalities as reason for the June jump.

Urban totals for June ran 27 per cent under last June, down from 45 to 33, and brought the cumulative total in Urban areas to 221. That was a reduction of 22 per cent. There were 281 urban deaths for the first half of 1958.

But all-rural traffic deaths climbed 16 per cent in April and 10 per cent in May of this year, then jumped 45 per cent in June. It made the all-rural cumulative total practically even with last year—533 compared to 532 last year.

The rising fatality trend on rural roads began in March of this year and skyrocketed in June. The rural total from January to June ran to 400 deaths—more than half the state total and 18 per cent greater than the 340 registered deaths in rural areas during the same period in 1958.

How Can I

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I keep my wicker clothes hampers in good condition?

A. By shellacking them regularly. This will keep them spic and span. Shellac is best applied by spraying, but may be brushed on in a fairly uniform coating if thinned with alcohol to a watery consistency. Use only fresh, white shellac.

Q. How can I make bread crumbs easily and quickly?

A. Cut the soft part from a stale loaf of bread, place it in a clean cloth bag, tie the bag at the mouth, then gently rub it between the hands for a few minutes.

Q. How can I remove paint spots from hardwood floors?

A. Apply some kerosene and rub briskly. Follow this by rubbing the floor with a soft cloth wrung from lukewarm water.

Steven And Anne To Honeymoon In Hills Of Wyoming

KRISTIANSAND, Norway (AP) —Steven Rockefeller and the Norwegian girl he marries Aug. 22 plan an extended honeymoon in the hills of Wyoming, friends here said today.

After their return to New York, Anne Marie Rasmussen Rockefeller will enroll at Columbia University to continue art studies she began at New York's Metropolitan Museum during the months Steven was courting her.

Steven has said he would go into "family business," training to play a role in the administration of one of the greatest fortunes in the world.

For the present the son of New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller and the one-time maid in the Rockefeller home kept their whereabouts a secret from the world.

Steven, Anne Marie, and her parents motored out of Rasmussens' home village of Sogne, near here for a week of privacy.

Argument Over Autos Stirs Fatal Shooting

PITTSBURGH (AP) — A 35-old divorcee shot and killed a city chauffeur in his apartment in Pittsburgh's East Liberty section Monday, police reported.

Police Lt. Stanley Maskell said Dorothy DeBasi shot Alphonse Nobile, 29, four times with a .38-caliber revolver.

"She told us that each of them owned a car and that Nobile insisted she sell her's," the officer said. "She sold her's this afternoon and the bought the gun."

"She said that during the argument he hit her with a coffee table, and then she started shooting," the lieutenant added.

The woman was jailed on a murder charge.

Nimble Fingers

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — Mayor W. Fred Duckworth says French pickpockets are pretty good at their trade. One removed his wallet containing $1,000 in travelers checks while the mayor was visiting the Eiffel tower in Paris. What's more C. A. Harrell, city manager of Cincinnati and former city manager here, lost a key case to the same set of nimble fingers.

SS Benefits Now Being Issued To Dependent Parent

Before a recent change in the Social Security law, many parents who had been supported by their working sons or daughters who had died could not qualify for "dependent parents' benefits."

This was so because the law specified that surviving dependent parents could not be paid parents' benefits if the worker was survived by a spouse or child who might be eligible for survivors' benefits. This restriction was removed by Congress last year. Dependent parents' benefits became payable to mothers at age 62 and to fathers at age 65.

With the change last September about 60,000 aged surviving parents became immediately eligible for benefits. Many have already applied for their payments, but others have still not been in touch with their Social Security office, William J. McCauley, district manager of the Youngstown Social Security office, reported.

Those who apply before the end of September 1959 may be paid benefits for all months back to September 1958, McCauley said, but those who wait until after this September will lose checks for one or more months.

There is also a time limit during which surviving parents must file proof that they were dependend upon a son or daughter who has died McCauley said. In general, this proof showing that they were receiving at least one half of their support from the deceased worker must be submitted to the Social Security Administration within two years after the workers death. But parents made eligible under this liberalization of the law and whose sons or daughters may have died as long ago as 1940, have until Sept. 1, 1960, to get the evidence of their dependency on file with their Social Security offices. This timelimit affects those who have not yet reached retirement age, as well as those who can start drawing benefits now.

West Virginia Meeting Set On Travel Council

CHARLESTON (AP) — Representatives from various sections of West Virginia will meet here Wednesday with officials of the Industrial and Publicity Commission in a possible step toward establishing a travel council.

The council would be another means of stimulating the state's booming tourist business.

It would be concerned primarily with promotion of West Virginia's privately-owned and operated tourist attractions.

Executive Director Don Crislip of the Industrial and Publicity Commission said future steps, perhaps even a governor's conference on the subject, will depend upon the reaction of the group meeting here.

Crislip's agency regarded tourism as a 240-million-dollar business in West Virginia last year. Early 1959 trends indicate a gain to as much as 300 million dollars.

100 Attend Outing Of Sweet Adelines

Approximately 100 attended the first outdoor meeting of the Sweet Adelines, women's vocal group, Friday night at Thompson Park. Families were guests.

Selections were given by a novice quartet, Mrs. Wilma Jane Laughlin, Mrs. Sonja Rose, Mrs. Jean Witherow and Mrs. Edna Phelps. Other quartets preforming were the "Barber Curls," Mrs. Ginger Hile, Mrs. Jean Gibbs, Mrs. Jan Dietz and Miss JoAnn Vannoy, and the "Colonials," Dale Keddie, Bill Brooks, Charles Brooks and Jim Raffle of the men's barbershop singing society.

Glenn Woods directed the chorus in several numbers.

Mrs. Hile, chairman, assisted by Mrs. Witherow, Mrs. Gibbs, Mrs. Ruth Rinehart and Miss Mary Diddle, were in charge of the wiener roast.

Mrs. Dorothy Zerkle, president of the chapter at Greater Orlando, Fla., attended.

The group will meet Friday night at the YMCA to complete plans for "Charter Night" scheduled Aug. 22 at the Memorial Auditorium.

Hill Rd. Work To Start Soon

Resurfacing of the E. 5th St. Hill and the Pennsylvania Ave. "Hill Rd." is expected to begin next Monday, Safety-Service Director Joseph F. Ross said today.

Edgar Spring, Inc., of New Philadelphia, is scheduled to begin "tack coating" the street Friday following completion of work by the city water department in relocating a 12-inch water main.

The water department is scheduled to finish installing a new valve on the line, which eventually will be moved to the hillside above the slip on the "Hill Rd." today and tomorrow will backfill and concrete two ditches excavated so the line could be cut and abandoned.

A 24-hour period will be required for the concrete to set to provide a suitable surface for the blacktop, Ross said.

"Tack coating" includes spraying the roadway with a thin asphaltic oil and then adding a coating of sand to provide a new adhesive surface for the blacktop, he explained.

3 City Youths Injured In Lower Valley Mishap

Three city youths received minor injuries when their car crashed into a utility pole on Route 2 near Beech Bottom above Wheeling at 2:05 a. m. today, knocking a power transformer to the ground and starting a fire.

Arthur Marshall Jr., 18, Richard Glendenning, 17, and Norman Peterson, 17, all of East Liverpool, were treated at North Wheeling Hospital for lacerations and abrasions and released.

Marshall told deputies he fell asleep at the wheel of the car while driving south, and it veered off the road and hit the pole.

The car was a total loss, according to Brooke County deputies.

4 Boys Stage Tarzan Act On Chester Bridge

Four adventuresome youths scrambled back up the framework of the Chester Bridge Monday night after crawling down to the first pier, creating concern for their safety.

Police and firemen said the four boys, between 10 and 14, had climbed down onto the pier but climbed back onto the bridge after police had been told of their predicament.

Firemen rushed the emergency truck to the bridge at 7:24 p. m. but found the youths had returned safely. The 20-minute delay in returning to Central Station apparently was a "lecture period" for the youths.

Going To The Dogs

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Mary Lieblich, 49, was awarded custody of the family dachshund at a predivorce hearing Monday. But her salesman husband, Ernest, 45, was granted visitation rights.

Alliance Youth Dies In Crash

SALEM — A 20-year-old Alliance youth became Columbiana County's 22nd traffic victim of 1959 when his sedan slammed under an overhanging load of lumber on a truck on Route 62 close to the Stark County line at 11:25 Monday night.

George Saunier was dead on arrival at Alliance City Hospital, where two other youths in his car are listed in "fair" condition today with injuries suffered in the crash.

The State Highway Patrol at Lisbon said Saunier's car struck a lumber truck stopped sideways in the road, and the top of the 1957 sedan was sheared off as the auto passed under the extended load of lumber. Saunier suffered multiple fractures of the skull.

The auto plunged on down the road, veered into a service station, hitting a gasoline pump and a corner of the station, then went back out onto the road where it halted.

Gary Green, 16, of Alliance, passenger in the car, suffered a fractured left arm and abrasions of the face and chest, and Robert James, 18, also of Alliance and a passenger, suffered multiple lacerations of the chest and face.

The truck was driven by James Traister, 21, of Alliance, who was headed east, but had turned north to drive the 1955 truck back into the city.

Saunier's body was removed to the Myers Funeral Home at Alliance where services are incomplete.

The death was the 22nd county road fatality this year compared to 12 this time last year.

It is possible to produce two sounds in such a way that one sound will neutralize the other, and the result will be total silence.

Law To Aid Schools

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — Alabama has a new law to help ward off court - ordered integration. Gov. John Patterson signed it Thursday. It enabled a school in danger of being desegregated to pull out of city, county and state school systems and form its own independent district.

Edgar Spring, Inc., of New Philadelphia, is scheduled to begin "tack coating" the street Friday following completion of work by the city water department in relocating a 12-inch water main.

The water department is scheduled to finish installing a new valve on the line, which eventually will be moved to the hillside above the slip on the "Hill Rd." today and tomorrow will backfill and concrete two ditches excavated so the line could be cut and abandoned.

A 24-hour period will be required for the concrete to set to provide a suitable surface for the blacktop, Ross said.

"Tack coating" includes spraying the roadway with a thin asphaltic oil and then adding a coating of sand to provide a new adhesive surface for the blacktop, he explained.

3 City Youths Injured In Lower Valley Mishap

Three city youths received minor injuries when their car crashed into a utility pole on Route 2 near Beech Bottom above Wheeling at 2:05 a. m. today, knocking a power transformer to the ground and starting a fire.

Arthur Marshall Jr., 18, Richard Glendenning, 17, and Norman Peterson, 17, all of East Liverpool, were treated at North Wheeling Hospital for lacerations and abrasions and released.

Marshall told deputies he fell asleep at the wheel of the car while driving south, and it veered off the road and hit the pole.

The car was a total loss, according to Brooke County deputies.

4 Boys Stage Tarzan Act On Chester Bridge

Four adventuresome youths scrambled back up the framework of the Chester Bridge Monday night after crawling down to the first pier, creating concern for their safety.

Police and firemen said the four boys, between 10 and 14, had climbed down onto the pier but climbed back onto the bridge after police had been told of their predicament.

Firemen rushed the emergency truck to the bridge at 7:24 p. m. but found the youths had returned safely. The 20-minute delay in returning to Central Station apparently was a "lecture period" for the youths.

Going To The Dogs

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Mary Lieblich, 49, was awarded custody of the family dachshund at a pre-divorce hearing Monday. But her salesman husband, Ernest, 45, was granted visitation rights.

Alliance Youth Dies In Crash

SALEM — A 20-year-old Alliance youth became Columbiana County's 22nd traffic victim of 1959 when his sedan slammed under an overhanging load of lumber on a truck on Route 62 close to the Stark County line at 11:25 Monday night.

George Saunier was dead on arrival at Alliance City Hospital, where two other youths in his car are listed in "fair" condition today with injuries suffered in the crash.

The State Highway Patrol at Lisbon said Saunier's car struck a lumber truck stopped sideways in the road, and the top of the 1957 sedan was sheared off as the auto passed under the extended load of lumber. Saunier suffered multiple fractures of the skull.

The auto plunged on down the road, veered into a service station, hitting a gasoline pump and a corner of the station, then went back out onto the road where it halted.

Gary Green, 16, of Alliance, passenger in the car, suffered a fractured left arm and abrasions of the face and chest, and Robert James, 18, also of Alliance and a passenger, suffered multiple lacerations of the chest and face.

The truck was driven by James Traister, 21, of Alliance, who was headed east, but had turned north to drive the 1955 truck back into the city.

Saunier's body was removed to the Myers Funeral Home at Alliance where services are incomplete.

The death was the 22nd county road fatality this year compared to 12 this time last year.

It is possible to produce two sounds in such a way that one sound will neutralize the other, and the result will be total silence.

Law To Aid Schools

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — Alabama has a new law to help ward off court - ordered integration. Gov. John Patterson signed it Thursday. It enabled a school in danger of being desegregated to pull out of city, county and state school systems and form its own independent district.

700 Attend Water Safety Show Here

Judge Louis Tobin stressed the advantages of the Red Cross free water safety program to some 700 spectators during the annual Water Show Saturday night at Thompson Park pool.

Alton West served as master of ceremonies for the event, which climaxed the summer instruction program and graduated 71 more swimmers. Jack Frontone, water safety director, previously awarded certificates to more than 300 residents.

The invocation was given by the Rev. Marvin C. Bowman Jr., pastor of the Calcutta United Presbyterian Church.

—:—

HIGHLIGHTS OF the show were life-saving rescues enacted by Jim Martin, Vicki Smith, Joe Burke and Susan Miller.

Diving from the high board were Dave Dopler, 1½ front flip; Joe Burke, jack knife; Dave Schneider, swan; Phil Irwin, Jr., grappling hook; Fritz Eckert, jack knife.

Racing front drives were performed by Jim Martin, Joe Burke, Dave Schneider and Phil Irwin Jr. Bill Cowles executed a back dive.

Additional participants in the group events and finale were Janet Birch, Bruce Birch, Judy Broadbent, Fred Crossen, Marcia Emmerling, Jim Hall, Pat Inglese, Larry Johnson and Dick Marshall.

Jane Miller, Mike McMahon, Hugh Nile, Billi Smith, Mary Smith, Chuck Strobel, Paul Talbott, Dave Talbott and Mary Jo Williamson.

Frontone extended instruction periods for two weeks beyond the original schedule because of the response to the program. The director and 12 assistant instructors held classes for more than 400 participants, compared with 148 in 1958.

—:—

ARRANGEMENTS for the water safety program and carnival were under the supervision of the Water Safety Committee comprised of Mrs. R. J. Schiff, chairman; Mrs. Charles Waggoner, Alvin Arner, Fire Chief Charles Bryan and James Walker.

Frontone expressed gratification that the program had been received so enthusiastically by the public and expressed regret that, even with the extended schedule, some community residents were not able to get instruction due to the large number of registrants.

The 71 who completed the last session included 35 beginners, 12 intermediates, four Junior life-saving students, 16 adult beginners and 4 adult intermediates.

Beginners—Jim Laughlin, Ralph Sheets, Carol Prescott, Cindy Ward, Dennis Cataldo, Marlene Zirkle, Emma Jean Osborne, Pat Looman, John Richman, David Miller, Donald Nulph, Tom Harmon.

Kenny Smith, John Nolan, David Rockenhouser, Jill Marquette, Judy Marquette, Lois Hasala, Steve Crowder, Jennifer Jacob, Terry Fox, Lois Roush, Jimmy Sherwood, Geoffry Lowe, Tom Mayers.

Charlotte Stutler, George McCullough Tyme, Sue Stone, James Grove, Tommy Hanselman, Sue Talbott, Bruce Wellington, Anberry Brown, Pattie Malone and Kathy Purton.

Intermediate swimmers — Virginia Hasala, Judy Ibbs, Rosie Nolan, Bob Ibbs, Gary Stutler, James Smith, Kathy Jacob, John Marquette, Jane Snow, Sue Crowe, Jeanette Grove and Nancy Baker.

Adult beginners — Marie Schuman, Norma Stone, Eleanor Jolly, Loretta Cubberly, Kate Prodonovich, Nellie Figley, Anna Watkin, Shirley Burton, Kate Donahue, Jean Hanselman, Margaret Locke, Margaret Clutter, Dale Frederick and Amanda Frederick.

Junior life saving — Paul Talbott, John McShane, Hugh Nile and Mike McMahen; adult intermediate—Corky Hindman, Genvieve Heaton, Doris Locke and Doris Freeman.

McElroy Pledges Thorough Job

'Hard-Hitting' Probe Due Into Stark County's Vice

CANTON, Ohio (AP) — Atty. Gen. Mark McElroy promised a "thorough and hard-hitting" investigation of Stark County vice conditions after a two-hour session with grand jurors. He said the panel felt there was collaboration between gambling and law enforcement officials in the county.

McElroy, making his third appearance in Canton since Gov. Michael V. DiSalle requested he investigate the need for a special grand jury, met informally Monday with the jurors.

"They all seemed to think, while the present grand jury has no direct evidence to corroborate their suspicions, that the recent bombings and the confiscating of 60 tons of gambling equipment suggested gambling was syndicated and organized and obviously collaborating with law enforcement officials," McElroy said.

McElroy said the jurors gave him these impressions:

"That none of this gambling could operate if there was proper and strong police enforcement throughout the county.

"That the jury was convinced that there had been extensive gambling operations in the county for many years—but that, generally, the citizenry condoned it.

"That there was much concern regarding recent bombings as they might affect wives and children.

"That possibly state legislation was needed."

McElroy said the grand jury, which ends its four-month term at the close of the month, asked for the opportunity to meet with him. The attorney general added:

"I assured the grand jury that the results of our investigation would be presented to a special grand jury in conformity with the governor's statutory request to me; that the investigation would be as thorough and hard-hitting as my staff could make it."

Legion Appoints Committees For Memorial, Membership

Two committees were appointed by William Martin, commander of Chester American Legion Post 121, at a meeting Monday night.

Charles Morris was named chairman of a committee to make plans for a permanent memorial to local veterans. Sayre Graham, John Stoy, Willliam Maple and Harold Dickey were appointed to the committee.

Warren Jones was named chairman of a membership committee which includes Morrell Yost, Stanley Smusz and Wayne Pollard.

Harry Abrams, president of the Locust Hill Cemetery Association, presented to the post a deed for a plot at the cemetery for veterans' graves adjacent to the present post plot. A resolution of appreciation was passed.

Plans were made to extend the asphalt roadway at the cemetery plot to the new section.

A resolution was also passed honoring Morris, recently named head of the West Virginia 40 & 8 Society. A homecoming celebration for Morris will be held Oct. 3 at the post home.

A contribution of $25 was authorized for the East Liverpool Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 66 drill team for its trip to Los Angeles to compete in a national drill contest.

Ernest John was appointed parliamentarian.

John Corcoran, activities chairman, said a bus has been chartered to take members to a Pittsburgh Pirate baseball game Friday. The annual Field Day will be held Saturday at Tomlinson Run State Park.

Corcoran said plans are being made for a Halloween dance and dinner-dances in the winter.

Martin said two meetings are to be held next month—Sept. 14 and Sept. 28.

Refreshments were served by Al West, Karl Samples, Corcoran, Jed Spencer, Tony Amedeo, Robert Johnson and Martin.

McDonald Will Speak At Youngstown Rally

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — David J. McDonald, president of the United Steelworkers of America, is scheduled to speak in Stambaugh Auditorium here Wednesday afternoon to discuss "the real strike issues."

McDonald has dropped out of negotiation sessions in New York this week, along with the union's general counsel, Arthur J. Goldberg, and is touring strike-bound cities.

James P. Griffin, director of the USW's District 26 which includes 55,000 union members in Mahoning, Trumbull, Ashtabula and Columbiana Counties, said newsmen are invited to the meeting. His invitation to hear McDonald speak went to local union officers, grievance committeemen, members of various union committees, shop stewards and other active and interested members.

7 Speeders Fined $10 After Route 2 Arrests

NEW CUMBERLAND — Seven area persons were fined $10 and costs each Monday by Squire John D. Herron after being cited earlier by West Virginia State Police in a speed check on Route 2.

State Police from Weirton used a new electronics device called a "Speed-O-Meter" in issuing a host of citations to area drivers south of New Cumberland.

Fined were: James Waggle, 27, of Chester; Martin Burksey, 26, Garnel Early, 17, and Donald Freshour, 17, all of Weirton; Frank Domladovac, 57, of Smiths Ferry, Madlyn Rosche, 35, of Steubenville, and Samuel Wain, 20, of New Cumberland.

Khrushchev Is Invited To Tour Pennsylvania

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP)—Gov. David L. Lawrence has asked Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev to tour Pennsylvania when he visits this country next month. Lawrence's invitation is being taken to Moscow by James R. Doran, editor of the Harrisburg Patriot-News.

Gen. A. H. Stackpole, making arrangements for a penthatholon, earlier issued a similar invitation to Khrushchev to attend the games which will be held Sept. 25-30 at Hershey.

In a letter to the Soviet chief, Lawrence noted that Russian athletes would be participating in the games.

The governor also said "we would want you to view our industrial facilities, our farms, our social institutions and our public buildings. You will find a tour of the type that I have in mind most instructional and most rewarding."

Nearly one-third of the 1,400,000 population of Northern Ireland live in the capital, Belfast.

Aide Named For Constable Of St. Clair

Appointment of Harry Skelton of Grimms Bridge Rd. as an assistant St. Clair Township constable was approved Monday night after Constable John Jackson said he needed aid.

Jackson said he has received many calls for police service in the Grimms Bridge area, and he is unable to serve the many sections of the township by himself.

Skelton, who operates a store, has offered to serve and his appointment is effective until Jan. 1. Clarence Blosser is the other township constable.

A legislative provision for a full-time police officer for townships was reviewed by Dr. A. J. Cloran of Calcutta, who said the bill was passed by both houses of the General Assembly. He said the bill enables the trustees to place on the ballot a levy for such police protection.

The police levy would provide for a fulltime officer, a cruiser and equipment. The trustees pointed out it is too late to place such an issue on the November ballot, but will take the plan under study for possible use next year.

The trustees approved a resolution requesting county commissioners to have the Ohio Public Utilities Commission investigate the use of the Calcutta-Cannons Mills Rd. by heavy trucks. The use of a county road may be prohibited by certain PUCO permits.

Eight residents of Mud Ln. in Calcutta were advised the street will be placed on the five - year road improvement program in 1960. The program calls for oil treatment for the first two years, and a blade mix for the following three years.

The group said the actual name of the street is Cricket Ln. but there is a plan under way to have a different name.

Dick Smith of Milton St. reported a clogged sewer near his home. Bob Trotter of the Old Fredericktown Rd. requested hauling of 15 loads of red dog for the hill of the road for which he will pay.

Permission was received from Harry Torrence of Bloomfield Rd. to crown his driveway to prevent water from draining onto the roadway.

The budget for 1960 was tentatively approved at $34,000, about the same as last year. A public hearing on the budget was slated for Aug. 24.

Weirton Traffic Death Ruled As Accidental

WEIRTON — A coroner's jury Monday ruled as accidental the traffic death of Ernest A. Manack Jr., 41, who was struck by an auto on Cove Hill Rd., Sunday night.

Driver of the auto was Lester Cooper Jr., 20, of near Paris, Pa. Mr. Manack was Hancock County's fifth traffic fatality of 1959. The inquest was conducted by Squire John D. Herron of New Cumberland.

He is survived by his widow, Harriett, two sons, Ernest Manack III, and Michael Joseph, and a daughter, Virginia H. Manack, all at home; and his mother, Ferne Huff Manack of New Cumberland.

He was a member of St. Joseph's Catholic Church.

A High Mass of Requiem will be sung at the church Thursday morning at 11 with Fr. James Altmeyer as celebrant. Burial will be in the New Cumberland Cemetery. Friends are being received at the Greco-Hertnick Funeral Home in Weirton.

Area Counties Are Listed In Layoff Report

CHARLESTON (AP) — The steel strike during its first 22 days caused more than 4,000 workers outside the industry itself to be laid off in West Virginia.

The Department of Employment Security put the exact number as of Aug. 5 at 4,013. It had no figures on the steelworkers themselves, since they are not eligible for jobless benefits.

Miners have been hardest hit by the strike. All told, 3,119 of them were laid off.

At the request of the U. S. Department of Labor, the department made a special survey of the Wheeling - Steubenville metropolitan area, the center of steel production hereabouts.

It showed that as of July 31 there had been 465 layoffs attributed to secondary effects of the strike. Non-manufacturing accounted for 395 of these. Of that number, 200 were in transportation, communications and utility operations.

The special survey will be repeated at two-week intervals. It covers six counties. Two are in Ohio—Belmont and Jefferson—and four in West Virginia—Ohio, Hancock, Brooke and Marshall.

The department said that the secondary effects of the strike were following the pattern anticipated, with the coal industry being hit right away and the service and trade industries later, as purchasing power fell off.

House Fire Kills 2 Boys Playing With Matches

SAN FAFAEL, Calif. (AP)—Two little boys played with matches in a basement room Monday. They burned the house down and died screaming in the flames.

Dead were Robert and Rocky Wilson, aged 3 and 2, youngest of the eight children of Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow H. Wilson.

A playmate, Barbara Stevens, 9, told police the boys were striking matches, then stamping them out.

Barbara escaped from the basement, which had only one exit.

Closed-Door Hearings Are Held On UAW

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate probers start closed door hearings today on Walter Reuther's United Auto Workers, with Reuther demanding that the public be admitted.

The hearings have heavy political overtones. They were billed as a preliminary inquiry demanded by the Republican members of the committee on their allegations of corrupt or improper practices by some of Reuther's subordinates. The UAW usually supports Democratic candidates.

The committee is composed of four Republicans and four Democrats, including Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass), a likely contender for his party's presidential nomination next year.

Reuther made public a telegram to the committee chairman, John L. McClellan (D-Ark), demanding that the doors be opened. He accused its Republican members of scheming to use the inquiry as a device to smear his union.

McClellan told a reporter he personally would be reluctant to make it a public hearing until he knew more about it. He said the Republican members never have told him the full nature and scope of evidence they plan to produce.

The investigation had been announced by the Republicans as designed to explore the affairs of Richard T. Gosser, senior international vice president of the UAW; Peter Zvara, a former international representative; and some other past and present UAW officials.

The Republicans have charged there is evidence of improper handling of flower funds raised by UAW members.

How to deal with your tensions

If your tensions sometimes make you worried or irritable or upset, you're not alone!

In today's complex world, nearly all of us have minor emotional problems from time to time. And at present one out of every ten Americans has a problem so serious he or she needs medical attention. For these people, modern treatment offers great hope for complete recovery.

As for the rest of us, our problems don't need medical attention, but they do keep us from enjoying life as much as we should. They do make us, and those around us, unhappy much of the time.

To help each of us learn how to control our own tensions, a prominent psychiatrist has written a booklet called "How To Deal With Your Tensions". In it, he lists a number of proven suggestions that can help you keep your tensions from getting the best of you, and thus live a happier, fuller life.

Alton West served as master of ceremonies for the event, which climaxed the summer instruction program and graduated 71 more swimmers. Jack Frontone, water safety director, previously awarded certificates to more than 300 residents.

The invocation was given by the Rev. Marvin C. Bowman Jr., pastor of the Calcutta United Presbyterian Church.

—:—

HIGHLIGHTS OF the show were life-saving rescues enacted by Jim Martin, Vicki Smith, Joe Burke and Susan Miller.

Diving from the high board were Dave Dopler, 1½ front flip; Joe Burke, jack knife; Dave Schneider, swan; Phil Irwin, Jr., grappling hook; Fritz Eckert, jack knife.

Racing front drives were performed by Jim Martin, Joe Burke, Dave Schneider and Phil Irwin Jr. Bill Cowles executed a back dive.

Additional participants in the group events and finale were Janet Birch, Bruce Birch, Judy Broadbent, Fred Crossen, Marcia Emmerling, Jim Hall, Pat Inglese, Larry Johnson and Dick Marshall.

Jane Miller, Mike McMahon, Hugh Nile, Billi Smith, Mary Smith, Chuck Strobel, Paul Talbott, Dave Talbott and Mary Jo Williamson.

Frontone extended instruction periods for two weeks beyond the original schedule because of the response to the program. The director and 12 assistant instructors held classes for more than 400 participants, compared with 148 in 1958.

—:—

ARRANGEMENTS for the water safety program and carnival were under the supervision of the Water Safety Committee comprised of Mrs. R. J. Schiff, chairman; Mrs. Charles Waggoner, Alvin Arner, Fire Chief Charles Bryan and James Walker.

Frontone expressed gratification that the program had been received so enthusiastically by the public and expressed regret that, even with the extended schedule, some community residents were not able to get instruction due to the large number of registrants.

The 71 who completed the last session included 35 beginners, 12 intermediates, four Junior life-saving students, 16 adult beginners and 4 adult intermediates.

Beginners—Jim Laughlin, Ralph Sheets, Carol Prescott, Cindy Ward, Dennis Cataldo, Marlene Zirkle, Emma Jean Osborne, Pat Looman, John Richman, David Miller, Donald Nulph, Tom Harmon.

Charlotte Stutler, George McCullough Tyme, Sue Stone, James Grove, Tommy Hanselman, Sue Talbott, Bruce Wellington, Anberry Brown, Pattie Malone and Kathy Purton.

Intermediate swimmers — Virginia Hasala, Judy Ibbs, Rosie Nolan, Bob Ibbs, Gary Stutler, James Smith, Kathy Jacob, John Marquette, Jane Snow, Sue Crowe, Jeanette Grove and Nancy Baker.

Adult beginners — Marie Schuman, Norma Stone, Eleanor Jolly, Loretta Cubberly, Kate Prodonovich, Nellie Figley, Anna Watkin, Shirley Burton, Kate Donahue, Jean Hanselman, Margaret Locke, Margaret Clutter, Dale Frederick and Amanda Frederick.

Junior life saving — Paul Talbott, John McShane, Hugh Nile and Mike McMahen; adult intermediate—Corky Hindman, Genvieve Heaton, Doris Locke and Doris Freeman.

McElroy Pledges Thorough Job

'Hard-Hitting' Probe Due Into Stark County's Vice

CANTON, Ohio (AP) — Atty. Gen. Mark McElroy promised a "thorough and hard-hitting" investigation of Stark County vice conditions after a two-hour session with grand jurors. He said the panel felt there was collaboration between gambling and law enforcement officials in the county.

McElroy, making his third appearance in Canton since Gov. Michael V. DiSalle requested he investigate the need for a special grand jury, met informally Monday with the jurors.

"They all seemed to think, while the present grand jury has no direct evidence to corroborate their suspicions, that the recent bombings and the confiscating of 60 tons of gambling equipment suggested gambling was syndicated and organized and obviously collaborating with law enforcement officials," McElroy said.

McElroy said the jurors gave him these impressions:

"That none of this gambling could operate if there was proper and strong police enforcement throughout the county.

"That the jury was convinced that there had been extensive gambling operations in the county for many years—but that, generally, the citizenry condoned it.

"That there was much concern regarding recent bombings as they might affect wives and children.

"That possibly state legislation was needed."

McElroy said the grand jury, which ends its four-month term at the close of the month, asked for the opportunity to meet with him. The attorney general added:

"I assured the grand jury that the results of our investigation would be presented to a special grand jury in conformity with the governor's statutory request to me; that the investigation would be as thorough and hard-hitting as my staff could make it."

Legion Appoints Committees For Memorial, Membership

Two committees were appointed by William Martin, commander of Chester American Legion Post 121, at a meeting Monday night.

Charles Morris was named chairman of a committee to make plans for a permanent memorial to local veterans. Sayre Graham, John Stoy, Willliam Maple and Harold Dickey were appointed to the committee.

Warren Jones was named chairman of a membership committee which includes Morrell Yost, Stanley Smusz and Wayne Pollard.

Harry Abrams, president of the Locust Hill Cemetery Association, presented to the post a deed for a plot at the cemetery for veterans' graves adjacent to the present post plot. A resolution of appreciation was passed.

Plans were made to extend the asphalt roadway at the cemetery plot to the new section.

A resolution was also passed honoring Morris, recently named head of the West Virginia 40 & 8 Society. A homecoming celebration for Morris will be held Oct. 3 at the post home.

A contribution of $25 was authorized for the East Liverpool Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 66 drill team for its trip to Los Angeles to compete in a national drill contest.

Ernest John was appointed parliamentarian.

John Corcoran, activities chairman, said a bus has been chartered to take members to a Pittsburgh Pirate baseball game Friday. The annual Field Day will be held Saturday at Tomlinson Run State Park.

Corcoran said plans are being made for a Halloween dance and dinner-dances in the winter.

Martin said two meetings are to be held next month—Sept. 14 and Sept. 28.

Refreshments were served by Al West, Karl Samples, Corcoran, Jed Spencer, Tony Amedeo, Robert Johnson and Martin.

McDonald Will Speak At Youngstown Rally

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — David J. McDonald, president of the United Steelworkers of America, is scheduled to speak in Stambaugh Auditorium here Wednesday afternoon to discuss "the real strike issues."

McDonald has dropped out of negotiation sessions in New York this week, along with the union's general counsel, Arthur J. Goldberg, and is touring strike-bound cities.

James P. Griffin, director of the USW's District 26 which includes 55,000 union members in Mahoning, Trumbull, Ashtabula and Columbiana Counties, said newsmen are invited to the meeting. His invitation to hear McDonald speak went to local union officers, grievance committeemen, members of various union committees, shop stewards and other active and interested members.

7 Speeders Fined $10 After Route 2 Arrests

NEW CUMBERLAND — Seven area persons were fined $10 and costs each Monday by Squire John D. Herron after being cited earlier by West Virginia State Police in a speed check on Route 2.

State Police from Weirton used a new electronics device called a "Speed-O-Meter" in issuing a host of citations to area drivers south of New Cumberland.

Fined were: James Waggle, 27, of Chester; Martin Burksey, 26, Garnel Early, 17, and Donald Freshour, 17, all of Weirton; Frank Domladovac, 57, of Smiths Ferry, Madlyn Rosche, 35, of Steubenville, and Samuel Wain, 20, of New Cumberland.

If your family uses a fair amount of salad oil, you may find large-size bottles priced thriftily.

Khrushchev Is Invited To Tour Pennsylvania

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP)—Gov. David L. Lawrence has asked Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev to tour Pennsylvania when he visits this country next month. Lawrence's invitation is being taken to Moscow by James R. Doran, editor of the Harrisburg Patriot-News.

Gen. A. H. Stackpole, making arrangements for a penthatholon, earlier issued a similar invitation to Khrushchev to attend the games which will be held Sept. 25-30 at Hershey.

In a letter to the Soviet chief, Lawrence noted that Russian athletes would be participating in the games.

The governor also said "we would want you to view our industrial facilities, our farms, our social institutions and our public buildings. You will find a tour of the type that I have in mind most instructional and most rewarding."

Nearly one-third of the 1,400,000 population of Northern Ireland live in the capital, Belfast.

Aide Named For Constable Of St. Clair

Appointment of Harry Skelton of Grimms Bridge Rd. as an assistant St. Clair Township constable was approved Monday night after Constable John Jackson said he needed aid.

Jackson said he has received many calls for police service in the Grimms Bridge area, and he is unable to serve the many sections of the township by himself.

Skelton, who operates a store, has offered to serve and his appointment is effective until Jan. 1. Clarence Blosser is the other township constable.

A legislative provision for a fulltime police officer for townships was reviewed by Dr. A. J. Cloran of Calcutta, who said the bill was passed by both houses of the General Assembly. He said the bill enables the trustees to place on the ballot a levy for such police protection.

The police levy would provide for a fulltime officer, a cruiser and equipment. The trustees pointed out it is too late to place such an issue on the November ballot, but will take the plan under study for possible use next year.

The trustees approved a resolution requesting county commissioners to have the Ohio Public Utilities Commission investigate the use of the Calcutta-Cannons Mills Rd. by heavy trucks. The use of a county road may be prohibited by certain PUCO permits.

Eight residents of Mud Ln. in Calcutta were advised the street will be placed on the five - year road improvement program in 1960. The program calls for oil treatment for the first two years, and a blade mix for the following three years.

The group said the actual name of the street is Cricket Ln. but there is a plan under way to have a different name.

Dick Smith of Milton St. reported a clogged sewer near his home. Bob Trotter of the Old Fredericktown Rd. requested hauling of 15 loads of red dog for the hill of the road for which he will pay.

Permission was received from Harry Torrence of Bloomfield Rd. to crown his driveway to prevent water from draining onto the roadway.

The budget for 1960 was tentatively approved at $34,000, about the same as last year. A public hearing on the budget was slated for Aug. 24.

Weirton Traffic Death Ruled As Accidental

WEIRTON — A coroner's jury Monday ruled as accidental the traffic death of Ernest A. Manack Jr., 41, who was struck by an auto on Cove Hill Rd., Sunday night.

Driver of the auto was Lester Cooper Jr., 20, of near Paris, Pa. Mr. Manack was Hancock County's fifth traffic fatality of 1959. The inquest was conducted by Squire John D. Herron of New Cumberland.

He is survived by his widow, Harriett, two sons, Ernest Manack III, and Michael Joseph, and a daughter, Virginia H. Manack, all at home; and his mother, Ferne Huff Manack of New Cumberland.

He was a member of St. Joseph's Catholic Church.

A High Mass of Requiem will be sung at the church Thursday morning at 11 with Fr. James Altmeyer as celebrant. Burial will be in the New Cumberland Cemetery. Friends are being received at the Greco-Hertnick Funeral Home in Weirton.

Area Counties Are Listed In Layoff Report

CHARLESTON (AP) — The steel strike during its first 22 days caused more than 4,000 workers outside the industry itself to be laid off in West Virginia.

The Department of Employment Security put the exact number as of Aug. 5 at 4,013. It had no figures on the steelworkers themselves, since they are not eligible for jobless benefits.

Miners have been hardest hit by the strike. All told, 3,119 of them were laid off.

At the request of the U. S. Department of Labor, the department made a special survey of the Wheeling - Steubenville metropolitan area, the center of steel production hereabouts.

It showed that as of July 31 there had been 465 layoffs attributed to secondary effects of the strike. Non-manufacturing accounted for 395 of these. Of that number, 200 were in transportation, communications and utility operations.

The special survey will be repeated at two-week intervals. It covers six counties. Two are in Ohio—Belmont and Jefferson—and four in West Virginia—Ohio, Hancock, Brooke and Marshall.

The department said that the secondary effects of the strike were following the pattern anticipated, with the coal industry being hit right away and the service and trade industries later, as purchasing power fell off.

House Fire Kills 2 Boys Playing With Matches

SAN FAFAEL, Calif. (AP)—Two little boys played with matches in a basement room Monday. They burned the house down and died screaming in the flames.

Dead were Robert and Rocky Wilson, aged 3 and 2, youngest of the eight children of Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow H. Wilson.

A playmate, Barbara Stevens, 9, told police the boys were striking matches, then stamping them out.

Barbara escaped from the basement, which had only one exit.

Closed-Door Hearings Are Held On UAW

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate probers start closed door hearings today on Walter Reuther's United Auto Workers, with Reuther demanding that the public be admitted.

The hearings have heavy political overtones. They were billed as a preliminary inquiry demanded by the Republican members of the committee on their allegations of corrupt or improper practices by some of Reuther's subordinates. The UAW usually supports Democratic candidates.

The committee is composed of four Republicans and four Democrats, including Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass), a likely contender for his party's presidential nomination next year.

Reuther made public a telegram to the committee chairman, John L. McClellan (D-Ark), demanding that the doors be opened. He accused its Republican members of scheming to use the inquiry as a device to smear his union.

McClellan told a reporter he personally would be reluctant to make it a public hearing until he knew more about it. He said the Republican members never have told him the full nature and scope of evidence they plan to produce.

The investigation had been announced by the Republicans as designed to explore the affairs of Richard T. Gosser, senior international vice president of the UAW; Peter Zvara, a former international representative; and some other past and present UAW officials.

The Republicans have charged there is evidence of improper handling of flower funds raised by UAW members.

How to deal with your tensions

If your tensions sometimes make you worried or irritable or upset, you're not alone!

In today's complex world, nearly all of us have minor emotional problems from time to time. And at present one out of every ten Americans has a problem so serious he or she needs medical attention. For these people, modern treatment offers great hope for complete recovery.

As for the rest of us, our problems don't need medical attention, but they do keep us from enjoying life as much as we should. They do make us, and those around us, unhappy much of the time.

To help each of us learn how to control our own tensions, a prominent psychiatrist has written a booklet called "How To Deal With Your Tensions". In it, he lists a number of proven suggestions that can help you keep your tensions from getting the best of you, and thus live a happier, fuller life.

Miss Marjorie Lou Evans, Gary Gibbs Exchange Vows

MRS GARY GIBBS

Miss Marjorie Lou Evans carried a white satin-covered prayer book given her at baptism by her godmother, the late Miss Agnes Cleland, at her marriage to Gary K. Gibbs, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Gibbs, 205 5th St., Chester, on Aug. 1 at 2:30 o'clock in the sanctuary of St. Stephen's Episcopal Church.

The Rev. Marc Anton Nocerino, rector, officiated for the double-ring ceremony before an altar banked with white carnations, palms and seven-branch candelabra.

Mrs. Jane Neiser Rife, church organist, gave a quarter-hour of traditional wedding music and Miss Mary Sue Rolley sang "O, Perfect Love" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robley Evans, 713 North St., was escorted and given in marriage by her father. She wore a floor-length gown of Chantilly lace over taffeta. The fitted bodice was fashioned with a scalloped scoop neckline and cap sleeves.

The bouffant skirt, worn over hoops and net and taffeta underskirts, was formed of eight tiers of tulle ruffles edged in Chantilly lace. Her pearl and sequin trimmed lace cap held a fingertip veil of French illusion edged in Chantilly lace from her sister's wedding veil.

She wore net elbow-length mitts, single-strand pearls with matching earrings and observed the familiar bridal customs, including a six-pence in her shoe. White orchids, roses, stephanotis and satin streamers tied in lover's knots formed her prayer book arrangement.

Mrs. Joyce Sutton of Avon Lake, Cleveland, was her sister's matron of honor and wore a waltz-length gown of minuet-blue taffeta. She carried a Colonial bouquet of white roses and tinted-blue carnations tied with matching streamers.

Miss Doris Carroll and Mrs. Nancy Downard were bridesmaids and appeared in party-lilac taffeta gowns identical to that of the matron of honors. Their Colonial bouquets were formed of white roses and lilac-color carnations with matching streamers. All the attendants wore matching taffeta headbands holding circular veils. The gloves and crystal necklace and earrings sets were gifts of the bride.

Ronald Gibbs of Chester served as his brother's best man and ushers were Jack Downard and Eric Flaherty. They were presented with initialed cufflink sets by the bridegroom.

The mother of the bride chose a blue dress of silk organza with white accessories and a white rose corsage. The bridegroom's mother was attired in a toast embroidered silk organza dress with matching accessories and a pink rose corsage.

A reception followed in the Parish House with members of St. Stephen's Guild serving the refreshments. The four-tier cake on separators and topped with a bridal couple was cut by Mrs. Charles Larcombe, cousin of the bride. Carnations and fernery encircled the cake centering the buffet table covered with white net over a pink cloth.

The bride is a graduate of East Liverpool High School and is employed at the American Paper Products Co. in Boardman.

Her husband is a graduate of Chester High School and the Coyne Electrical School of Chicago and is an electronics repairman for the Weirton Steel Co. He served two years with the Army as an instructor at Ft. Monmouth, N. J.

For her honeymoon to New York City, the bride wore a mint-green dress with matching accessories and her bridal orchids.

They are residing in a newly-furnished apartment on 4th St., Chester.

Out-of-town guests were from Moundsville, Charleston and Eighty-Four, Pa.

Parents of the bridegroom entertained with a rehearsal party the evening preceding the wedding.

Personals

Mr. and Mrs. James Wilson and sons, Jay and Jerry, of Painesville are visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Wilson of Center St., and the Rev. and Mrs. Clark Allison of Lisbon St.

Miss Marjorie Lou Evans, Gary Gibbs Exchange Vows

MRS GARY GIBBS

Miss Marjorie Lou Evans carried a white satin-covered prayer book given her at baptism by her godmother, the late Miss Agnes Cleland, at her marriage to Gary K. Gibbs, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Gibbs, 205 5th St., Chester, on Aug. 1 at 2:30 o'clock in the sanctuary of St. Stephen's Episcopal Church.

The Rev. Marc Anton Nocerino, rector, officiated for the double-ring ceremony before an altar banked with white carnations, palms and seven-branch candelabra.

Mrs. Jane Neiser Rife, church organist, gave a quarter-hour of traditional wedding music and Miss Mary Sue Rolley sang "O, Perfect Love" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robley Evans, 713 North St., was escorted and given in marriage by her father. She wore a floor-length gown of Chantilly lace over taffeta. The fitted bodice was fashioned with a scalloped scoop neckline and cap sleeves.

The bouffant skirt, worn over hoops and net and taffeta underskirts, was formed of eight tiers of tulle ruffles edged in Chantilly lace. Her pearl and sequin trimmed lace cap held a fingertip veil of French illusion edged in Chantilly lace from her sister's wedding veil.

She wore net elbow-length mitts, single-strand pearls with matching earrings and observed the familiar bridal customs, including a six-pence in her shoe. White orchids, roses, stephanotis and satin streamers tied in lover's knots formed her prayer book arrangement.

Mrs. Joyce Sutton of Avon Lake, Cleveland, was her sister's matron of honor and wore a waltz-length gown of minuet-blue taffeta. She carried a Colonial bouquet of white roses and tinted-blue carnations tied with matching streamers.

Miss Doris Carroll and Mrs. Nancy Downard were bridesmaids and appeared in party-lilac taffeta gowns identical to that of the matron of honors. Their Colonial bouquets were formed of white roses and lilac-color carnations with matching streamers. All the attendants wore matching taffeta headbands holding circular veils. The gloves and crystal necklace and earrings sets were gifts of the bride.

Ronald Gibbs of Chester served as his brother's best man and ushers were Jack Downard and Eric Flaherty. They were presented with initialed cufflink sets by the bridegroom.

The mother of the bride chose a blue dress of silk organza with white accessories and a white rose corsage. The bridegroom's mother was attired in a toast embroidered silk organza dress with matching accessories and a pink rose corsage.

A reception followed in the Parish House with members of St. Stephen's Guild serving the refreshments. The four-tier cake on separators and topped with a bridal couple was cut by Mrs. Charles Larcombe, cousin of the bride. Carnations and fernery encircled the cake centering the buffet table covered with white net over a pink cloth.

The bride is a graduate of East Liverpool High School and is employed at the American Paper Products Co. in Boardman.

Her husband is a graduate of Chester High School and the Coyne Electrical School of Chicago and is an electronics repairman for the Weirton Steel Co. He served two years with the Army as an instructor at Ft. Monmouth, N. J.

For her honeymoon to New York City, the bride wore a mint-green dress with matching accessories and her bridal orchids.

They are residing in a newly-furnished apartment on 4th St., Chester.

Out-of-town guests were from Moundsville, Charleston and Eighty-Four, Pa.

Marietta College Gets $30,000 More In Drive

MARIETTA, Ohio (AP)—Marietta College today announced receipt of a $30,000 grant from Union Carbide Corp., as part of the college's 125th anniversary development campaign.

Dr. W. Bay Irvine, college president, said that more than $1,086,000 has been subscribed to the fund drive which began in April. The goal is $1,300,000 to provide for a new library building, a chemistry building, and conversion of the library into an administrative center.

The school observes the 125th anniversary of its charter date next Feb. 14.

Ohio Girl Feels Sure She Will Marry Prince

HONOLULU (AP)—A 22-year-old girl from Pepper Pike, Ohio, a Cleveland suburb, says she is confident that she and Prince Basundhara of Nepal will marry late this year.

Nepalese government officials in New York announced last January that the prince and Lynn Waldron were engaged. Miss Waldron met the prince here again July 23 and they were seen together until he left for Tokyo last Wednesday.

She said Monday that the marriage ceremony will be held both in Ohio and Nepal and that she plans to become a Hindu convert. She's returning to her Ohio home this weekend, she added.

Industrial Conference Under Way At Ironton

IRONTON, Ohio (AP)—Industrial leaders from throughout the nation will gather here today for the summer meeting of the Central Ohio Valley Industrial Council.

The council seeks to attract industry to its area.

Most recipes for braising short ribs (beef) call for water as the liquid but tomato juice makes an excellent substitute.

Fairview Grange Fair Will Open On Wednesday

Industrial exhibits, livestock shows and musical entertainment will feature the free fair of the Fairview Grange of Ohio Township near Midland, which opens Wednesday morning.

Today is registration day.

The Grange will provide a free matinee, including amusement rides, tomorrow afternoon at 2 for wards of the Children's Home at New Brighton.

Tomorrow, the program will feature an appearance by the Sunshine Boys, a gospel quartet seen on area television. The Sunshine Boys will give performances at 8 and 10 p. m. The Barnes Brothers, singers, will also appear.

Entertainment Thursday night includes dancing by pupils of the Rochelle Dance Studio of Midland and the Barnes Brothers. Scheduled Friday night for performances at 8 and 10 are "Doc Williams and His Border Riders".

A horse pulling contest will be held Saturday afternoon at 1. Other entertainment will include the Barnes Brothers and the Rochelle dancers.

A food stand is being operated by the South Beaver Grange. There is free parking.

THANKS TO MODERN MEDICINE

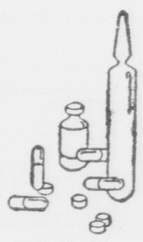

The new school term starts here

First, to the doctor's office for a check-up. Then, and only then, back to school.

It's good to know your children are starting school with a good medical report. There are so many things to watch—growth, diet, energy, eyes, teeth. Your doctor's check-up may be the beginning of a fine school year . . . fortifying your children for the months ahead.

For added assurance, if your doctor hands you a prescription, hand it to Peoples—for prompt, accurate service. And, your prescription is priced with uniform economy.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: What shall I do with an 18-year-old girl who recently had a temper tantrum? She stood in the middle of the living room and screamed at the top of her lungs.

Fortunately, the city was laying a gas main in front of our home and the pneumatic drill was going. If it hadn't been for this stroke of luck the neighbors would have heard her for blocks around.

She had just seen the mail and was turned down by Barnard College. She tore the letter into small pieces and shrieked, "If I'm not accepted by Bennington I may as well get married in September!" I replied, "Not this coming September?" It was then that she let loose those blood-curdling screams.

Her father was present and he said she has a screw loose like his sister. I say it's simply that she's spoiled rotten.

Don't bother to tell me what I should have done when she was 2, Ann Landers. Tell me what to do NOW!—WIT'S END.

Dear Wit's: An 18-year-old who demonstrates such emotional immaturity suggests that Barnard was right.

The performance doesn't mean she has a screw loose. It means she regresses to an infantile level to let off steam.

Ignore her as you would a 2-year-old who has a tantrum. I hope she won't be so foolish as to marry out of sheer frustration if she doesn't get into Bennington. There are many excellent schools looking for students. Girls who marry because "there's nothing better to do" are asking for trouble.

Texas Moocher

Dear Ann: Our daughter married a hard - working Texas boy. The trouble is he thinks everything we have belongs to him.

We have a small grocery store and he comes in three times a week, loads up his car with whatever he wants and says, "Thanks." Sometimes our daughter comes with him and helps him lug sacks full of groceries out of our place.

I wonder if he thinks just because it's on our shelves it's free. Doesn't he realize we have to pay for the merchandise?

We don't want any hard feelings, but we're fed up. Would we be petty to mention it? — THE FOLKS.

-:-

Dear Folks: Tell these two moochers it's not the principle of the thing—it's the money. Offer them whatever they want, at the price you paid. This is plenty generous — and better than they could do anywhere else.

Like Father

Dear Ann: Our 3-year-old son walks exactly like his father. Naturally everyone thinks this is cute as the walk is distinctive and can be spotted a half mile away.

We got into a discussion about this, and my husband said it's strictly a matter of "imitation." I don't agree. My theory is the boy has inherited this characteristic, in the same way he inherited his father's large brown eyes. Who is right? — MOMMA B.

-:-

Dear Momma B.: Children don't inherit a walk in the same way they inherit brown eyes — but you're close. What was inherited is the hip and bone construction which produces that walk.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Electric Saw Injures Man

A Wellsville man cut on an electric saw at home was admitted Monday to City Hospital where eight youngsters and adults were treated following separate mishaps.

Harry Dustman, 60, of 1600 Clark Ave., Wellsville, is in "good" condition with a laceration of the thumb suffered on an electric saw at home yesterday afternoon.

Mary Lou Saling, 13, daughter of Mrs. Gladys Saling, 449 race St., was treated last night for a laceration of the left knee received in a fall off a bicycle.

In a fall from a chair at home, Debra Clark, 17-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Clark of Wellsville, suffered a cut of the upper right arm.

Betty Dougherty, 4, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Dougherty of Georgetown R. D. 1, was treated for a yellow jacket bite of the upper lip.

Linda Speece, 6, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Speece, 310½ Grant St., Newell, received a cut of the left knee in a fall at home while at play.

Struck on the head by a falling venetian blind, Pauline Stacy, 10, daughter of Mrs. Roy Stacy of Bloomfield Rd., suffered a laceration of the scalp.

Richard Merritt, 8, son of Mrs. Alaska Merritt of Florida Ave., Chester, was treated for a cut of the left palm suffered on a broken bottle.

Gerald McElhaney, 19, of 628 Inez Ave., an employe of the Firestone Electric Co. of Salem, suffered a thumb injury from a hammer.

Gene Young, 31, of Ferry Rd., Chester, employe of the Globe Brick Co., suffered an eye irritation when dust blew into his face at work.

Everything's Open To Cars

Youngstown Parking Test Brings Delays, No Big Jam

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — A lot of delays, but no real jams, marked the beginning of Youngstown's parking experiment.

There is virtually no limit to where a motorist may park. Loading zones for busses and trucks can be used. So can both sides of several one-way streets, which used to be limited to parking on one side. The only limits are those specified by state law—for example, no parking in front of a theater, for safety reasons.

And curbside parking is free. The meters are ignored.

This situation resulted from an order issued by Mayor Frank X. Kryzan, who has been feuding with downtown merchants over parking rules.

Monday was the first test. But because it was Monday, some traffic experts felt it was not a complete test. Downtown stores operate from noon to 9 p.m. on Mondays, so the shopping hours do not coincide with customary office hours.

Traffic officials estimated that the new system created about 2,000 extra parking spaces.

By 9 a.m. nearly all the available spaces were filled, mostly by office workers who left their cars in one spot all day.

But by late afternoon spaces were opening up, and there were about the normal number of opportunities for evening shoppers.

An expected jam during the late afternoon rush hour did not materialize.

Commercial parking lots reported that customers were scarce in the morning, but kept them fairly busy in the afternoon.

Because the loading zones were filled with automobiles, a good many trucks had to double park to make deliveries.

Busses also had to load and unload in the street rather than at the curb.

The result was that traffic, particularly on the side streets, was much slower than normal.

Midland Project Progresses

Board Pays Sum On School Work

The Midland Board of Education Monday evening ordered an initial payment of $19,068.30 to the Massa Brothers Construction Co. of Beaver Falls for remodeling to eliminate possible fire hazards at the 1st and 4th St. Schools.

The bill was submitted by Edwin M. Wallover Jr., Beaver Falls architect for the project, on behalf of the company. James Morrison, finance chairman, moved for payment. A balance of $13,126.70 remains.

—:—

ACCORDING TO Ray Keller, maintenance superintendent, remodeling is almost finished at 1st and 4th St. Schools and all, including 7th St. School, are expected to be ready for the opening of classes Sept. 1. Some work at 4th St. may carry over into the new school year.

The remodeling was ordered by the Pennsylvania Department of Labor and Industry and the board let the contract June 8.

The board granted the request of Charles P. Henderson, band director, to allow Lincoln High School's Varsity Marching Band to participate for the sixth year in the band festival Aug. 27 at Kennywood Park.

THE PARK will give $125 towards transportation with students paying the rest on a pro-rated basis. The park will give 4 free tickets to each band member, Henderson said in his request.

Keller reported that lights are being installed at the Midland Heights playground. The board received permission from Midland Heights Home, Inc., to place a pole at the playlot for the lights. A letter was received from Borough Council, announcing its support of the residents' project for lights, fences and supervision for their playground.

Several teachers and custodians were hired on motions by Frank Aloi. Teachers include Phillip Tridico of Chester, social studies, $4,220 a year; Andrew Yobuck of Brownsville, science, $4,010, and Gerald LaValle of Rochester, social studies, $4,010; all effective Aug. 31. LaValle will substitute a year for Howard Thorne.

CUSTODIANS include Mrs. Mary Cestaric, who is being transferred from the high school building to the new gymnasium; Mrs. Sophia Bogeff, from part-time at the library to full-time at the high school building for $252 a month, and Mrs. Daisy Turchich, part-time at the library for $125 a month. Their new jobs are effective Sept. 1.

An order for football lockers from the Berger Division of the Republic Steel Corp. was canceled as the board learned the firm can not deliver them by football season. The board voted on a motion by Samuel Rosatone to award the order to the A. H. Smith Co. of Beaver Falls for $1,299.03.

Audio-visual blinds for three classrooms were approved to be purchased from the Hamilton Awning Co. of Beaver for $208.82.

Miss Bernice Coffin, board secretary, was authorized to advertise for bids to have sewers and drains installed on high school property.

A REQUEST OF Steelworkers Local 1211 of Aliquippa, for the Lincoln band to play there Sept. 7 during a Labor Day parade, was tabled for consideration.

The board agreed to have chains with locks placed across the alley between the new gymnasium building and the high school for the safety of students traveling back and forth. The hazard from vehicles using the alley during school hours was pointed out by Supt. Ralph Jewell.

In answer to a recent request by the board, Council wrote that traffic signs for streets near playgrounds have been ordered and will be put up as soon as possible.

—:—

ON A MOTION by Morrison, Leslie Roach, president, and Miss Coffin were authorized to negotiate a loan of $25,000 to pay current bills.

A list of general bills of $5,859 was ordered paid. Mrs. Ellamae Castelli, treasurer, reported a balance of $8,856.33 as of July 31.

Rudolph Presutti, tax collector, reported $27,782.28 deposited in taxes during July with a balance of $466,805.93 remaining on the 1959 tax duplicate.

The recommended purchase of books totaling $143.35 by the Carnegie Library trustees was approved, along with interim orders placed by Jewell in the amount of $1,256.28.

Wellsville Board Acts

Polio Shots To Be Required

The Wellsville Board of Eucation Monday night passed a resolution to continue the policy of compulsory immunizations and vaccinations for school children and, under the newly-revised state code, added polio shots for the health requirements.

The immunization and vaccination program has been in effect in Wellsville schools for 15 years, but this is the first time polio shots will be required for school youths. Clarification of individual requirements and other phases of the health program are expected to be completed later.

THE BOARD also employed four new teachers for the 1959-60 school term, hired two bus drivers and accepted the bid of a Chester bakery for furnishing bread to school cafeterias.

New teaching personnel are Mrs. Velma Gaston of Philippi, W. Va., an art instructor; Kyle Baker of near Wellsville, seventh and eighth grade teacher for the Hillcrest-Fairview school; Mrs. Sandra Baker of near Wellsville, an elementary teacher, and Mrs. Miriam Kornhauser of Pittsburgh, high school Spanish.

Two vacancies still exist, including an eighth grade teacher at Daw Junior High, and a third grade instructor at McKinley, the board was told by Supt. S. E. Daw.

David Torrence and Arnold Poynter were employed as rural area bus drivers. Salaries for each are $125 a month, in addition to $1.50 an hour for all extra driving for football games, band contests and other school activities.

THE GODDARD Bakery Co.'s low bid of 14 cents for a 20-slice loaf of bread, and 23 cents a dozen for buns was accepted for supplying cafeterias.

Besides the Chester firm, other bidders included the Keystone Bakery Co. of West Bridgewater, a 16½-ounce loaf for 16½ cents, and barbecue buns for 28 cents, and the Ward Bakery Co. of Youngstown, a 17½-ounce loaf for 15 cents and 26 cents for buns.

Preparing for the opening of a new cafeteria when school begins, the board hired Mrs. Clara Murray as a full-time employe. Three others will be contacted to see if they are interested in part-time employment. They include Mrs. Levada Moore, Mrs. Kathryn Fogo and Mrs. Mabel Farance. Forty-one applications were received for cafeteria work. New applicants are Mrs. Martha Reight and Mrs. Mary Kountz.

MRS. CHARLES Glass was employed as an extra worker for the cafeteria at Hillcrest-Fairview School, while Mrs. Carolyn Ketchum was hired as a substitute.

In other business, the board received notice of the immunization schedule for Hillcrest-Fairview school children. Dates are: Sept. 25, physical examinations, immunizations and vaccinations for first graders; Oct. 29, second round of immunizations and vaccinations: Dec. 2, third round of shots and a tuberculosis skin test for eighth graders, and Dec. 4, reading results of the tuberculin tests.

Raymond Rolley, clerk, reported that a check had been received in the amount of $669.28 as the board's share from the County Board of Education due to the transfer of the Hillcrest-Fairview school.

ROLLEY was authorized to attend an all-day session for clerks and Board of Eucation members Friday at Kent. It was announced that new fluorscent lighting fixtures have arrived to complete that type of lighting throughout the school plant.

The board also discussed a report from the State Department of Welfare, which listed questions regarding state and local operational procedure, new rules and other conditions.

In order that plans may be made to submit a 2-mill renewal levy to the voters before the Sept. 14 filing deadline, the meeting was recessed until called by Earl Bake, president.

Under a new law, the levy may be put up for 10 years, thus eliminating the requirement to renew it every few years.

Approved By House

Graduated Income Tax Bill Advanced In Pennsylvania

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) — The House has passed a proposed constitutional amendment authorizing a graduated income tax of up to 6 per cent in Pennsylvania.

The vote was 114-69, sending the measure to the Republican-controlled Senate, where it faced an uncertain future.

Sixteen Republicans joined the solid House Democratic majority in pushing through the administration-packed measure. The action came less than a week after the House approved a 4 per cent sales tax.

There was little debate on the measure after the House defeated an amendment by Rep. Allan D. Williams, Jr. (R-Bucks) to earmark for education any revenue from a state income levy.

Rep. George X. Schwartz (D-Philadelphia) argued that a graduated income tax would help the small taxpayer because it was based on ability to pay.

In reply Rep. Maurice H. Goldstein (R-Pittsburgh), said an income tax amendment would not be an effective revenue-raiser because of the 6 per cent ceiling. He also asked if the income tax would replace the sales levy or be in addition to it.

Rep. Albert W. Johnson, House Republican floor leader, noted after the roll call that the constitutional amendment would have to be revised in the Senate to make up for an oversight in preparation of the bill.

As now drafted it makes no mention of the exemptions given by voters last year to owners of private forest reserves. The exemption would apply to real estate taxes that had been imposed on owners of land used for growing trees and for no other purpose.

The state constitution now prohibits a graduated income tax, although permitting it at flat rates. Hundreds of municipalities and school districts now impose a flat income tax of up to 1 per cent but the state never has had one.

A constitutional amendment requires passage in two separate sessions of the Legislature and voter approval before it can take effect.

Voters defeated graduated income levies in 1913 and 1937. In 1913, coincident with approval of federal income tax laws, the plan fell by only 119 votes in a statewide referendum.

Driver Gets $200 Fine And 3-Day Jail Term

Clarence Zacharias of Wellsville R. D. 2—arrested on Main St., Wellsville, this morning about 2 for driving while intoxicated—was fined $200 and costs and sentenced to 3 days in jail by acting Mayor Myron Weiss.

Richard Dock of Broadway Wellsville, cited Saturday for a similar charge, was fined $200 and costs and given a jail term by Mayor William Shoub Monday.

John Kozel of Uniontown, cited by the State Highway Patrol for failure to stop in the assured clear distance, forfeited a $15 bond when he failed to appear for a hearing.

John Pysarchuck of Parma, cited by the patrol for driving without a license and for crashing a stop sign, forfeited bonds totaling $35.

Herter Slated To Hit Hard At Dictatorships

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP)—Secretary of State Christian A. Herter, flying here today for the Inter-American Conference of Foreign Ministers, was reported considering making a strong declaration of U.S. opposition to dictatorships.

Herter was due late this afternoon in the Chilean capital after a night's stopover in Puerto Rico. Leaving Washington, he said the conference should take a candid look at troubles plaguing the Caribbean area and adopt measures to deal with them.

Puerto Rico's Gov. Luis Munoz Marin, who talked with Herter in Washington Sunday, said the secretary likely would make clear that the United States does not coddle dictators.

Numerous Latin Americans have accused the United States of showing open favoritism to such dictators as former President Fulgencio Batista of Cuba, Marcos Perez Jimenez of Venezuela, now an exile in Florida, the Dominican Republic's Rafael Trujillo and Nicaragua's Luis Somoza.

Presumably any U.S. declaration will be worded in general terms with no names called. Both Trujillo and Somoza are still in office, and any direct attack on them would bring accusations of U.S. interference in domestic affairs of other nations, as well as imperil relations between Washington and the Dominican and Nicaraguan governments.

One potential source of fireworks at the conference was removed Monday night. Cuba's ambassador announced that Prime Minister Fidel Castro would not attend. Apparently Castro is too busy at home, where his government claims it has just smashed a major plot by counter-revolutionaries.

The meeting was called after a series of invasions by political exiles trying to overthrow the Trujillo and Somoza regimes and the Panamanian government.

Herter, first U.S. secretary of state ever to visit Chile, was expected to swing soon after his arrival into private talks with various foreign ministers on the problems before the conference.

The U.S. secretary is scheduled to reply on behalf of all the ministers Wednesday when Chile's President Jorge Alessandri opens the conferences. But U.S. sources said his major speech will come after the meeting gets down to real business.

Long Suffers Fast Defeat In Legislature

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP) — Frustrated Gov. Earl K. Long today planned to "carry my fight to the people" after a rebellious Legislature killed his special session before it was an hour old.

Long, trying to rally forces after a stunning and swift defeat, had his sights set on a downtown New Orleans rally tonight — home grounds of his political foe, Mayor DeLesseps Morrison, one of his opponents in the December Democratic gubernatorial primary.

The governor had little or nothing to say to newsmen after he shuffled from the Legislature ashen faced, behind him the echoes of lawmakers applauding their adjournment victory.

But his cronies brushed aside the sudden end as an act of defiance. They contended that Long, now cast in an underdog role, would make political hay out of the incident.

"This will mean 100,000 votes for the govennor," said Lt. Gov. Lether Frazar.

Frazar, who presides over the Senate, was unsuccessful in holding back an adjournment stampede, after news got to the Senate of the House's vote to quit.

Rep. Ben Holt of Rapides Parish, a disenchanted Long supporter, led the move to end the 2-day session, which would have cost an estimated $148,000.

Holt said the session "was called for vindictive and personal reasons."

Many members listening were leery of possible new wild outbursts from Long such as those which came at the much-publicized fiscal legislature in May.

Long later collapsed and was spirited by his wife to a Galveston, Tex., mental clinic.

Rally Planned To Get Action From Faubus

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — Segregationists rounded up support today for a rally on the state capitol lawn to ask Gov. Orval E. Faubus to "do something" about impending integration of two Little Rock white high schools. The schools are to open Wednesday.

Margaret Jackson, president of the League of Central High Mothers, said she had had "dozens of calls" from people wanting to know what could be done to stop integration.

"So in response to this," she said, "we are inviting every patriotic citizen to meet us on the state capitol grounds to pay tribute to our great governor and tell him that we need and want his continued leadership in our fight fight against federal dictatorship."

Faubus has remained silent on his plans to take a hand against the impending desegregation. But he has said he does have plans. The governor stopped integration in the high schools last fall by closing them. But the law he used has been struck down by federal court.

The Little Rock school board issued a statement saying it was confident "the people of Little Rock will accept this challenge to resume the peaceful operation of its high schools. There is no reason to anticipate anything else."

Last Cvil War Veteran Grows Weaker Daily

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Walter Williams, last survivor of the Civil War armies, and the nation's oldest veteran, is getting weaker day by day, his doctor says.

Williams, 116, recovered recently from pneumonia, but the illness sapped his strength.

Board Pays Sum On School Work

The Midland Board of Education Monday evening ordered an initial payment of $19,068.30 to the Massa Brothers Construction Co. of Beaver Falls for remodeling to eliminate possible fire hazards at the 1st and 4th St. Schools.

The bill was submitted by Edwin M. Wallover Jr., Beaver Falls architect for the project, on behalf of the company. James Morrison, finance chairman, moved for payment. A balance of $13,126.70 remains.

—:—

ACCORDING TO Ray Keller, maintenance superintendent, remodeling is almost finished at 1st and 4th St. Schools and all, including 7th St. School, are expected to be ready for the opening of classes Sept. 1. Some work at 4th St. may carry over into the new school year.

The remodeling was ordered by the Pennsylvania Department of Labor and Industry and the board let the contract June 8.

The board granted the request of Charles P. Henderson, band director, to allow Lincoln High School's Varsity Marching Band to participate for the sixth year in the band festival Aug. 27 at Kennywood Park.

THE PARK will give $125 towards transportation with students paying the rest on a pro-rated basis. The park will give 4 free tickets to each band member, Henderson said in his request.

Keller reported that lights are being installed at the Midland Heights playground. The board received permission from Midland Heights Home, Inc., to place a pole at the playlot for the lights. A letter was received from Borough Council, announcing its support of the residents' project for lights, fences and supervision for their playground.

Several teachers and custodians were hired on motions by Frank Aloi. Teachers include Phillip Tridico of Chester, social studies, $4,220 a year; Andrew Yobuck of Brownsville, science, $4,010, and Gerald LaValle of Rochester, social studies, $4,010; all effective Aug. 31. LaValle will substitute a year for Howard Thorne.

CUSTODIANS include Mrs. Mary Cestaric, who is being transferred from the high school building to the new gymnasium; Mrs. Sophia Bogeff, from part-time at the library to full-time at the high school building for $252 a month, and Mrs. Daisy Turchich, part-time at the library for $125 a month. Their new jobs are effective Sept. 1.

An order for football lockers from the Berger Division of the Republic Steel Corp. was canceled as the board learned the firm can not deliver them by football season. The board voted on a motion by Samuel Rosatone to award the order to the A. H. Smith Co. of Beaver Falls for $1,299.03.

Audio-visual blinds for three classrooms were approved to be purchased from the Hamilton Awning Co. of Beaver for $208.82.

Miss Bernice Coffin, board secretary, was authorized to advertise for bids to have sewers and drains installed on high school property.

A REQUEST OF Steelworkers Local 1211 of Aliquippa, for the Lincoln band to play there Sept. 7 during a Labor Day parade, was tabled for consideration.

The board agreed to have chains with locks placed across the alley between the new gymnasium building and the high school for the safety of students traveling back and forth. The hazard from vehicles using the alley during school hours was pointed out by Supt. Ralph Jewell.

In answer to a recent request by the board, Council wrote that traffic signs for streets near playgrounds have been ordered and will be put up as soon as possible.

—:—

ON A MOTION by Morrison, Leslie Roach, president, and Miss Coffin were authorized to negotiate a loan of $25,000 to pay current bills.

A list of general bills of $5,859 was ordered paid. Mrs. Ellamae Castelli, treasurer, reported a balance of $8,856.33 as of July 31.

Rudolph Presutti, tax collector, reported $27,782.28 deposited in taxes during July with a balance of $466,805.93 remaining on the 1959 tax duplicate.

The recommended purchase of books totaling $143.35 by the Carnegie Library trustees was approved, along with interim orders placed by Jewell in the amount of $1,256.28.

Wellsville Board Acts

Polio Shots To Be Required

The Wellsville Board of Education Monday night passed a resolution to continue the policy of compulsory immunizations and vaccinations for school children and, under the newly-revised state code, added polio shots for the health requirements.

The immunization and vaccination program has been in effect in Wellsville schools for 15 years, but this is the first time polio shots will be required for school youths. Clarification of individual requirements and other phases of the health program are expected to be completed later.

THE BOARD also employed four new teachers for the 1959-60 school term, hired two bus drivers and accepted the bid of a Chester bakery for furnishing bread to school cafeterias.

New teaching personnel are Mrs. Velma Gaston of Philippi, W. Va., an art instructor; Kyle Baker of near Wellsville, seventh and eighth grade teacher for the Hillcrest-Fairview school; Mrs. Sandra Baker of near Wellsville, an elementary teacher, and Mrs. Miriam Kornhauser of Pittsburgh, high school Spanish.

Two vacancies still exist, including an eighth grade teacher at Daw Junior High, and a third grade instructor at McKinley, the board was told by Supt. S. E. Daw.

David Torrence and Arnold Poynter were employed as rural area bus drivers. Salaries for each are $125 a month, in addition to $1.50 an hour for all extra driving for football games, band contests and other school activities.

THE GODDARD Bakery Co.'s low bid of 14 cents for a 20-slice loaf of bread, and 23 cents a dozen for buns was accepted for supplying cafeterias.

Besides the Chester firm, other bidders included the Keystone Bakery Co. of West Bridgewater, a 16½-ounce loaf for 16½ cents, and barbecue buns for 28 cents, and the Ward Bakery Co. of Youngstown, a 17½-ounce loaf for 15 cents and 26 cents for buns.

Preparing for the opening of a new cafeteria when school begins, the board hired Mrs. Clara Murray as a full-time employe. Three others will be contacted to see if they are interested in part-time employment. They include Mrs. Levada Moore, Mrs. Kathryn Fogo and Mrs. Mabel Farance. Forty-one applications were received for cafeteria work. New applicants are Mrs. Martha Reight and Mrs. Mary Kountz.

MRS. CHARLES Glass was employed as an extra worker for the cafeteria at Hillcrest-Fairview School, while Mrs. Carolyn Ketchum was hired as a substitute.

In other business, the board received notice of the immunization schedule for Hillcrest-Fairview school children. Dates are: Sept. 25, physical examinations, immunizations and vaccinations for first graders; Oct. 29, second round of immunizations and vaccinations: Dec. 2, third round of shots and a tuberculosis skin test for eighth graders, and Dec. 4, reading results of the tuberculin tests.

Raymond Rolley, clerk, reported that a check had been received in the amount of $669.28 as the board's share from the County Board of Education due to the transfer of the Hillcrest-Fairview school.

ROLLEY was authorized to attend an all-day session for clerks and Board of Eucation members Friday at Kent. It was announced that new fluorscent lighting fixtures have arrived to complete that type of lighting throughout the school plant.

The board also discussed a report from the State Department of Welfare, which listed questions regarding state and local operational procedure, new rules and other conditions.

In order that plans may be made to submit a 2-mill renewal levy to the voters before the Sept. 14 filing deadline, the meeting was recessed until called by Earl Bake, president.

Under a new law, the levy may be put up for 10 years, thus eliminating the requirement to renew it every few years.

Approved By House

Graduated Income Tax Bill Advanced In Pennsylvania

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) — The House has passed a proposed constitutional amendment authorizing a graduated income tax of up to 6 per cent in Pennsylvania.

The vote was 114-69, sending the measure to the Republican-controlled Senate, where it faced an uncertain future.

Sixteen Republicans joined the solid House Democratic majority in pushing through the administration-packed measure. The action came less than a week after the House approved a 4 per cent sales tax.

There was little debate on the measure after the House defeated an amendment by Rep. Allan D. Williams, Jr. (R-Bucks) to earmark for education any revenue from a state income levy.

Rep. George X. Schwartz (D-Philadelphia) argued that a graduated income tax would help the small taxpayer because it was based on ability to pay.

In reply Rep. Maurice H. Goldstein (R-Pittsburgh), said an income tax amendment would not be an effective revenue-raiser because of the 6 per cent ceiling. He also asked if the income tax would replace the sales levy or be in addition to it.

Rep. Albert W. Johnson, House Republican floor leader, noted after the roll call that the constitutional amendment would have to be revised in the Senate to make up for an oversight in preparation of the bill.

As now drafted it makes no mention of the exemptions given by voters last year to owners of private forest reserves. The exemption would apply to real estate taxes that had been imposed on owners of land used for growing trees and for no other purpose.

The state constitution now prohibits a graduated income tax, although permitting it at flat rates. Hundreds of municipalities and school districts now impose a flat income tax of up to 1 per cent but the state never has had one.

A constitutional amendment requires passage in two separate sessions of the Legislature and voter approval before it can take effect.

Voters defeated graduated income levies in 1913 and 1937. In 1913, coincident with approval of federal income tax laws, the plan fell by only 119 votes in a statewide referendum.

Driver Gets $200 Fine And 3-Day Jail Term

Clarence Zacharias of Wellsville R. D. 2—arrested on Main St., Wellsville, this morning about 2 for driving while intoxicated—was fined $200 and costs and sentenced to 3 days in jail by acting Mayor Myron Weiss.

Richard Dock of Broadway Wellsville, cited Saturday for a similar charge, was fined $200 and costs and given a jail term by Mayor William Shoub Monday.

John Kozel of Uniontown, cited by the State Highway Patrol for failure to stop in the assured clear distance, forfeited a $15 bond when he failed to appear for a hearing.

John Pysarchuck of Parma, cited by the patrol for driving without a license and for crashing a stop sign, forfeited bonds totaling $35.

Out Of The Air

By MARIE TORRE

Charles Collingwood And 'Person'

In case you've wondered how "different" it's going to be with Charles Collingwood in Ed Murrow's time-honored "Person to Person" seat, Mr. Collingwood is a Rhodes scholar who also plays the horses, meaning he should have the same properly balanced perspective we all learned to admire in his predecessor. Again, like Murrow, Collingwood is a chain smoker ("I'm rapidly smoking myself to death"), but it's more than doubtful that the successor to the "Person to Person" throne will be the tobaccophile on TV.

Marie Torre

That could give viewers the impression he's trying to imitate Murrow.

-:-

"THE CIGARETTE," says Collingwood, "is Ed's trademark, not mine, though I usually smoke up a storm before and after my shows —not on camera as a rule.

"Frankly," he said, "I don't see why I should or should not smoke on the show. If I do, it won't be because I'm trying to be like Ed Murrow."

At this point in his burgeoning career, Collingwood doesn't have to be like anybody but Collingwood. His good name was enough to get him the "Person to Person" show over such illustrious candidates as Jackie Gleason, Ed Sullivan, Red Skelton and George Burns, not to mention some 220 others.

That he came out top man on the totem pole is still a source of wonder to Collingwood.

-:-

"BUT I HAVE no illusions about myself . . . . I got the job because, in the final analysis, they wanted a newsman in the spot," he said.

"For this, I'm grateful. I'm not an actor. Or a professional master of ceremonies. There aren't many things I could do outside of the immediate news area.

"Person to Person is up a newsman's alley. Aside from learning how to ask questions, a reporter gets to meet and feel comfortable with a lot of people in the public eye. It all seems to tie in beautifully."

Currently in England completing a two-year assignment as CBS' London correspondent, Collingwood is too much the newsman to use 'Person' as an excuse to relax CBS news activities in future.

"News is my racket, always will be," he says. "Maybe I'm an optimist, but even with 'Person' there ought to be plenty of room on my schedule for news shows — lots of 'em."

-:-

INSURANCE against the possibility of Murrow's returning to "Person to Person" at the end of his sabbatical, perhaps?

Collingwood smiled.

"Listen," he said. "Any time Ed returns and wants the show back, I'll gladly move out. It's his show, and I'm perfectly conscious of the fact that he'll be identified with the program long after I take over.

"That was the one thing that gave me a few trepidations about replacing him. Then I found out that Ed himself was one of the people who recommended me for the job, and so I took it.

"Ed, you know," Collingwood added, "is one of my two closest friends. Matter of fact, he hired me to work at CBS back in '40 or '41. So for goodness sakes, let's not inject any rivalry into this thing!"

Four Of 'Platters' Face Charges In Prostitution Case

CINCINNATI (AP)—Four members of The Platters, a nationally known rock 'n' roll singing group, have been freed on bond under charges of aiding and abetting prostitution.

A professional bondsman put up $1,000 bond each Monday for David Lynch Jr., 30, and Tony Williams, 31, of Hollywood, Calif., Herbert A. Reed, 31, Los Angeles, and Irvin Robi, 26, of El Centro, Calif.

Vice squad detectives arrested the four Negro singers in a raid early Monday at a downtown hotel.

Four 19 - year - old girls, three white and one Negro, were also arrested and charged with engaging in prostitution. They were held under $1,000 bond each.

The singers said they had just completed a three - day engagement at the Copa Club in nearby Newport, Ky.

Council Plans Public Airing Of Power Rate

LISBON — Council announced last night it will hold a public meeting Aug. 24 to hear a representative of the Ohio Edison Co. discuss proposed higher rates. It will be held at 8 p. m. in the Council chambers at the Village Hall.

The company wrote to Council April 13, requesting a meeting to go over the new rate schedule, an estimated increase of about 7 per cent with the expiration date of the present contract set for Oct. 1.

The lighting committee met with Dean Beck, local representative, but decided to have a public meeting so residents could voice their opinions.

The utility was authorized to change traffic lights from meter to a flat charge each month.

Council decided to obtain a bulldozer and grade the swimming pool area, clear off the land and plant grass so that it can be mowed next year and provide a recreation center.

The Farmers National Bank requested deposit of part of the village funds and Council decided to place 80 per cent with 20 per cent going to the Firestone Bank. Firestone was depository for all the funds last year, giving collateral up to $110,000, Clerk Ray Hempstead said.

A resolution was adopted, appropriating land in the Smith and Grandview additions so that the Board of Public Affairs can construct a new sewer. One property owner has refused the village permission to go over his land. The land is between High and Spruce Sts., west of N. Beaver St.

Counciil voted to send notices to land owners about weeds on their lots. They will have five days to cut the weeds, otherwise the village will cut them and place the costs on the tax duplicate through the auditor's office. An ordinance calls for two mowings a year to be satisfactory.

A letter was read from Fr. William H. Hohman requesting repairs of an alley east of St. George's Catholic Church so that the congregation can use the parking lot off the alley and not have to double park on Chestnut St.

The double parking creates a hazard as a fire truck could not get through.

Council agreed to have the street committee to investigate. The committee will also check a deep ditch on Pritchard Ave., poor drainage back of the Thomson Electric Co. off Vine St. and a North Park Pl. road in need of repairs.

Bids on resurfacing of village streets will be opened Wednesday, Aug. 19.

Mayor John Todd presided.

Only four councilmen were present. They were John Blockson, Richard Bloor, Robert Kelm and Dean Stockman.

Reactivating Gas Line Will Cost $2,280,000

WASHINGTON (AP)—It's estimated that it will cost about $2,280,000 to reactivate some 189 miles of existing 20-inch gas line from Middletown, Ohio to Moundsville, W. Va.

The reactivation was authorized Monday by the Power Commission so that Texas Gas Transmission Corp., Owensboro, Ky., and Texas Eastern Transmission Corp., Shreveport, La., can transport up to 100 million cubic feet of gas daily for Hope Natural Gas Co., Clarksburg, W. Va.

Blind Driver Does OK Till Tree Gets In Way

SCARBOROUGH, England (AP) —Desmond Armstrong rode his motorcycle around the busy streets of Scarborough for six months before he hit a tree.

It was only then that police discovered he was registered officially as a blind man.

After the accident, the police as a test asked Armstrong to read an automobile license plate at 25 yards, the standard eyesight test for a driving license.

Armstrong not only could not read the plate. He hardly could see the car.

Armstrong, a 35-year-old laundry worker, got three months in jail.

Oxtail used for stew is usually cut in two-inch lengths.

Death Claims Crowley, 50, Defendant In Tokyo Trial

HAMDEN, Conn. (AP) — Seven weeks ago, Joseph P. Crowley, a former Yale football star, was cleared in a sensational Tokyo trial of slaying his brother-in-law.

Today Crowley himself lay dead, felled on his 50th birthday, the cause not precisely determined. Authorities indicate he may have died from barbiturates.

Crowley's body was found by his son Joseph Monday on a bed in his home in Hamden, a New Haven suburb. He wore trousers and a sweater. Authorities said he probably died Sunday night while his family was at its summer home.

Coroner James Corrigan said an autopsy revealed conditions "consistent with barbituric aid or barbiturate poisoning."

But the coroner said the autopsy was inconclusive. A toxicological report expected today should clear up the cause of death, he said. Police suspected no foul play.

Crowley's death came just as he was rebuilding the life he'd led up until May 1958—that of a prosperous businessman whose standing in the New Haven area was enhanced by his exploits nearly 30 years ago as a Yale football hero.

Crowley's wife Betty is a daughter of the late T. A. D. Jones Sr., a famed football coach of years ago and a one-time All-America player.

It was T. A. D. Jones Jr., 45, Crowley's business partner and Betty Crowley's brother, who Crowley was accused of killing in Tokyo last year.

Auto Sales Tax Stamp Action Withstands First Legal Test

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A new Ohio law that eliminates issuance of tax stamps on auto sales has successfully withstood its first legal test.

Common Pleas Judge Kenneth L. Sater Monday turned down requests for a temporary restraining order which could have held up enforcement of the law.

The injunctions were sought by George Byers Sons, Inc., Columbus auto firm, and a Columbus man, Edward H. Minor Jr., who purchased a car from Byers. They said the law was unconstitutional and discriminatory.

Minor claimed he had been denied tax stamps in making the car purchase, and that he was therefore kept from turning over the stamps to a charitable organization. Charities can get cash redemption from the state on part of the stamp value.

Judge Sater admitted that Minor was deprived of his ability to give stamps to charity. But the judge said:

"This ability is a liberty, not a property right in him, nor is it a privilege of an American citizen.

"The state's redempton of his stamps . . . is permissive, not mandatory, and consequently firmly or irrevocably vests nothing in either minor or those in his class . . . ."

Byers, which brought the suit in behalf of some 4,000 auto dealers in the state, claimed the new law resulted in bookkeeping complications. But the judge said that was "an unimpressive claim."

Sater added that Byers had not shown any "great or irreparable loss or damage" due to the law, even though it eliminates a 2 per cent vendor's discount that auto dealers previously got for distributing tax stamps.

The 2 per cent commission "is for a stated purpose which has now disappeared," the judge ruled, "and even if continued, it could be modified by any session of the Legislature to the point of nullification."

County Will Send 10 For High State Draft

Ohio Selective Service headquarters at Columbus today issued its September induction call for 867 men.

Youngest registrant who may be inducted on this call must be at least 22 years of age on or before Sept. 1.

The September call is the highest this year.

Columbiana County has been given a quota of 10.

Airport Fund Advanced

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Trustees of the Akron-Canton Airport have given approval to request federal matching funds on projects estimated to cost $680,000. They are for purchase of land and construction of runway aprons and a high-intensity lighting project. The approval was given Monday to airport manager Fred Bailey.

DiSalle Plans More Vetoes

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. Michael V. DiSalle said he may have as many as 20 additional vetoes ready for the Legislature when it returns Friday for final adjournment.

The governor vetoed seven legislative enactments Monday, running his total so far to 13. He signed 32 of the Legislature's enactments into law, effective in 90 days.

The Legislature has overridden only his veto of the so-called "fair trade" law, allowing minimum retail pricing of trade-marked items.

Since the Legislature ended working sessions July 25, he has signed 148 of the 176 bills sent to him in the closing rush. The rest are under consideration.

Monday he vetoed enactments making the death penalty mandatory for the willful slaying of a game protector, forest or park officer; changing nuisance laws to make them apply to newspapers, magazines or other publications entered as second class mailing matter and providing for community colleges with state aid.

Other vetoes knocked out attempts to require reflective materials on traffic signs after Jan. 1, cut from six to four feet the permissible height of hedge fences along public highways, give township employes a seventh paid holiday annually and require approval of rural subdivision plats by township trustees.

During his press conference Monday, the governor pointed out that since his mid - January inauguration he has not been away from Columbus for a full day.

He said a recent physical checkup was satisfactory.

"The doctors said the same thing they've been telling me for 10 years—take off some weight," DiSalle told newsmen.

At 200 pounds, the 5-foot-5½ inch administrator weighs eight pounds less than he did in January.

DiSalle said doctors set his ideal weight at 160 pounds. The lowest he has been in recent years was 185, he admitted.

Mail Arrives But Not With Rocket Speed

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —A Thor-Able rocket carried two letters 5,000 miles in half an hour last May. But it was 2½ months before they were delivered.

This is the story, as disclosed by the Air Force Missile Test Center Monday.

The Thor-Able hurled its nose cone 15,000 miles an hour to an Atlantic target off Ascension Island on May 21. The cone contained letters addressed to Maj. Gen. Donald N. Yates, commander of the test center, and Col. Henry F. Warden, deputy commander for tests.

A recovery ship plucked the cone from the ocean and brought it to Cape Canaveral. The letters were not found, however, and officials thought they may have burned up in the intense re-entry heat encountered by the cone.

A train carried the cone to Philadelphia for study. Two weeks later technicians there found the letters crammed among the many telemetry instruments in the front of the cone.

The undamaged mail was flown back to the test center and placed on the desk of Lt. Col. Thomas W. Morgan, Thor project officer, who sent them in the first place. Morgan was on temporary duty at another station and it was almost two months before he discovered the letters and delivered them to Yates and Warden.

Kindergarten Signup Slated

A schedule for registration of Midland children for kindergarten classes for the opening of School Sept. 1 has been announced by Supt. Ralph H. Jewell.

Children who will be 5 before Dec. 1 may register Aug. 26. The schedule includes:

Midland Heights children at the 1st St. School from 9 a. m. to 12 noon; downtown children at 1st St. from 1 to 4 p. m.; children with last names from A through L at 7th St. School from 9 a. m. to 12 noon, and names beginning with M through Z at 7th St. from 1 to 4 p. m.

Children must be accompanied by a parent who can furnish the child's birth and vaccination certificates. Children may be brought at the alternate session if unable to attend the designated time, Jewell said.

"The important objective of kindergarten is to teach little children to work and to play together and to become fimiliar with a formal school situation," he said.

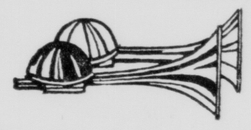

The program is for three hours, half-day only, and children may attend either morning or afternoon at the 1st St. School or 7th St. School, whichever is closer, Jewell said.

Miss Cora Wickline is the teacher at 1st St. and Mrs. Evelyn Mahoney at 7th.

Out Of The Air

By MARIE TORRE

Charles Collingwood And 'Person'

In case you've wondered how "different" it's going to be with Charles Collingwood in Ed Murrow's time-honored "Person to Person" seat, Mr. Collingwood is a Rhodes scholar who also plays the horses, meaning he should have the same properly balanced perspective we all learned to admire in his predecessor. Again, like Murrow, Collingwood is a chain smoker ("I'm rapidly smoking myself to death"), but it's more than doubtful that the successor to the "Person to Person" throne will be the tobaccophile on TV.

Marie Torre

That could give viewers the impression he's trying to imitate Murrow.

-:-

"THE CIGARETTE," says Collingwood, "is Ed's trademark, not mine, though I usually smoke up a storm before and after my shows —not on camera as a rule.

"Frankly," he said, "I don't see why I should or should not smoke on the show. If I do, it won't be because I'm trying to be like Ed Murrow."

At this point in his burgeoning career, Collingwood doesn't have to be like anybody but Collingwood. His good name was enough to get him the "Person to Person" show over such illustrious candidates as Jackie Gleason, Ed Sullivan, Red Skelton and George Burns, not to mention some 220 others.

That he came out top man on the totem pole is still a source of wonder to Collingwood.

-:-

"BUT I HAVE no illusions about myself . . . . I got the job because, in the final analysis, they wanted a newsman in the spot," he said.

"For this, I'm grateful. I'm not an actor. Or a professional master of ceremonies. There aren't many things I could do outside of the immediate news area.

"Person to Person is up a newsman's alley. Aside from learning how to ask questions, a reporter gets to meet and feel comfortable with a lot of people in the public eye. It all seems to tie in beautifully."

Currently in England completing a two-year assignment as CBS' London correspondent, Collingwood is too much the newsman to use 'Person' as an excuse to relax CBS news activities in future.

"News is my racket, always will be," he says. "Maybe I'm an optimist, but even with 'Person' there ought to be plenty of room on my schedule for news shows — lots of 'em."

-:-

INSURANCE against the possibility of Murrow's returning to "Person to Person" at the end of his sabbatical, perhaps?

Collingwood smiled.

"Listen," he said. "Any time Ed returns and wants the show back, I'll gladly move out. It's his show, and I'm perfectly conscious of the fact that he'll be identified with the program long after I take over.

"That was the one thing that gave me a few trepidations about replacing him. Then I found out that Ed himself was one of the people who recommended me for the job, and so I took it.

"Ed, you know," Collingwood added, "is one of my two closest friends. Matter of fact, he hired me to work at CBS back in '40 or '41. So for goodness sakes, let's not inject any rivalry into this thing!"

THE PLUM ROLE of Sammy Glick in Budd Schulberg's "What Makes Sammy Run" has been awarded to Larry Blyden . . . .

Pat Frank's new novel, "Alas, Babylon," will be the premiere show of the season on "Playhouse 90," which returns Oct. 1 on a reduced schedule. A further curtailment of "live" original drama! . . . .

Television Age magazine says the newly formed Continental League can get an assist of more than three million dollars a year from TV and radio if full broadcast rights are given out by the eight teams which are planned to constitute the new major league baseball circuit. "An important feature of this new league is the television revenue, no matter how it is worked out," says organizer William Shea . . . .

Big preparations are being made in network news departments for: (1) President Eisenhower's meetings in Europe with government heads, (2) Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev's visit to the U.S. in mid-September and (3) President Eisenhower's visit to the Soviet Union this fall. In terms of interest and excitement, the news on TV promises to surpass all that fictional stuff. . . .

A business disagreement appears to have schuttled plans for an exchange of TV appearances between Frank Sinatra and Bing Crosby. . .

A notice from Ziv Television says the title of "Space," the coming William Lundigan series, has been changed to "Men Into Space" because the original title was "too confusing."

Four Of 'Platters' Face Charges In Prostitution Case

CINCINNATI (AP)—Four members of The Platters, a nationally known rock 'n' roll singing group, have been freed on bond under charges of aiding and abetting prostitution.

A professional bondsman put up $1,000 bond each Monday for David Lynch Jr., 30, and Tony Williams, 31, of Hollywood, Calif., Herbert A. Reed, 31, Los Angeles, and Irvin Robi, 26, of El Centro, Calif.

Vice squad detectives arrested the four Negro singers in a raid early Monday at a downtown hotel.

Four 19 - year - old girls, three white and one Negro, were also arrested and charged with engaging in prostitution. They were held under $1,000 bond each.

The singers said they had just completed a three - day engagement at the Copa Club in nearby Newport, Ky.

Council Plans Public Airing Of Power Rate

LISBON — Council announced last night it will hold a public meeting Aug. 24 to hear a representative of the Ohio Edison Co. discuss proposed higher rates. It will be held at 8 p. m. in the Council chambers at the Village Hall.

The company wrote to Council April 13, requesting a meeting to go over the new rate schedule, an estimated increase of about 7 per cent with the expiration date of the present contract set for Oct. 1.

The lighting committee met with Dean Beck, local representative, but decided to have a public meeting so residents could voice their opinions.

The utility was authorized to change traffic lights from meter to a flat charge each month.

Council decided to obtain a bulldozer and grade the swimming pool area, clear off the land and plant grass so that it can be mowed next year and provide a recreation center.

The Farmers National Bank requested deposit of part of the village funds and Council decided to place 80 per cent with 20 per cent going to the Firestone Bank. Firestone was depository for all the funds last year, giving collateral up to $110,000, Clerk Ray Hempstead said.

A resolution was adopted, appropriating land in the Smith and Grandview additions so that the Board of Public Affairs can construct a new sewer. One property owner has refused the village permission to go over his land. The land is between High and Spruce Sts., west of N. Beaver St.

Councill voted to send notices to land owners about weeds on their lots. They will have five days to cut the weeds, otherwise the village will cut them and place the costs on the tax duplicate through the auditor's office. An ordinance calls for two mowings a year to be satisfactory.

A letter was read from Fr. William H. Hohman requesting repairs of an alley east of St. George's Catholic Church so that the congregation can use the parking lot off the alley and not have to double park on Chestnut St.

The double parking creates a hazard as a fire truck could not get through.

Council agreed to have the street committee to investigate. The committee will also check a deep ditch on Pritchard Ave., poor drainage back of the Thomson Electric Co. off Vine St. and a North Park Pl. road in need of repairs.

Bids on resurfacing of village streets will be opened Wednesday, Aug. 19.

Mayor John Todd presided.

Only four councilmen were present. They were John Blockson, Richard Bloor, Robert Kelm and Dean Stockman.

Reactivating Gas Line Will Cost $2.280,000

WASHINGTON (AP)—It's estimated that it will cost about $2,280,000 to reactivate some 189 miles of existing 20-inch gas line from Middletown, Ohio to Moundsville, W. Va.

The reactivation was authorized Monday by the Power Commission so that Texas Gas Transmission Corp., Owensboro, Ky., and Texas Eastern Transmission Corp., Shreveport, La., can transport up to 100 million cubic feet of gas daily for Hope Natural Gas Co., Clarksburg, W. Va.

Blind Driver Does OK Till Tree Gets In Way

SCARBOROUGH, England (AP) —Desmond Armstrong rode his motorcycle around the busy streets of Scarborough for six months before he hit a tree.

It was only then that police discovered he was registered officially as a blind man.

After the accident, the police as a test asked Armstrong to read an automobile license plate at 25 yards, the standard eyesight test for a driving license.

Armstrong not only could not read the plate. He hardly could see the car.

Armstrong, a 35-year-old laundry worker, got three months in jail.

Oxtail used for stew is usually cut in two-inch lengths.

Death Claims Crowley, 50, Defendant In Tokyo Trial

HAMDEN, Conn. (AP) — Seven weeks ago, Joseph P. Crowley, a former Yale football star, was cleared in a sensational Tokyo trial of slaying his brother-in-law.

Today Crowley himself lay dead, felled on his 50th birthday, the cause not precisely determined. Authorities indicate he may have died from barbiturates.

Crowley's body was found by his son Joseph Monday on a bed in his home in Hamden, a New Haven suburb. He wore trousers and a sweater. Authorities said he probably died Sunday night while his family was at its summer home.

Coroner James Corrigan said an autopsy revealed conditions "consistent with barbituric aid or barbiturate poisoning."

But the coroner said the autopsy was inconclusive. A toxicological report expected today should clear up the cause of death, he said. Police suspected no foul play.

Crowley's death came just as he was rebuilding the life he'd led up until May 1958—that of a prosperous businessman whose standing in the New Haven area was enhanced by his exploits nearly 30 years ago as a Yale football hero.

Crowley's wife Betty is a daughter of the late T. A. D. Jones Sr., a famed football coach of years ago and a one-time All-America player.

Auto Sales Tax Stamp Action Withstands First Legal Test

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A new Ohio law that eliminates issuance of tax stamps on auto sales has successfully withstood its first legal test.

Common Pleas Judge Kenneth L. Sater Monday turned down requests for a temporary restraining order which could have held up enforcement of the law.

The injunctions were sought by George Byers Sons, Inc., Columbus auto firm, and a Columbus man, Edward H. Minor Jr., who purchased a car from Byers. They said the law was unconstitutional and discriminatory.

Minor claimed he had been denied tax stamps in making the car purchase, and that he was therefore kept from turning over the stamps to a charitable organization. Charities can get cash redemption from the state on part of the stamp value.

Judge Sater admitted that Minor was deprived of his ability to give stamps to charity. But the judge said:

"This ability is a liberty, not a property right in him, nor is it a privilege of an American citizen.

"The state's redempton of his stamps . . . is permissive, not mandatory, and consequently firmly or irrevocably vests nothing in either minor or those in his class . . . ."

Byers, which brought the suit in behalf of some 4,000 auto dealers in the state, claimed the new law resulted in bookkeeping complications. But the judge said that was "an unimpressive claim."

Sater added that Byers had not shown any "great or irreparable loss or damage" due to the law, even though it eliminates a 2 per cent vendor's discount that auto dealers previously got for distributing tax stamps.

The 2 per cent commission "is for a stated purpose which has now disappeared," the judge ruled, "and even if continued, it could be modified by any session of the Legislature to the point of nullification."

County Will Send 10 For High State Draft

Ohio Selective Service headquarters at Columbus today issued its September induction call for 867 men.

Youngest registrant who may be inducted on this call must be at least 22 years of age on or before Sept. 1.

The September call is the highest this year.

Columbiana County has been given a quota of 10.

Airport Fund Advanced

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Trustees of the Akron-Canton Airport have given approval to request federal matching funds on projects estimated to cost $680,000. They are for purchase of land and construction of runway aprons and a high-intensity lighting project. The approval was given Monday to airport manager Fred Bailey.

DiSalle Plans More Vetoes

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. Michael V. DiSalle said he may have as many as 20 additional vetoes ready for the Legislature when it returns Friday for final adjournment.

The governor vetoed seven legislative enactments Monday, running his total so far to 13. He signed 32 of the Legislature's enactments into law, effective in 90 days.

The Legislature has overridden only his veto of the so-called "fair trade" law, allowing minimum retail pricing of trade-marked items.

Since the Legislature ended working sessions July 25, he has signed 148 of the 176 bills sent to him in the closing rush. The rest are under consideration.

Monday he vetoed enactments making the death penalty mandatory for the willful slaying of a game protector, forest or park officer; changing nuisance laws to make them apply to newspapers, magazines or other publications entered as second class mailing matter and providing for community colleges with state aid.

Other vetoes knocked out attempts to require reflective materials on traffic signs after Jan. 1, cut from six to four feet the permissible height of hedge fences along public highways, give township employes a seventh paid holiday annually and require approval of rural subdivision plats by township trustees.

During his press conference Monday, the governor pointed out that since his mid - January inauguration he has not been away from Columbus for a full day.

He said a recent physical checkup was satisfactory.

"The doctors said the same thing they've been telling me for 10 years—take off some weight," DiSalle told newsmen.

At 200 pounds, the 5-foot-5½ inch administrator weighs eight pounds less than he did in January.

DiSalle said doctors set his ideal weight at 160 pounds. The lowest he has been in recent years was 185, he admitted.

Mail Arrives But Not With Rocket Speed

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —A Thor-Able rocket carried two letters 5,000 miles in half an hour last May. But it was 2½ months before they were delivered.

This is the story, as disclosed by the Air Force Missile Test Center Monday.

The Thor-Able hurled its nose cone 15,000 miles an hour to an Atlantic target off Ascension Island on May 21. The cone contained letters addressed to Maj. Gen. Donald N. Yates, commander of the test center, and Col. Henry F. Warden, deputy commander for tests.

A recovery ship plucked the cone from the ocean and brought it to Cape Canaveral. The letters were not found, however, and officials thought they may have burned up in the intense re-entry heat encountered by the cone.

A train carried the cone to Philadelphia for study. Two weeks later technicians there found the letters crammed among the many telemetry instruments in the front of the cone.

The undamaged mail was flown back to the test center and placed on the desk of Lt. Col. Thomas W. Morgan, Thor project officer, who sent them in the first place. Morgan was on temporary duty at another station and it was almost two months before he discovered the letters and delivered them to Yates and Warden.

CONNEAUT, Ohio (AP)—Sally Burnside, 13, of Youngstown was drowned in Lake Erie Monday. Her brother, Earl, 16, said she was walking about 75 feet off shore in Conneaut Township Park when she hit a deep spot and called for help. He got hold of her hand for a moment, but lost his grip.

Kindergarten Signup Slated

A schedule for registration of Midland children for kindergarten classes for the opening of School Sept. 1 has been announced by Supt. Ralph H. Jewell.

Children who will be 5 before Dec. 1 may register Aug. 26. The schedule includes:

Midland Heights children at the 1st St. School from 9 a. m. to 12 noon; downtown children at 1st St. from 1 to 4 p. m.; children with last names from A through L at 7th St. School from 9 a. m. to 12 noon, and names beginning with M through Z at 7th St. from 1 to 4 p. m.

Children must be accompanied by a parent who can furnish the child's birth and vaccination certificates. Children may be brought at the alternate session if unable to attend the designated time, Jewell said.

"The important objective of kindergarten is to teach little children to work and to play together and to become fimiliar with a formal school situation," he said.

The program is for three hours, half-day only, and children may attend either morning or afternoon at the 1st St. School or 7th St. School, whichever is closer, Jewell said.

Miss Cora Wickline is the teacher at 1st St. and Mrs. Evelyn Mahoney at 7th.

Transportation, TV Hurt Minors, Ford Frick Says

By FRITZ HOWELL
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Comissioner Ford Frick, who signs the World Series and All-Star game telecast contracts, believes television and modern transportation are huge factors in the dwindling interest in minor league baseball.

He also says he believes it undesirable to return to 59 minor leagues, which operated in 1949. Only 21 are now in existence.

"The telecasting of major league games into minor league territory is always cited as the primary cause," he said. "Unquestionably this practice, which incidentally we have no way of controlling, has affected minor league interest but so, too, has the impact of television as an entertainment.

"A great many people who used to go to ball games now stay home in the evenings to watch their favorites in television.

"To me, more important than any of this is the fact that modern transportation and modern communications have made it possible for people in smaller towns to enjoy the advantages of big town living."

Back in 1947 a survey of the minors by President George M. Trautman disclosed that 343 of 344 clubs said they wanted their games broadcast by radio, whether compensated or not.

In 1950, when major league broadcasts started flooding the airways, the late Robert L. Finch, minor league promotional director, wrote in his authoritative "Story of Minor League Baseball":

"The business managers of minor leagues throughout the nation think they know the answer —the death of minor league baseball."

His words were prophetic.

On the crumbling of the minors, the commissioner said:

"I don't believe we will ever again see 59 minor leagues in operation. Nor do I think it is desirable.

"I would rather see 30 solid, financially sound leagues than to return to a 50-league level with half the leagues on the verge of bankruptcy."

NEXT: President Warren Giles looks at the minor league problem.

Little Minor League Will Meet Tonight

The Little Minor League will meet tonight at 8 at the Travelers Hotel.

'Experienced' Gridders Will Start For Browns

HIRAM, Ohio (AP) — The experienced players will get most of the starting assignments tonight when the Cleveland Browns meet the Steelers in Pittsburgh. But they may not play the whole game.

Steeler Coach Buddy Parker says he will use his star quarterback, Bobby Layne, all the way in the exhibition contest. The only rookie in the Pittsburgh lineup will be R. C. Roberts, a fullback who has had some Canadian experience.

Farrell Funston as an offensive end and Bernie Parrish at left cornerback will be Cleveland's starting rookies, along with Bill Howton, the offensive end acquired from Green Bay.

But Coach Paul Brown may have at least a brief look at several other Cleveland candidates.

Floyd Peters of San Francisco State may be tried at right tackle on offense, where end Willie Davis is substituting for the ailing Mike McCormack.

Dave Lloyd, a rookie from Georgia, is a possible choice as a linebacker. He also is a placekicker.

In the defensive backfield Dick LeBeau of Ohio State may also get a trial.

The exhibition also will provide an opportunity for using a new technique in the Cleveland offense the quarterback's option to switch plays at the line of scrimmage if he sees the opposition is stacked against the play sent in from the bench.

The Browns late Monday called off their latest deal with Green Bay when they found Ken Russell had suffered a shoulder separation before he came to Hiram.

Cleveland had given a draft choice for the big tackle, hoping he could help on the right side of the offensive line while McCormack is out.

Littens Trip Golden Star

Gary Berhar pitched and batted Littens to a 5-2 win over Golden Star as Pony League action resumed Monday at Dopler Field.

Although he was relieved by Dave Myer in the sixth inning, Berhar was credited with the victory. The two combined to hold Golden Star to a pair of hits.

Berhar was the hitting star with a home run, double and single.

Littens scored two runs in the third, but Golden Star tied the contest with runs in the fourth and fifth, before the winners tallied three in the last of the fifth.

Jim Tridico was the losing hurler. He struck out 10 in going the distance.

Golden Scott Wins Trotting Futurity

CLEVELAND (AP) — Golden Scott scored two straight one mile victories over 11 rivals in the Grandview 2-year-old trotting futurity at Northfield Park Monday night.

With Art Cobb handling the reins, Golden Scott sped to double triumph to enrich his owners, the Golden Star Stable of Coshocton, by $6,519.66. That was the winner's share of the purse of $13,039.33.

Finishing second in both races was Demon Ros, owned and driven by Emil Scherler of Lakewood.

In the first heat, Golden Scott defeated Demon Ros by one length, in 2:10 4-5, with favored King Solomite third. In the second dash, the margin was two lengths in 2:10 3-5, with Rose Wick third.

Golden Scott was a 5½-1 choice the first trip and a 2-1 favorite in the runback.

Canton Golfer Has Hot Run At Cleveland

CLEVELAND (AP)—In a preliminary event to the Ohio Public Links Golf Tournament which starts Wednesday, Chuck Rotar of Canton shot a 4-under-par 35-33—68 to win the pro-amateur over the Tam-A-Rac course.

Rotar, the Akron district open champion, had five birdies and a bogey in his first look at the course in nearby Willoughby.

Howard Black, Massillon professional, and Ron Desantis of Bellefontaine led the winning foursomes in the best-ball competition.

Teaming with Black were his son, Bob Black, member of the Purdue University golf team, Bob Hout and Bill Templin. They combined for 30-33—63. The senior Black scored 38-40—78.

Desantis' winning combination included Bob Robison, Bellefontaine high school coach, Ray Robinson, coach at Brookfield, and Ed Gladycz.

Next to Rotar in the pro scoring was Ed Griffiths of the Youngstown Country Club with 36-34—70, followed by Desantis' 37-34—71. Dick Neumann of Cleveland also shot a 36-35—71.

The 72-hole medal play tournament ends Friday. The defending champion is Dave Daniels of Columbus, a member of the Ohio State University golf team.

Rocky Hits 33rd Home Run; Tribe Stops Kansas City, 6-4

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Rocky is sockin' that long ball again.

That's good news for the Cleveland Indians, who defeated the Kansas City Athletics 6-4 Monday night as Rocky Colavito clouted his 33rd home run, a double and a pair of singles.

Cal McLish won his 14th game on his fourth try, but needed eighth inning help from Mike Garcia and Jack Harshman, who finally put down a Kansas City uprising by getting pinch - hitter Bob Cerv to ground into a double play.

The Indians built up a 6-0 lead before the Athletics tallied two runs in the seventh and two more in the eighth and had the tieing runs on the bases.

The victory cut Chicago's American League margin to 2½ games ahead of the second place Tribe. The White Sox were idle Monday night.

Before Monday night, there were voices asking; "What's wrong with Colavito?"

The Big Indians' slugger, counted on to power the Tribe to a pennant, had managed only 17 hits in 94 at bats for a .181 average. His batting average had plunged to .265 in one of his worst slumps.

Rocky's booming bat Monday night quieted the critics, for now at least.

Colavito led the Tribe's 12-hit attack on five Kansas City pitchers. The only time he was retired was in the ninth on a fly to left field. He drove in two runs and scored a pair.

Colavito's homer, a shot over the left center field fence, broke a scoreless tie in the fourth inning. The Indians tallied another run in the fifth inning. Jim Piersall singled, stole second and third and scored on Minnie Minoso's double.

Cleveland added three more in a wild sixth inning. Colavito led off with a single, went to third on Baxes' double but then was trapped in a rundown on Woodie Held's grounder to second.

Rocky was tagged out by third baseman Hal Smith, but umpire Charlie Berry ruled catcher Frank House had interfered with Colavito's path on the baseline and permitted the run to come home. Then Russ Nixon drove in Baxes from third with a sacrifice fly and Piersall's single scored Held.

The A's broke through McLish in the seventh on two singles, a pitch that hit Roger Maris to load the bases and Dick Williams' sharp single to center.

The Kansas City crew, which went down to its seventh straight loss, scored two more runs in the eighth off Garcia, who took up the hurling at the start of the inning.

Ray Boone and Bill Tuttle drove in the runs with singles. Harshman took over the pitching with one out and runners on first and second. Cerv was sent up as a pinch hitter and bounced a grounder to Baxes who started the double play.

Harshman then set the A's down in order in the ninth.

Jim Grant (7-4) goes against Kansas City's Bud Daley (12-7), a former southpaw knuckleballer for the Indians, in the second of the four-game night series here tonight.

Durelle Is 3-1 Underdog In Title Go With Moore

By MURRAY ROSE
Associated Press Sports Writer

MONTREAL (AP)—Yvon Durelle vowed today that if he floors Archie Moore first again he's going to finish him off and grab the old master's light heavyweight crown.

"I'll go after him with all I've got," said the fighting fisherman from Baie Anne, N.B. "He won't get off my hook."

The rugged Canadian and British Empire 175-pound ruler gets a second crack at Moore's world title at the Forum here Wednesday night. He's a 3-1 underdog despite the facts he dumped the American four times, three times in the first round, before being knocked out in the 11th round last Dec. 10.

"I got bad advice from my seconds that night," Yvon said bitterly. "After I had Moore down three times in the first round they told me to box in the second round. Me box? I don't know how to box. I should have gone right after him. I would have had the championship if I did."

The 29 - year - old challenger is grim compared to his happy-go-lucky attitude before the first fight. He said his fishing boats have been losing money lately and he's fuming over his $15,000 guarantee for the fight, a puny sum compared to Moore's $175,000 guarantee.

Just talking about the figures got him so upset Monday that he staged short-lived revolt against signing a return bout contract. This pact calls for each fighter to get 30 per cent of the receipts for another fight if Durelle should beat Moore Wednesday.

After telling newsmen that he would toss the return contract out of the window, he changed his attitude following talks with Manager Chris Shaban and Truman Gibson, president of the National Boxing Enterprises of Chicago. The NBC paid $100,000 for the U.S. television rights. The fight will be seen on the ABC network starting at 10 p.m. (EDT) but will not be shown in Canada and some U.S. border cities.

FIGHT RESULTS

Tokyo — Pascual Perez, 117½, Argentina, defeated Kenji Yonekura, 111¾, Japan, 15 rounds for world flyweight title.

Lions Have Many 'Ifs' Facing Them For 1959 Season

By DAVE DILES
Associated Press Sports Writer

DETROIT (AP)—If John Henry Johnson and Tobin Rote can come back and have good years, if the offensive line can provide protection for the paser, if the injury bug keeps its distance, then 1959 might be a pretty good year for the Detroit Lions.

Otherwise, the unpredictable Detroiters may be headed for another second division disaster in the Western Division of the National Football League.

The Lions are an "iffy" club and Coach George Wilson, though a confessed optimist, is the first to admit it.

"We have the kind of club that could go either way," he explained. "We lost quite a few men but we have a good bunch of aggressive sophomores. And we like our rookie crop, especially some of those big linemen and fullback Nick Pietrosante."

Wilson is inclined to believe the ifs will be with his club.

Indications are that the Lions, who had a shabby 4-7-1 record last year, are blessed with fine ends and a good defense. Big question marks in camp now are the offensive line and the scoring punch, or lack of it.

Rote, 31-year-old veteran of nine NFL campaigns, was off-stride last season after taking over the No. 1 quarterback spot by himself when the club dealt off Bobby Layne to Pittsburgh. Rote said his trouble stemmed from an aching shoulder. Off-season surgery repaired the damage and Rote is confident of a good season. Challenging him for the job are Earl Morrall and Jerry Reichow.

The Lions' ground offense was one of the league's weakest last season. Johnson hobbled around all year with an assortment of injuries and the rest of the runners were so ineffective that Rote himself was the club's leading ground gainer with 351 yards gained.

Pietrosante, a big rookie from Notre Dame, may be the power runner the Lions have been seeking. If he proves he can do the job at fullback, Wilson may move Johnson to halfback. Wilson already announced that Hopalong Cassiday, used mainly as a receiver last season, will be called upon for more running.

Lavagetto Adopts 'Tough' Approach As Nats Flounder

WASHINGTON (AP) — Cookie Lavagetto, a usually mild mannered manager, has changed his manner in an attempt to take up the listless and losing Washington Senators.

For 30 minutes Monday night, he sternly lectured his players, who have lost 22 of their last 23 games.

Lavagetto will see whether his new approach has worked when the last-place Senators open a two-game series against the Yankees in New York Wednesday night. They have no game today.

It didn't show any immediate results. Right after his lecture in Philadelphia, the Senators went out and dropped a 3-1 exhibition game to the Phillies, the National League's cellar team.

Transportation, TV Hurt Minors, Ford Frick Says

By FRITZ HOWELL
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Comissioner Ford Frick, who signs the World Series and All-Star game telecast contracts, believes television and modern transportation are huge factors in the dwindling interest in minor league baseball.

He also says he believes it undesirable to return to 59 minor leagues, which operated in 1949. Only 21 are now in existence.

"The telecasting of major league games into minor league territory is always cited as the primary cause," he said. "Unquestionably this practice, which incidentally we have no way of controlling, has affected minor league interest but so, too, has the impact of television as an entertainment.

"A great many people who used to go to ball games now stay home in the evenings to watch their favorites in television.

"To me, more important than any of this is the fact that modern transportation and modern communications have made it possible for people in smaller towns to enjoy the advantages of big town living."

Back in 1947 a survey of the minors by President George M. Trautman disclosed that 343 of 344 clubs said they wanted their games broadcast by radio, whether compensated or not.

In 1950, when major league broadcasts started flooding the airways, the late Robert L. Finch, minor league promotional director, wrote in his authoritative "Story of Minor League Baseball":

"The business managers of minor leagues throughout the nation think they know the answer —the death of minor league baseball."

His words were prophetic.

On the crumbling of the minors, the commissioner said:

"I don't believe we will ever again see 59 minor leagues in operation. Nor do I think it is desirable.

"I would rather see 30 solid, financially sound leagues than to return to a 50-league level with half the leagues on the verge of bankruptcy."

NEXT: President Warren Giles looks at the minor league problem.

Little Minor League Will Meet Tonight

The Little Minor League will meet tonight at 8 at the Travelers Hotel.

'Experienced' Gridders Will Start For Browns

HIRAM, Ohio (AP) — The experienced players will get most of the starting assignments tonight when the Cleveland Browns meet the Steelers in Pittsburgh. But they may not play the whole game.

Steeler Coach Buddy Parker says he will use his star quarterback, Bobby Layne, all the way in the exhibition contest. The only rookie in the Pittsburgh lineup will be R. C. Roberts, a fullback who has had some Canadian experience.

Farrell Funston as an offensive end and Bernie Parrish at left cornerback will be Cleveland's starting rookies, along with Bill Howton, the offensive end acquired from Green Bay.

But Coach Paul Brown may have at least a brief look at several other Cleveland candidates.

Floyd Peters of San Francisco State may be tried at right tackle on offense, where end Willie Davis is substituting for the ailing Mike McCormack.

Dave Lloyd, a rookie from Georgia, is a possible choice as a linebacker. He also is a placekicker.

In the defensive backfield Dick LeBeau of Ohio State may also get a trial.

The exhibition also will provide an opportunity for using a new technique in the Cleveland offense the quarterback's option to switch plays at the line of scrimmage if he sees the opposition is stacked against the play sent in from the bench.

The Browns late Monday called off their latest deal with Green Bay when they found Ken Russell had suffered a shoulder separation before he came to Hiram.

Cleveland had given a draft choice for the big tackle, hoping he could help on the right side of the offensive line while McCormack is out.

Littens Trip Golden Star

Gary Berhar pitched and batted Littens to a 5-2 win over Golden Star as Pony League action resumed Monday at Dopler Field.

Although he was relieved by Dave Myer in the sixth inning, Berhar was credited with the victory. The two combined to hold Golden Star to a pair of hits.

Berhar was the hitting star with a home run, double and single.

Littens scored two runs in the third, but Golden Star tied the contest with runs in the fourth and fifth, before the winners tallied three in the last of the fifth.

Jim Tridico was the losing hurler. He struck out 10 in going the distance.

Golden Scott Wins Trotting Futurity

CLEVELAND (AP) — Golden Scott scored two straight one mile victories over 11 rivals in the Grandview 2-year-old trotting futurity at Northfield Park Monday night.

With Art Cobb handling the reins, Golden Scott sped to double triumph to enrich his owners, the Golden Star Stable of Coshocton, by $6,519.66. That was the winner's share of the purse of $13,039.33.

Finishing second in both races was Demon Ros, owned and driven by Emil Scherler of Lakewood.

In the first heat, Golden Scott defeated Demon Ros by one length, in 2:10 4-5, with favored King Solomite third. In the second dash, the margin was two lengths in 2:10 3-5, with Rose Wick third.

Golden Scott was a 5½-1 choice the first trip and a 2-1 favorite in the runback.

Canton Golfer Has Hot Run At Cleveland

CLEVELAND (AP)—In a preliminary event to the Ohio Public Links Golf Tournament which starts Wednesday, Chuck Rotar of Canton shot a 4-under-par 35-33—68 to win the pro-amateur over the Tam-A-Rac course.

Rotar, the Akron district open champion, had five birdies and a bogey in his first look at the course in nearby Willoughby.

Howard Black, Massillon professional, and Ron Desantis of Bellefontaine led the winning foursomes in the best-ball competition.

Teaming with Black were his son, Bob Black, member of the Purdue University golf team, Bob Hout and Bill Templin. They combined for 30-33—63. The senior Black scored 38-40—78.

Desantis' winning combination included Bob Robison, Bellefontaine high school coach, Ray Robinson, coach at Brookfield, and Ed Gladycz.

Next to Rotar in the pro scoring was Ed Griffiths of the Youngstown Country Club with 36-34—70, followed by Desantis' 37-34—71. Dick Neumann of Cleveland also shot a 36-35—71.

The 72-hole medal play tournament ends Friday. The defending champion is Dave Daniels of Columbus, a member of the Ohio State University golf team.

Rocky Hits 33rd Home Run; Tribe Stops Kansas City, 6-4

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Rocky is sockin' that long ball again.

That's good news for the Cleveland Indians, who defeated the Kansas City Athletics 6-4 Monday night as Rocky Colavito clouted his 33rd home run, a double and a pair of singles.

Cal McLish won his 14th game on his fourth try, but needed eighth inning help from Mike Garcia and Jack Harshman, who finally put down a Kansas City uprising by getting pinch - hitter Bob Cerv to ground into a double play.

The Indians built up a 6-0 lead, before the Athletics tallied two runs in the seventh and two more in the eighth and had the tieing runs on the bases.

The victory cut Chicago's American League margin to 2½ games ahead of the second place Tribe. The White Sox were idle Monday night.

Before Monday night, there were voices asking: "What's wrong with Colavito?"

The Big Indians' slugger, counted on to power the Tribe to a pennant, had managed only 17 hits in 94 at bats for a .181 average. His batting average had plunged to .265 in one of his worst slumps.

Rocky's booming bat Monday night quieted the critics, for now at least.

Colavito led the Tribe's 12-hit attack on five Kansas City pitchers. The only time he was retired was in the ninth on a fly to left field. He drove in two runs and scored a pair.

Colavito's homer, a shot over the left center field fence, broke a scoreless tie in the fourth inning. The Indians tallied another run in the fifth inning. Jim Piersall singled, stole second and third and scored on Minnie Minoso's double.

Cleveland added three more in a wild sixth inning. Colavito led off with a single, went to third on Baxes' double but then was trapped in a rundown on Woodie Held's grounder to second.

Rocky was tagged out by third baseman Hal Smith, but umpire Charlie Berry ruled catcher Frank House had interfered with Colavito's path on the baseline and permitted the run to come home. Then Russ Nixon drove in Baxes from third with a sacrifice fly and Piersall's single scored Held.

The A's broke through McLish in the seventh on two singles, a pitch that hit Roger Maris to load the bases and Dick Williams' sharp single to center.

The Kansas City crew, which went down to its seventh straight loss, scored two more runs in the eighth off Garcia, who took up the hurling at the start of the inning.

Ray Boone and Bill Tuttle drove in the runs with singles. Harshman took over the pitching with one out and runners on first and second. Cerv was sent up as a pinch hitter and bounced a grounder to Baxes who started the double play.

Harshman then set the A's down in order in the ninth.

The Lions' ground offense was one of the league's weakest last season. Johnson hobbled around all year with an assortment of injuries and the rest of the runners were so ineffective that Rote himself was the club's leading ground gainer with 351 yards gained.

Pietrosante, a big rookie from Notre Dame, may be the power runner the Lions have been seeking. If he proves he can do the job at fullback, Wilson may move Johnson to halfback. Wilson already announced that Hopalong Cassiday, used mainly as a receiver last season, will be called upon for more running.

Salineville Gridders Draw Togs Thursday

All candidates for Salineville High School's varsity football squad are to report at the high school Thursday afternoon at 5 to draw practice equipment, Coach Dick Jones announced. Physical examinations are slated later, he said.

Lavagetto Adopts 'Tough' Approach As Nats Flounder

WASHINGTON (AP) — Cookie Lavagetto, a usually mild mannered manager, has changed his manner in an attempt to take up the listless and losing Washington Senators.

For 30 minutes Monday night, he sternly lectured his players, who have lost 22 of their last 23 games.

Lavagetto will see whether his new approach has worked when the last-place Senators open a two-game series against the Yankees in New York Wednesday night. They have no game today.

It didn't show any immediate results. Right after his lecture in Philadelphia, the Senators went out and dropped a 3-1 exhibition game to the Phillies, the National League's cellar team.

Giants Rally To Score 3 Runs In Ninth Inning

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Pity poor Willie Mays.

He's having a bad year. He's hitting under .300. His home run output is way below par. Even his fielding has been somewhat less than spectacular.

San Francisco fans can't understand all those raves that emanated from the East where Willie Mays was the pride of the Polo Grounds. Last year while Mays was struggling to reach .350 and hit 30 home runs (he finished with .347 and 29 homers), it was a rookie, Orlando Cepeda, who became the darling of Seals Stadium.

This year Mays continued to be just a mirage, an over-rated player. The real thing, the new darling, has been another Willie—Willie McCovey.

McCovey captured the fancy of the fans by hitting four home runs in his first eight games as a Giant. He won game after game since his elevation from Phoenix of the Pacific Coast League late last month.

McCovey gave the Giants a much-needed shot in the arm with his prodigious hitting. But Willie Mays hasn't been exactly loafing either during the past week.

Take Monday night, for instance. Shut out by Larry Jackson for eight innings, the Giants rallied for three runs in the ninth to defeat the St. Louis Cardinls 3-2. All Mays did was drive in the first Giants run with a single and score the winning run on a double by still another Willie — Willie Kirkland.

The victory, fifth in the last six games, extended the Giants' first place lead over the idle Los Angeles Dodgers to two games. Milwaukee, also idle, fell three games back. No other National League team was scheduled.

It was Mays who either scored or drove in the key run in each of the last five Giants victories. In the only game they've lost since Tuesday, Aug. 4, Mays sat on the bench with an injury.

Yanks In 'Merriwell' Finish To Nip Boston

By JOE REICHLER

Rocky Colavito, the guy who must hit if the Indians are to win the American League pennant, is back on the beam and all Cleveland fans are breathing easier today.

In 25 games before Monday night, Colavito managed only 17 hits in 94 times at bat for a .181 average and the Indians dropped from a first place tie with Chicago to three games in back of the league leading White Sox.

In five times at bat Monday Colavito, hammered a homerun, a double and two singles. He drove in two runs and scored twice to take personal charge of the Indians 6-4 victory over Kansas City.

The triumph inched the Indians up to within 2½ games of the idle White Sox.

In the only other league scheduled game, the New York Yankees defeated the Boston Red Sox 7-4 in 10 innings for their fifth straight triumph.

The Yankees staged a real Merriwell finish to defeat the Red Sox. Held to four hits and no runs through eight innings by Frank Sullivan, and trailing 4-0, they put together a walk, hit batsman and four singles to score four runs in the ninth to tie. Elston Howard, Heck Lopez, Cletis Boyer and pinch hitter Norm Siebern got the hits, all singles.

In the tenth, two walks and singles by Yogi Berra, Howard and Lopez, off loser Al Schroll and Nelson Chittum, produced three runs for New York.

Whitey Ford, fourth Yankee pitcher, was credited with the victory, his 12th against six defeats.

Duccilli Captures Cincy Golf Crown

CINCINNATI (AP) — "Everything went just right for me in the morning round. But boy, in that afternoon round, I was really staggering."

Dr. Harry Duccilli of Cincinnati didn't know when he said that but he had just finished the winning tour in the Queen City Invitation Golf Tournament Monday.

His 66-75 for a 3-under-par 141 was best among 83 pros and amateurs competing in the annual event.

But Duccilli, a general practitioner, didn't have time to wait and learn of his victory. He had to leave the Maketewah Country Club course to attend to patients and learned of the victory later.

The runner up was pro Al Atkins of Ashland, Ky., with 71-72—143, and pro Paul Thomas of Cincinnati followed with 75-70—145.

Big Field Forces Qualifying Round In 'Detroit Open'

DETROIT (AP)—A bulky field of 169 entries made qualifying necessary today for the $25,000 Motor City Open golf tournament.

The Professional Golfers' Assn. restricts the starting field to 150 and had 80 players here exempt from qualifying. That left 89 players to compete today over the Meadowbrook Country Club course for the 70 remaining spots.

Late withdrawls included Chandler Harper, Bo Wininger, Don January and Ernie Vossler. But of the top 15 money-winners on the current tour, only one will be absent. Youthful Ken Venturi, recent winner of the Chicago Open, is passing up the Motor City event to be with his family.

No one dares pick a favorite. The field is so classy that host professional Chick Harbert has predicted that the 72-hole course record of 273 will be threatened.

Dr. Cary Middlecoff and Lloyd Mangrum each shot 273, bettering par by 11 strokes, in their deadlock for the 1949 tournament. That was the year Middlecoff and Mangrum went 11 holes in a sudden-death playoff without deciding the championship.

Darkness set in, the match was called and Middlecoff and Mangrum became co-champions.

Was Touch And Go In '40 When Jurges Was Beaned

By FRANK ECK
AP Newsfeatures Sports Editor

This was in the visiting manager's dressing room in Yankee Stadium a few nights after Bill Jurges had taken over as manager of the last place Boston Red Sox.

We were less than a mile away from the Polo Grounds where in 1940 some people feared for Jurges' life when he had been hit in the head by a pitched baseball.

"Sit on my right side, by my good ear," suggested the prematurely white - haired 51-year-old Jurges whom this writer first met back in 1926 when Billy, just out of high school, received his first $10 bill for playing a Sunday semi-pro double header.

"The other day when I asked Mr. Yawkey (Thomas A. Yawkey, president of the Red Sox) to sit on my right he was surprised. He thought I was kidding. He didn't know about my bad ear.

"I'm not only lucky and surprised to be managing this club; I'm lucky to be alive!"

Jurges, for 12 years one of the great National League shortstops, was referring to the June 23, 1940, day when, as a member of the New York Giants, he was hit in the head by a fast ball thrown by Bucky Walters of Cincinnati.

Big leaguers wore no batting helmets in those days and while Bill's hearing is impaired and his hair now is white, he thanks his lucky stars he still has sharp brown eyes and a sound mind.

"I never saw the pitch," Jurges was saying. "It hit me on the forehead. You're right, Bucky would never throw at a hitter, only maybe throw close but down low to brush him back."

There were 52,657 fans in the Polo Grounds that day in 1940. The pitch hit Jurges with such force that it sounded like a base hit. The ball bounded past Bucky Walters on the mound. The fans watched in horror and Walters trembled as Jurges was carried off the field on a stretcher.

"Bucky was one of the first to visit me in the hospital," Jurges went on. "I was in the hospital a long time, first for five days at New York's Polyclinic then for three weeks at Mayo Clinic. They tapped my spine and made every conceivable test in an effort to help my case.

"I had a cerebral concussion with brain hemorrhages. Histamine was used. It was used on Lou Gehrig, too. (Lou passed away in 1941).

"This managing job is such a wonderful thing to happen to me. I never dreamed it would ever happen. I hated to leave Cookie Lavagetto (Washington manager under whom Jurges coached three years), but Cookie was glad to see me get the chance to manage in the big leagues.

"I had the opportunity once before, with the Chicago Cubs in 1938, but I wanted to play then and not manage. I was only 30."

A well-dressed man of about 60 and slight of build walked into the manager's office, put out his hand and said: "Congratulations Bill."

"Doctor it's sure good to see you," Jurges said. "Meet Dr. Bayard T. Horton. This is the man who saved my life!"

Dr. Horton of Rochester, Minn., is a modest man who would rather listen than talk about the touch and go days when Bill Jurges might have been paralyzed forever.

"Just say," said Dr. Horton, "that I'm mighty proud of Bill."

So are a lot of other people, in and out of baseball.

We were less than a mile away from the Polo Grounds where in 1940 some people feared for Jurges' life when he had been hit in the head by a pitched baseball.

"Sit on my right side, by my good ear," suggested the prematurely white - haired 51-year-old Jurges whom this writer first met back in 1926 when Billy, just out of high school, received his first $10 bill for playing a Sunday semi-pro double header.

"The other day when I asked Mr. Yawkey (Thomas A. Yawkey, president of the Red Sox) to sit on my right he was surprised. He thought I was kidding. He didn't know about my bad ear.

"I'm not only lucky and surprised to be managing this club; I'm lucky to be alive!"

Jurges, for 12 years one of the great National League shortstops, was referring to the June 23, 1940, day when, as a member of the New York Giants, he was hit in the head by a fast ball thrown by Bucky Walters of Cincinnati.

Big leaguers wore no batting helmets in those days and while Bill's hearing is impaired and his hair now is white, he thanks his lucky stars he still has sharp brown eyes and a sound mind.

"I never saw the pitch," Jurges was saying. "It hit me on the forehead. You're right, Bucky would never throw at a hitter, only maybe throw close but down low to brush him back."

There were 52,657 fans in the Polo Grounds that day in 1940. The pitch hit Jurges with such force that it sounded like a base hit. The ball bounded past Bucky Walters on the mound. The fans watched in horror and Walters trembled as Jurges was carried off the field on a stretcher.

"Bucky was one of the first to visit me in the hospital," Jurges went on. "I was in the hospital a long time, first for five days at New York's Polyclinic then for three weeks at Mayo Clinic. They tapped my spine and made every conceivable test in an effort to help my case.

"I had a cerebral concussion with brain hemorrhages. Histamine was used. It was used on Lou Gehrig, too. (Lou passed away in 1941).

"This managing job is such a wonderful thing to happen to me. I never dreamed it would ever happen. I hated to leave Cookie Lavagetto (Washington manager under whom Jurges coached three years), but Cookie was glad to see me get the chance to manage in the big leagues.

"I had the opportunity once before, with the Chicago Cubs in 1938, but I wanted to play then and not manage. I was only 30."

A well-dressed man of about 60 and slight of build walked into the manager's office, put out his hand and said: "Congratulations Bill."

"Doctor it's sure good to see you," Jurges said. "Meet Dr. Bayard T. Horton. This is the man who saved my life!"

Dr. Horton of Rochester, Minn., is a modest man who would rather listen than talk about the touch and go days when Bill Jurges might have been paralyzed forever.

"Just say," said Dr. Horton, "that I'm mighty proud of Bill."

So are a lot of other people, in and out of baseball.

BILL JURGES
Lucky To Be Alive.

Insurance Rate Cut Set If Driving Record's Good

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) — Pennsylvania motorists with good driving records can receive reduced auto insurance rates under a merit rating plan to be introduced Sept. 1.

The plan will charge higher rates on a point basis for both accidents and convictions for moving traffic violations.

Details of the plan were disclosed today by the National Bureau of Casualty Underwriters and the National Automobile Underwriters Association representing 250 firms selling insurance in Pennsylvania.

—:—

THE SAFE driver plan will be coupled with what the agencies called a new low-cost special automobile policy package. Both have been approved by the State Insuurance Department.

The "package" policy will afford liability, collision, comprehensive and other insurance coverage at a premium saving of 15 to 20 per cent, the two organizations reported.

Premiums can be further reduced up to 15 per cent under the safe driver plan,, they said.

"The plan recognizes the direct relationship between convictions for moving traffic violations and accidents," the underwriters said.

Points will be assessed for accidents and traffic violation convictions during a period of three years.

An accident chargeable to an applicant and driving members of his household and which results in bodily injury or property damage in excess of $50 would be assigned two points.

One point is assigned for moving traffic violations, except for a few minor charges. However, five points are assessed for driving while drunk or under the influence of drugs; hit and run; homicide or assault by auto and driving while a license is suspended or revoked. Reckless driving costs three pm

—:—

NO POINTS will be charged where an accident is clearly not the fault of the applicant.

If the applicant or members of his household have no chargeable points they will earn a 15 per cent discount. Only one point earns a 5 per cent reduction. A household with two points will play the basic rate for the policy.

Three points will result in a charge of 20 per cent over the basic rate; four points, 40 per cent; five points, 70 per cent; and six or more points 100 per cent over the basic rate.

They said the basic rates of the combination policy and the safe driver plan will vary according to the use of the car, the age of male operators and the area of the state where the car is garaged.

The new plans are available only for private passenger cars, including station wagons and some farm vehicles.

Police Chief Resigns

CONNEAUT, Ohio (AP)—Robert Bowen said he did not have the backing of the village administration as he resigned Monday as police chief of nearby Lakeville. Police Sgt. Robert Bernard, 30, a member of the force since 1957, was named by the village council to succeed Bowen, who had been chief for more than two years.

Plane Limps 1,100 Miles; 10 On Board

HONOLULU (AP) — A Navy Neptune, patrol bomber limped 1,100 miles on one engine Monday and landed safely at Hilo after a seven-hour struggle to stay aloft.

The big two-engined plane, out of Whidby Island, Wash., and on a flight from Alameda, Calif. to Barbers Point Naval Air Station here with 10 men aboard, reported it had lost an engine as it passed the halfway point of no return on the 2,400 miles flight.

The pilot, Lt. (J.G.) Braden R. Briggs, found one engine too weak to keep his craft steady at 1,000 feet, so he used his auxiliary jets to boost himself up. But his plane kept losing altitude and his jet fuel ran out. By the time he was still 400 miles out he was cruising at 250 feet, riding the cushion of air above the water.

A naval spokesman said the last 40 miles was at the 100 foot level. He landed at Hilo on the big island of Hawaii as three rescue planes escorted him in.

Reports On Carnival Presented To Firemen

Twenty attended a meeting of Calcutta volunteer firemen Monday night when reports were presented by committees on a carnival held last week.

Norman Neal, president, said the carnival was "very successful" and voiced appreciation to the State Highway Patrol at Lisbon, the county sheriff's office and others who aided in conducting a firemen's parade.

The first full week in August was set for next year's carnival. Plans were discussed for erecting a new siren on a 30-foot-high steel casing as part of a new alarm system.

Firemen will resume sponsoring Saturday night round and square dances beginning this Saturday, Neal said. The next meeting is Monday night.

Ike To Begin His 'Vacation' At Gettysburg

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower cleans up some long-standing Washington appointments today before hopping back to Gettysburg, Pa., for a vacation.

One is to greet the National Rural Letter Carriers Assn., which opens its convention here today.

The vacation, with golf at the top of the menu, will include considerable work leading up to the President's meetings late this month in Europe with leaders of the Western alliance. He is expected to remain in Gettysburg until near the time of his departure Aug. 26.

Eisenhower Monday set up a Summer White House office in a three-room suite of the Hotel Gettysburg, which overlooks the town's central square. He usually works at his farm outside town when he stays at Gettysburg.

His conferences with European leaders are a prelude to the visit of Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev that starts Sept. 15.

300 At Family Picnic Of East End Legion

An estimated 300 attended a family picnic held by American Legion Post 374 of East End Sunday afternoon at Valley Park near Route 30.

A highlight was a ball game between Army and Navy veterans. The Army won, 10-5.

Dinner was served by the auxiliary. The committee was headed by James Crager and included Lewis Krawiec, Robert Poynter, Walter Gallaway, James Wallover, David O'Hanlon and Elmer McDevitt.

The County Council will meet at American Legion Post 4 Friday night at 8. Next meeting of Post 374 is Monday night at 8.

New Cumberland PTA Sets Teachers' Menu

A luncheon menu for the Hancock County teachers' workshop later this month was completed when the executive committee of the New Cumberland Parent-Teacher Association met Monday night.

Mrs. Claude Ford, president, said the PTA will serve lunches to the teachers in New Cumberland High School during the in-service training program, planned Aug. 24-26.

Eleven attended the meeting.

Medical Figure Dies

MONTREAL (AP)—Dr. William W. Francis, 81, medical historian and editor, died Sunday.

Economic Unit Under Way In West Virginia

CHARLESTON (AP) — West Virginia's newly-formed Economic Development Agency held its first meeting here today to begin tackling the state's economic problems on a long-range basis.

Scheduled as speakers were Gov. Underwood and the EDA's committee chairman, Lawrence H. Rogers, president of WSAZ-TV in Huntington.

The nine-man agency, set up by the 1959 Legislature, was appointed by Gov. Underwood last Tuesday.

At that time, the length of the terms was not announced. Gov. Underwood's office made them available this week, as being:

One-year terms, ending March 13, 1960: Lawrence H. Rogers and Dr. C. E. Lawall of Huntington, Don Potter of Fairmont.

Two-year terms: Dr. Frank H. Rischer of Martinsburg, William Steele of Wheeling.

Three-year terms: David Kennedy of Beckley, Lewis H. Smith of Grantsville.

Four-year terms: Luther Berry of Clarksburg, and C. Fred Shewey of Kermit.

5 Firms Will Display Ware At Gift Show

Five area potteries will display their wares at the New York Gift Show Aug. 23-28.

Firms which have reserved space in the Hotel New Yorker division are Hall China Co., Harker China Co., Homer Laughlin China Co., Pearl China Co., and Taylor, Smith & Taylor Co.

TS&T also will be represented in the section being held in the Trade Show building.

The show is sponsored by the National Gift & Arts Association, Inc., and is directed by Little Brothers Shows, Inc.

Motorist Fined $25 As Another Forfeits

LISBON — A motorist was fined for fictitious plates at a hearing Monday before Mayor John Todd and another forfeited bond when he failed to appear for scheduled hearing on a charge of speeding.

Dean Allen Davis, 19, of Toronto was fined $25 and costs. He pleaded guilty.

Edward J. Dorrington, 31, of Cleveland forfeited $15. Both were cited by the State Highway Patrol.

Club To Hear Speaker

LISBON — Paul Waite, industrial relations counselor for the Republic Steel Co. at Youngstown, will be the guest speaker at the meeting of the Kiwanis Club at St. George's Parish Hall Thursday noon. He will discuss the 30-day old steel strike. Frank Henry is program chairman.

More Variety Of Food Requested For Needy

LISBON — Columbiana County commissioners have appealed to state and federal officials for more variety of food for the distribution of surplus foods for the needy.

They wrote Rep. Wayne L. Hays and Sen. Stephen N. Young and Sen. Frank J. Lausche at Washington and Gov. Michael DiSalle and Mrs. Mary N. Gornam, director of public welfare.

The commissioners said the cost is expensive for such a small variety of items now received. This month, the county got dried eggs, milk, flour and rice.

They claim there are more items in storage that should be given to the needy and distressed under the surplus food program.

Robert Bycroft, county welfare director, will attend a district meeting Wednesday afternoon in Summit County on the possible revision of regulations of the surplus food distribution. The meeting was called by Robert F. McGonagle of Columbus, state supervisor of surplus foods.

Kraho Indians in Brazil run relay races on holidays. They carry 20 to 200 pound logs as batons.

Cyclist Hurt Slightly In Collision With Car

A Chester youth escaped with slight injuries Monday afternoon when he rode his bicycle into the path of an auto on Carolina Ave. near Dunn St.

William A. Starr, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Starr, 166 Montana Ave., was treated by a physician for abrasions of the forehead and ankle in the collision at 1:30 p. m.

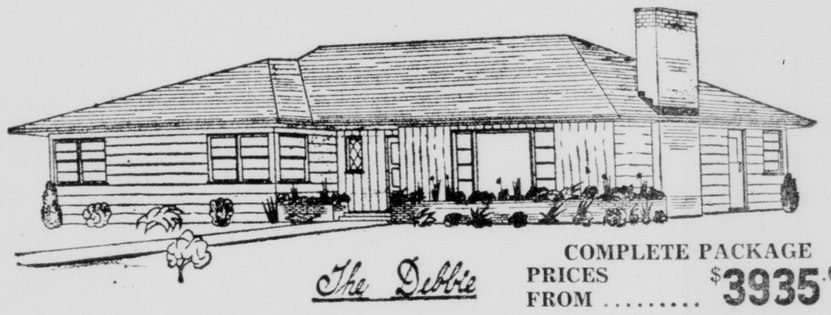

Chief Floyd Lyons and Special Officer Clarence Lennens said the youngster rode between two parked cars and hit the eastbound car of Robert Sheets of Deleware, Ohio.

Sheets took the boy to the physician's office.

Insurance Rate Cut Set If Driving Record's Good

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) — Pennsylvania motorists with good driving records can receive reduced auto insurance rates under a merit rating plan to be introduced Sept. 1.

The plan will charge higher rates on a point basis for both accidents and convictions for moving traffic violations.

Details of the plan were disclosed today by the National Bureau of Casualty Underwriters and the National Automobile Underwriters Association representing 250 firms selling insurance in Pennsylvania.

An accident chargeable to an applicant and driving members of his household and which results in bodily injury or property damage in excess of $50 would be assigned two points.

One point is assigned for moving traffic violations, except for a few minor charges. However, five points are assessed for driving while drunk or under the influence of drugs; hit and run; homicide or assault by auto and driving while a license is suspended or revoked. Reckless driving costs three pm

NO POINTS will be charged where an accident is clearly not the fault of the applicant.

If the applicant or members of his household have no chargeable points they will earn a 15 per cent discount. Only one point earns a 5 per cent reduction. A household with two points will play the basic rate for the policy.

Three points will result in a charge of 20 per cent over the basic rate; four points, 40 per cent; five points, 70 per cent; and six or more points 100 per cent over the basic rate.

They said the basic rates of the combination policy and the safe driver plan will vary according to the use of the car, the age of male operators and the area of the state where the car is garaged.

The new plans are available only for private passenger cars, including station wagons and some farm vehicles.
